OREGON CITY, DEC. 21, 1894.

Christmas is most properly the day on which to make glad the hearts of the children, for Christ loved little children. "Of such," said He who is worshipped by hundreds of millions as the son of God, "is the kingdom of heaven. Whoever possesses not the frankness, the honesty of heart, the cleanness of mind, the hopefulness, the cheerfulness and gentleness that characterizes the child, is outside of the kingdom of beaven. Thus the infant on the mother's knee becomes her teacher, her guide to Christ's kingdom, to the gate of heaven. Were there no little children, no opportunity for man at every generation to return to first principles, but were birth and maturity to follow in close succession, humanity would become brutalized. The greates blessing in a household is the child. It is meant, therefore, that the day on which Christendom celebrates the birth of the great Founder of its militant faith, the children should be made big red apple or a nickel's worth of cheaper foods. candy, made him happier than now does a hundred dollars. along without the children!

THE rapid rate at which gold is leaving the tressury shows the folly of attempting to fill the reserve by any such methods as Secretary Carlisle has employed. The gold reserve has dropped which, I think, will relieve Mr. Fallert iculars call at Country of the state of the from $111,000,000 to $98,000,000 in less than two weeks. If Mr. Clifford's machines plish all these things, there is no on why it should not and will not be adopted by the different States.

THE promoters of the new county (Sutton) are now going into the matter in a bosiness-like manner and will probably succeed. They have concluded to kota, two blocks from University and not ask for any territory from Gilliam | but a short distance from business part or Wasco counties, the southern line of the city, for sale at one-fourth actual coming only to the John Day river. Ir is probable that an effort will be nade in the legislature to repeal the law regulating the emoluments of county fficers. The act may need some minor endations, but it is to the interest of CITY OFFICIAL PAPER, the taxpayers to let it remain in force. Thus for example: Under the fee system in 1892 the transcription of two copies of the assessment roll of this county cost $527; in 1893, $540; in 1894, under the present salary system, only $220. Now the county clerk receives $1800 per annum; under the fee system his pay run up into the thousands of dollars as high as about $5000] from which he paid a clerk. The Counter has none but the kindest teelings for our county officers, even if they are not democrats, but times are too hard and the county indebtedness too great, not to practise the closest economy in our county finances.
