OREGON CITY, MARCH 1, 1895.

THE COURIER TO BE SUED FOR LIBEL. The following paid no fee appeared in the Oregon Iron-Worker of last week:

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—To whom it may concern: I would like to know that I am the proprietor of the Reception Saloon at Oregon City. I would also like to be known that my saloon is not a place of ill-fame as one or two would have it. I would further state that my saloon, in its morals, in the stock of goods set upon the bar and in its attendance is not excelled in Oregon City. Further, I can write for the benefit of the citizens that I am preparing papers for the arrest of its very poor editor for criminal libel. I defy the Courier or anyone else to prove that the Reception Saloon has ever been a house of ill-fame. HENRY CLOSE, Oregon City, February 18, 1895.

The following item, which does not mention it as a house of ill-fame, appeared in the Courier of January 25th:

A petition is being circulated to have the city council refuse to renew the license of the Reception Saloon. This is one of the lowest places in town and should be closed.

On February 8th this item appeared as part of the proceedings of this city council of February 8th:

Petition read asking council to take some action in regard to the Reception Saloon, an alleged disorderly place. Councilmen Porter and Moffat and Mayor Straight appointed a committee to investigate.

The following report of the committee appointed by the council is sufficient to prove that the assertions of the Courier were facts:

To the City Council of Oregon City, Oregon: Gentlemen.—We, your committee to whom was referred the petition of C. T. Hickman and others in reference to the Reception Saloon, beg leave to report that we have investigated the charges set forth in said report and find that said saloon is not run in a proper manner. From reliable citizens of this city we are informed that said saloon has connected with it rooms used for assignations and that the place is practically a house of prostitution. We would recommend that the proper steps be taken to revoke the license held by the proprietor. We also believe that the officers of the city whose business it is to see that such places are not kept open have derelict in their duty. Signed: L. L. Poorna and J. W. Moffat. Mayor Straight was not present at the meeting of the committee and would not sign the report on the "spur of the moment," or until he was satisfied the accusations were correct. The chief of police has failed to find anyone who will now testify against the place.

If Mr. Close had evidence to prove that the assertions of the Courier were incorrect the editor would have gladly published his statement of the case, but as Mr. Close was not willing "to show his hand" he cannot blame the Courier for publishing facts, even if other papers are afraid to do so. The editor of this paper has no grudge against Mr. Close nor did he ever have any, but when a petition has to be circulated and presented to the council there must have been "something wrong somewhere."

All the good people of Oregon City are with the Courier in this matter. It is difficult to understand where Mr. Close can find grounds for a libel suit against the Courier.

The expiring democratic congress will be chiefly remembered for the mess it made of financial legislation. No leader has arisen among the democratic members equal to the critical occasion. So their disgrace be it said that it seems they have vied with the republicans in their efforts to put the president in a hole. "Cleveland is too sensible a man to claim that all his acts as chief executive are above criticism, but those even who have censured him most severely and that justly, but kindly and with feelings of patriotism, admit that he is upright and does as well as he can under the trying circumstances. With congress against him and the treasury on the verge of bankruptcy, what other course is there except issuing bonds on such terms as the bankers may dictate? However, as the secretary of the treasury believes that the issue of $45,000,000 bonds will bring him "out of the woods" for good, and that in December there will be a surplus in the treasury of $25,000,000 it does seem as if now all mistrust in the stability of our financial system ought to cease. That it is gradually evaporating is evident from the gradual awakening of industries and the growth of business throughout the country. It is the republican party which left an empty treasury for the Cleveland administration on which we should heap our vituperations. Time will soon tell whether the next congress, controlled by the republican party, has sense and patriotism sufficient to give us such financial legislation as the country needs and demands.
