The enormous increase in silver production went on contemporaneously with the decline in price. Under ordinary conditions falling prices check production, but they failed to do so in that the discovery of rich mines and improved processes had so far cheapened production that silver mining continued profitable in spite of the decline in prices. In these twenty-three years the annual production of silver nearly favor of Wm Scott. quadrupled, a very sufficient reason for the fall of price. In 1870 silver bullion sold at $1.328 per fine ounce; in 1892, at was nearly four times as great as that of 1870. THE MASS OF JUPITER.

Taking the earth's mean distance from the sun at 92,796,950 miles, as given by Harkness, the mean distance of Jupiter from the sun will be 482,803,970 miles. The eccentricity of its elliptical orbit at perihelion is 459,507,760 miles and at aphelion 506, 100, 180 miles. Between its greatest and least distances, therefore, there is a difference of 46, 592, 420 miles.

These extraordinary changes cannot possibly be due to the solar heat, and they have suggested the idea that the planet may perhaps be in a redhot state, a miniature sun, in fact, glowing with inherent heat. The great brilljancy of its surface, the "albedo," as it is called, and its small density-less than that of the sun-are facts in favor of this hypothesis. As the attraction of Jupiter's enormous mass would render the materials near its center of much greater density than those near its surface, the latter must be considerably lighter than water and may possibly be in the gaseons state.—Gentleman's

Its period of revolution round the sun is 11 years 314.8 days.

The inclination of 'ts axis of rotation being nearly at right angles to the plane of its orbit, there are practically no seasons in this distant world, and the only variation in the heat and light at any point on its surface would be that due to the comparatively small variation in its distance from the sun sun being 5.2028 times the earth's mean distance from the sun the following described below, upon which is assessed the amounts respectively, herein set forth for the improvement of said Main street, as herein selective, a surface numbered 157 of said city, as directed in ordinate numbered 158, and were entered in the Decket of City Liens, on the 5th day of October, A. D. 1885, to the owners herein specified, and which further command me to sell the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the manner provided by law to make the same in the

Its mean distance from the sun being 5.2028 times the earth's mean distance from the sun, it follows that the heat and light received by Jupiter are 27 times (5.3 squared) less than the earth receives. The amount of heat received from the sun by this planet is very small, and were it constituted like the earth its surface should be perpetually covered by frost and snow. Far from this being the case, the telescope shows its atmosphere to be in a state of constant and wonderful change.
