Hermann to Have the Chairmanship o the Rivers and Harbors, and Burrows the Ways and Means Chairmanship-The Appropriations in Doubt.

Washington, November 20. - The House Committees which are expected to be of the greatest importance in the next Congress are those on Ways and Means, Appropriations, Rules, Banking and Currency, Coinage, Weights and Measures, Rivers and Harbors, and Public Buildings and Grounds. The first the Republican leadership on the floor of the House, if he fails in his ambition to succeed Senator Patton in the Senate. House Committees which are expected three named always head the list in order of importance. The others are expected to assume importance in the next Congress because of the special conditions which will prevail during that Congress. The Banking Committee will certainly be one of the most important committees on the list, if there should be an effort, as it is hinted there may be, to revise the currency laws and change an effort to secure silver legislation and the further probability that the Republican party when it comes into power in House may want to formulate a policy on this question, will have the effect also of advancing the Coinage Committee to a position of the first rank. The Rivers and Harbors and Public Buildings Committees will have the delicate task of providing for public improvements, so lar as the committees of the House can

With so many new men as there will be on the Republican side of Congress, and all of them feeling that it will be necessary for them to make a showing to their constituents, there will naturally be a pretty general clamor for ap-propriations for postoffice buildings, cus-tom-houses and river and harbor im-provements. While the Republican party has always shown a disposition toward liberality in public improvements, there is probability of an effort to hold Extra control of the their miscellaneous appropriations as low as possible. Of the six present Republican members of the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures five have been re-elected to the Fifty-fourth Congress. They are in the order named: Stone of Pennsylvania, Johnson of North Dakota. Dingley of Maine, Hager of Dakota, Dingley of Maine, Hager of Iowa and Aldrich of Illinois. Henderson of Iowa is the ranking Republican member of the Appropriations Committee, with Cogswell of Massachusetts, Bingham of Pennsylvania, Dingley of Maine, Grout of Vermont and Cannon of Illinois coming in the order named. It is possible that neither Cannon nor Henderson will be given the Chairmanship in the event of Burrows becoming Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; the probabilities are strong that the East would demand the strong that the East would demand the Chairmanship of the next most important committee, which would be the Appropriations. In that contingency Cognewell's chances for being promoted to the head of the committee would be excellent. If Reed becomes Speaker of the House, the Republican membership of the Committee would be excellent.
