EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Potetic 1. Economy —As an author, Henry Wood has a growing reputation, and his collection of essays recently issued in the form of a neat, handy volume entitled, "The Political Economy of Natural Liw" (Lee & Shepard, Bos-ton, Mass., $1 25) will, ur doubtedly, do much to establish it. They will do this not so much by a pedantic display of technical or theoretic knowledge of the science, as by putting into attractive and popular form the scientific principles which lie at the base of any true understanding of our economic conditions or of the possibilities of our social development. This is perhaps more needed than fine drawn distinctions and esoteric reasonings; and certainly it is more useful to those most in want of enlightenment in these matters, the man-Monday of every month, Monday of every Hal laborers, whose contentment and Prabase Court meets on first Monday of every Hal laborers, whose contentment and State of Oregon vs Phil Marquam was dismissed on Tuesday. The charge against him was retailing liquor without license. This is the third time this case has been before the court and it has literally been worn out. Last November Phil appeared for trial but the prosecuting witnesses could not be found, and this trip, seemingly, the court dropped it in accordance with that fundamental principle of jurisprudence as laid down by Confucius, Blackstone and lesser legal luminaries, that when the pot calleth the kettle black both should either be pitched into the highway or the back yard. Phil knew that he laid ther bulky and the case in this year of grace and on the main prosecuting witnesses, Thompson Drake and E Bartman, or as he phrased it, could "give the case in this year of spranged and most powerful when it strives for principles instead of spoils, and dozen of his neighbors subpoened as witnesses, to let them earn a few dollars witnesses and found it to reduct the man, or a single part of the following letter to the Hon.
