KILLING HERETICS.

Prof. Rudolph, the lecturing ex-Rom ish priest travels the country over under the direction and protection of the Amer ican Protective Association, for the purpose of swelling the ranks of that secret religio-political organization, the admitted object of whose existence is active, ceaseless opposition to the Roman Catholic hierarchy, and the thwarting of the treason against the government of the United States and our constitutional liberties, which, it declares, is harbored by the Roman Catholic priesthood under instigation of the pope. Many members of orthodox Portestant churches, when the case against Rome is skilfully presented, believe the danger is real and join the A. P. A. but members of the "big church" ridicule the movement, and consider it a greater evil than the presumed one it is intended to oppose. The while, ex-priests like Prof. Rudolph make a living by giving the Catholics "fits." If Bob Ingersoll could be prevailed on to deliver a lecture for hat receipts at Shively's hall on the "Mistakes of Calvin and His Followers." he would draw as full a house as Prof. Rudolph, and would crack full as many vulgar jokes at the expense of the Protestants as he has at the expense of the

the "middle ages," so-called, not the Catholics alone, but also non-Catholics, whenever they had the power, punished those that theologically differed from them. At that time in Europe, as now in the Russian empire, a disayowal of the government's religion was in itself treason against the state and was punished as such. Henry the VIII, for instance, who rebelled against Rome and waged merciless warfare against Catholicism because the pope would not sanction his divers adulteries, during the 38 years of his reign, in the middle of the 16th century, "ordered the execution of 2 queens, 2 cardinals, 2 archbishops, 18 bishops, 13 abbots, 500 priors and monks, 38 doctors of divinity, 12 dukes and earls, 164 gentlemen, 124 commoners and 110 ladies." A century later, Oliver Cromwell, the Lord Protector, with his army of brave, cruel and bigoted English Protestants, landed in Ireland, and with the bible in one hand and a sword in the other, butchered many thousands of Irish Catholics that would not surrender at the first summons to the Puritan tyrant. Famine followed in the wake of the war and persecution to desolate the country, all the priests were exiled or killed, thousands of people were transported and nearly all the lands belonging to Catholics were confiscated and parcelled out by Cromwell among his soldiers. letter:

"The democrats of Astoria and Clatsop county are taking steps to entertain the members of the state democratic convention and other visiting democrats. There is nothing like starting a campaign with enthusiasm, therefore we intend to give our state ticket a good start. In this effort we solicit your hearty cooperation and should feel honored if you could possibly attend in person. We also wish that you would urge the democratic clubs of your county, as well as every other democrat, who can possibly spare the time to come to the state convention. In return we can only promise you that our accomodations are good, that our citizens are hospitable and that we propose to make it as pleasant as possible for you." Under the Auspices of the A. P. A.

He Denounces the Roman Catholic Church as an Enemy of our Institutions.

Shively's hall was crowded to over lowing Monday evening by an audience of men and women eager to hear the lecture of the ex-priest, Prof. Rudolph. At the time set for commencement, Rev. Gilman Parker, the Baptist preacher, membership of the A. P. A., a synopsis of the lecture follows below.

Threen years ago, he said, he threw off the fetters of sacerdotal slaver; When a church ruled by a foreign potentate tries to encroach on our liberties, it is time to rise in opposition to it. St. Peter, whom the Romish church claims to have set the first machinery of popery in motion, never liyed in Rome. Not till 325, from Constantine, did the church secure any temporal power. The Emperor Constantine was a politician and was engaged in war. Constantine never saw a cross in the sky. The bishops and priests sent word to Constantine and promised that if he would give what they asked they would sustain him.

ops and priests sent word to Constantine and promised that if he would give what they saked they would sustain him with their power and influence.

In 725 Pepin first granted territory to the Romish church, which he had taken from the Lombards. Charlemagne was the first emperor crowned by the pope. The crown of Charlemagne is said to contain a spike from the cross of Christ. Popery preserves so many of these holy spikes; they are in shrines, monasteries, spikes; they are in shrines, monasteries, chapels. All the holy spikes and holy timber from holy crosses would furnish iron and ties enough for a railroad from New York to San Francisco. I know there are 18 holy coats of Christ, though he bore but one. The church holds that outside of it there is no salvation. St. Athanasius (in the fourth century) atfirmed that and so does the church today. Romanism forbids all liberty of conscience. The natural conclusion is that "Oatholics must love their the church most be made to, to insure the church more than their country."

