Did Not Pay Toll.—G. Harrington and F. Reinhold, the two emigrants on their way from Walla Walla to Siletz reservation and who were arrested for not paying toll over the Mt. Hood & Barlow road, were allowed to go on payment of costs of about $20, which sum was furnished by citizens of this place as they were poor. It took them four days to cut their way through on the toll road and the gate keeper wanted about $1250 toll; afterwards he agreed to take $11, and then $9, which he claims was half toll, on account of their cutting their way. Harrington and Reinhold offered to sell a horse to pay toll, as they had no money, but they were arrested instead. U. S. Attorney Murphy says and published the fact east of the mountains that the road is free, which fact led these settlers to cross there, as they could have teamed it to the Dalles and taken a boat around for less than toll and expenses of travel over the mountains.

SUICIDE.—Fitzroy Pease committed suicide Friday morning by hanging himself in his barn at Mount Pleasant. He was mentally unsound for a number of years and five years ago he came here from the province of Quebec, hoping that the change of scene and interest would freshen his mind. It did seem to do so, but lately the old trouble returned. Friday morning he arose about 4 o'clock, a little earlier than usual, and went to the barn. He did not appear for breakfast and search was made, resulting in the discovery of the dead body about 8 o'clock. He had climbed up on the edge of the hay mow, fastened a strap from the harness to a beam, with a noose around his neck, and slid off the mow. The strap was so long that he had to bend his knees before it would choke him, and in that position the body was found cold and stiff, death having resulted from strangulation. The deceased was 37 years of age and unmarried.

E. C. HAMILTON'S TROUBLE.—On Monday E. C. Hamilton was arrested on complaint of Miss Belle Hibbard on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and will have a hearing before Justice Dixon Saturday. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance. According to the statement of O. F. Hibbard, the father of Miss Hibbard, E. C. Hamilton was one of the securities on a note given by Hibbard, and Miss Hibbard, in order to protect her father's property from execution for a collection of the note, made over a deed to the Hamiltons to property owned by her, with the understanding that they were to pay off the note. Hamilton Bros. failed in their business and the arrest was never paid, hence the effort for obtaining money under false pretense.

SERVING TIME

Is a duty which none can escape. Time waits for no man, but all must wait on time. We save time by watching it for the public of Oregon City. Our clocks and watches keep the minutes of how time goes. What's more, there are sixty seconds to our minutes, which always stand approved as correct by the sun. There are no better time keepers on earth than our clocks and watches; in fact, they keep better time than Theodore Thomas' orchestra. They run by hand and can be depended upon not to quit in the race.
