MIDWINTER FAIR.

The Sure Success of the Exposition Established.

WHOLLY UNIQUE AND NOVEL.

Exclamations of Surprise and Satisfaction Heard on Every Hand-The Fine Arts.

Nearly 200,000 people have passed the turnstiles of the California Midwinter Exposition during the first two weeks of its existence. This fact establishes the sure success of the Exposition from verdict of the thousands who make up this grand total has been unanim as in favor of the success of the Exposition from every point of view.

Since the opening day, Jan. 27, no special effort has been made to draw the crowds. It has been the sim of the Exosition management to let the many eatures of the Exposition speak for themselves, and exclamations of sur-prise and satisfaction have been heard on every hand. The exhibits are now practically all in position. There are no holes in the floor, so to speak, and it is noticeable by those who visited the great Columbian Exposition that even the exhibits which were seen there appear to have taken on new form here in San Francisco, and the exhibitors have undoubtedly profited by the experience gained on the shore of Lake Michigan.

NORA TOOK OFF HER STOCKINGS.

But It Was No Wonder She Didn't Under

The chiropodist had just moved into his new parlors. Before his arrival they had been occupied by a dentist. Though as yet no white marble foot upon the pavement informed the uninitiated that within dwelt an operator upon corns and bunions at reasonable rate, yet such was the case. reasonable rate, yet such was the case:
A rushing business had been in progress all the morning. At noon the chiropodist, a rather timid and youthful appearing man, started to go out to his lunch, when the door opened and a young girl inquired if the doctor was in. She was about 10 years ald, and with her was a young woman about she doctor was in. She was about 10 years ald, and with her was a young woman about $1, evidently her maid.

"Doctor," said the child, "you helped me so much six months ago that mamma suggested that I bring Nora down here. She is in very great oain."

The doctor did not quite recall what work he had done for the child, but politely requested Nora to walk into the operating room and get ready. This, in the language of the chiropodiat, means to remove the aboe and stocking. The child seated he self in the outer parlor, and the chiropodiat, after waiting the usual time, walked into the little room where Nora was awaiting him. There she sat leaning back in the big chair with a nervous expression upon her face, but without any change in her attire. The doctor was a triffe surprised, but he supposed this was a new experience to his patient.

"Just remove your shoe and stocking, please," he said as he walked over to the window.

Nora absolutely grew pale with fright, but compiled with his request, taking off both shoes and both stockings.

She was a very unhappy looking young twoman as she sat there in the high operating chair with both bare feet dangling just above the foor.

"Now, where do you feel the greatest pain?" asked the doctor.

M. Peltier has put a frog shower on record as having happened within his own experience. He speaks of seeing the frogs fall on the roofs of the houses and rebound thence on to the pavement below. A mud shower occurred along the Union Pacific railway at Onaga on the 4th of April. The rain, we are assured, commenced early in the day, and soon the south and east sides of all the houses were covered with yellow clay.

A Union Pacific train which ran through A Union Pacific train which ran through the storm had its windows covered, and the headlight was so completely plastered that the light was shut in, and the train ran in darkness into Rossville, where the mud had to be scraped off. As far east as Tope ka the windows showed that the edge of the mudstorm had extended this far. It is said to have been even more severe 50 miles corthwest. the storm had its windows covered, and the headlight was so completely pinstered that the light was shut in, and the train ran in darkness into Rossville, where the mud had to be scraped off. As far east as Tope ka the windows showed that the edge of the mudstorm had extended this far. It is said to have been even more severe 50 miles northwest.

Blood rain and black rain are only varieties of this phenomenon. Of the latter we hear nothing worth speaking of nowadnys but an almost historic shower of this sort fail at Montreal in the earlier cart of this century and enveloped, the then youthful city in a black pall, which must have been worse thap a prime Louden for scalars.