In the Roman Catho ic lobby at Washington is the most dis graceful and unscrupulous that ever visited the national capital. I would not advise you to oppose or offend your Catholic neighbors, but we must and will oppose the secolar power of the Pope. Gen. Lafayette said that "if the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and of the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and of the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Catholic lergy." One of the Popes has that all persons who will not submit to the church most be made to, to insure the church propose the secolar power of the Popes has said that "Catholics must love their the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy." One of the Popes has said that "Catholics must love their the church most be made to, to insure the church propose the secolar power of the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy." One of the Popes has said that "Catholics must love their the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy." One of the Popes has said that "Catholics must love their the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholics are ever destroyed. The Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy." The Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy." The Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy. The Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy that "Catholic lergy the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy." The Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy the Horas Baker claim Nos 54 and Oatholic lergy the as heretics and must be put out of the way. St. Thomas Aquinas (1274) on p. 90 of his Summum Theologium teaches that heretics should be delivered over to council (1215) it is affirmed that the secular powers must exert themselves to the atmost to exterminate heretics, and if a secular prince does not he shall

One hundred thousand Albigenses and Waldensians were killed. At midnight on St Bartholomew's night, 30,000 Protestants were killed in Paris and 75,000 in the whole of France. Pope Gregory XIII. ordered the Te Deum to Be and the state of th

In 1685, after revocation of the edict of Nantes, thousands of Protestants were driven out of France. In Spain alone, during the time of the Holy Inquisition, 292,000 were brutally punished for hereay, and 30,000 killed, beside thousands in every quarter of the world where Spain held sway. Hereay and apostasy are the two greatest crimes in the eyes of Rome. I have the honor to be an apostate from Romanism and you are all apostates. We are all ex-communicated, and you are amenable to the popish canon law which teaches it is no crime to kill heretics. I ask,

St BOME NOT A FOR TO AMERICAN LIBERTY?

Cardinal Manning, as representative of the Roman church, said in a lecture of the Roman church said in a lecture of the Roman church, said in a lecture of the Roman church said in a lecture of the Roman church, said in a lecture of the Roman church, said in a lecture of the Roman church said in a lecture of the R in his speeches in 1884 that the time will come when Rome will order the faithful to reply to the demands of the tax collector with bullets. He now lives The Renegade Priest. with another man's wife on a Nevada ranch. Archbishop Segher declared our public school openly an I grossly immoral, and other prominent Romish priests have expressed like opinions. A Catholic teacher of a parochial school at Norwalk, O., ravished 20 of his girl nunils, and when his crimes came to pupils, and when his crimes came to light the parish priest heiped the beast to escape to Canada by giving him money. When a priest receives orders to build a church, he levies a tax on his people, who must either pay or be damned. The fight to-day is not between damned. The fight to-day is not between democrats and re-publicans or populists, but between American liberty and the harlot of Rome. All that reminds the Roman Catholics of their connection with the early Cforistians is that they eat fish on Friday. The history of they est fish on Friday. The history of the past shows that as long as countries were ruled by Romish canon law and not by settled civil law,

At the time set for commencement, key Gilman Parker, the Baptist preacher, stepped to the feotlights with a song book in his hands and requested the audience to rise and sing "America" To the song succeeded a short prayer by Rev. Molloy, who was also on the platform (beside George Clark of Portland and a few other citizens). Mr. DeFrance then introduced the speaker of the evening, a middle sized, strongly built man of about 55 years. In order that the public may judge for itself what a bold, grotesque tissue of fact and sophistry was woven for two hours by a defiant, reckless, aggressive, skilful speaker of good ability, gifted with an excellent memory and a clear, ringing voice, with the unmistakable object of inciting fierce hostility against the Roman Catholic church and increasing the membership of the A. P. A., a synopsis of the lecture follows below.

Thirteen years ago, he said, he threw
