COWBOY-GREY.—A very pretty quiet wedding took place in Portland last Thursday afternoon, June 27, at the beautiful residence of Mrs. J. K. Wait, 350 Marguerite avenue, the contracting parties being Miss Fanny J. Grey, niece of Mrs. Wait, and Leslie Herbert Cowing of Oregon City. The bride looked lovely in a rich costume of white silk, trimmed with pearls, and a veil of silk moirine completely enveloped the figure. She carried a bouquet of Nephrolepis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas L. Cole, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties, and a few intimate friends of the bride. The house was decorated with a profusion of roses. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, after which the newly-married couple left for a short wedding trip by the California steamer amid showers of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Cowing will make their home in Oregon City.

DEATH OF DR. DEDMAN.—Dr. E. C. Dedman, of Clackamas, Or., died of apoplexy Friday at 8 p. m., aged 78 years. He left a widow and several children, among them George R. and Henry A. Dedman. Dr. Dedman was a well-known and highly-esteemed physician during the active time of his life in the states of Missouri and Illinois. There are several of the Oregon pioneers of the years of 1850 and 1852 yet living who had their chests of medicine prepared by Dr. Dedman for the long journey across the plains. He came to Oregon in 1878, and located in Clackamas, where he lived in peace until his death. His remains were taken to Multnomah cemetery.

WHAT A COYOTE CAN DO.—It was reported by Henry Meldrum that in a cave near the mouth of Roaring river a petrified Indian had been found. The petrified archaeologist of the COURIER deemed the find of sufficient importance for personal investigation. He found the rocky aborigine squatting on his heels with his back against the rear wall of the cave. His face is turned upward and eyes open as if he was transformed into stone at the moment when he heard some one tell the story of the dayrman in the foothills who puts energy into the naturally lazy bull calf that forms the motive power of his churn by tying a muzzled coyote to his tail.

BI-CYCLISTS MEET.—The wheelmen of the city held their second business meeting at the Cataract hose house on Tuesday evening, which resulted in selecting as ribbon colors purple and green. The names "Electric," "Pathfinders" and others were suggested for the club but no name will be agreed upon until next meeting, which will be held at the same place on next Friday evening. Steps have been taken to secure the Chautauqua race track, but definite arrangements have not yet been made.

THE HOLD UP AT COW CREEK.—The northbound overland passenger was held up near Riddles on Monday night by one or two highwaymen. The registered mail was taken besides all the money the passengers had. Their booty amounted to between $2000 and $4000. C. N. Hermann of this city was the mail agent who delivered the sacks to the robbers at the point of a gun. Some say one of the robbers was a former employe of the road and others that he was Brady, who robbed a train some time ago.

Miss Lucy Stanton of Roseburg, who has been visiting Miss Ino Harding, has left for Portland to spend a week or two. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Houghton of Whitewater, Wis., arrived last Friday and are visiting Mrs. Houghton's brother, G. H. Wishart. Mrs. Katie Kohn Smith left on Friday last for a lecture tour through Eastern Oregon. She will deliver the oration on the Fourth at Wagner. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pillsbury, who have been visiting the family of J. G. Pillsbury, leave Friday for Salt Lake City and Denver. They are traveling for Mrs. Pillsbury's health. W. H. Conyers received a letter from Col. Robert A. Miller sending his regrets for not being able to be with us on the 4th. We are sorry that it was impossible for the Colonel to be present as we should be pleased to have been honored with his presence, as we consider him a just and honorable man who has proven himself since he has held the office of chief at Oregon City.—Clatskanie Chief.

F. D. Bruce, ex-convict and attorney, has skipped and left several persons and firms in the "lurch" financially. He left on Sunday's 4 o'clock train, but before boarding the train he had to "divvy up" to several persons who had claims against him and refused to let him go unless he did. The COURIER man was not on hand so he is "left to mourn" with others. Jail birds who are anxious to "live down" disgrace should not "fly high." He said he was going to Idaho and "would take a position as corporation counsel for a prominent railroad."

SATURDAY'S BLAZE.

About $8000 Worth of Property Destroyed by Fire. At 2 a. m. on last Saturday morning fire was discovered in Lawrence Ronovich's restaurant on Main street, which destroyed the restaurant and W. A. Wheeler's "Novelty" confectionery store, besides burning J. W. Norris' library and office which was over the store. The loss and amount of insurance held by individuals is as follows: Losses: L. Roonich restaurant, $1500 $1000 W. A. Wheeler, Novelty, $3500 1000 Commercial bank, 200 none Dr. J. W. Norris, 600 none Murray, Harding & Wadsworth, 600 none Buildings, 1200 1200 Old Fellows' building, 1000 3500 George A. Harding on stock, 400 1000 G. A. Harding's drug stock was entirely removed when his store was threatened; Wheeler's barber shop, Friedrick's tailor shop, Barmister & Anderson's jewelry store and T. A. Pope's residence were damaged. The stock and furniture of the barber shop and tailor shop was removed. This is the second fire that the "Old Fellows" brick has stopped. In 1883 a fire was stopped by the other or north side of building. Four large plate glass in Commercial bank broke across the street were broken besides one in the Old Fellows building. Wm. Fairchild, a fireman, fell from building and had three ribs broken and J. W. O'Connell had a toe crushed and leg skinned, besides several others had his hands burned with falling boards. The firemen did well and much credit is due them. After the fire started the boiler in the restaurant exploded and went up through the building and came down on other side of street. The boys say it stayed up "several minutes." The burned ground will be covered at once by a large two-story brick structure that will be a credit to the city. Mr. Wheeler will reopen his confectionery store next to Albright's meat market. Surprising bargains at the 5 and 10 cent counters of "The Fair," second door south of bridge. Patronize home industry. The Oregon City Steam Laundry does better work than the Chinese of Portland laundries. Geo. P. THE HOLD UP AT COW CREEK.—The northbound overland passenger was held up near Riddles on Monday night by one or two highwaymen. The registered mail was taken besides all the money the passengers had. Their booty amounted to between $2000 and $4000. C. N. Hermann of this city was the mail agent who delivered the sacks to the robbers at the point of a gun. Some say one of the robbers was a former employe of the road and others that he was Brady, who robbed a train some time ago.

SERVING TIME

It is a duty which none can escape. Time waits for no man, but all must wait on time. We serve time by watching it for the public of Oregon City. Our clocks and watches keep the minutes of how time goes. What's more, there are sixty seconds to our minutes, which always stand approved as correct by the sun. There are no better time-keepers on earth than our clocks and watches; in fact, they keep better time than Theodore Thomas' orchestra. They run by hand and can be depended upon not to quit in the race. Burmeister & Andersen THE JEWELERS.
