PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

OREGON CITY, SEPT. 20, 1895.

THE Oregon City Courier seems to prosper under A. W. Cheney's management. It comes out this week enlarged to a six-column quarto.—Salem Statesman.

One thing the people have gained: Mr. McGinn is put on the bench, and will never again have the appointing of twenty or thirty lady clerks in the legislature.—Journal.

The new tariff produced about $3,800,000 more revenue from customs in August, 1895, than the McKinley Bill afforded in August, 1894. Republican papers that are fond of comparing this year with last should make a note of this.

WHAT is the reason Uncle Sam can not acquire Cuba, Hawaii and other islands and give our army and navy something to do. It might just as well be looking after several islands as to be laying around the same ports doing nothing.

GENERAL Compton, one of the railway commissioners, is now in Kentucky enjoying himself—drawing his portion of the $20,000—all the time. But so far as any benefit from his presence here is concerned, he might as well be in Kentucky as any other place.—Salem Independent.

BUSINESS men would have less cause for complaint if they would advertise in their home newspapers. The people naturally think that the merchant who does not advertise has no bargains to offer, consequently send away to houses that do advertise for goods that they could buy at home if they only knew where they were to be obtained.—Baker City Blade.

It is said that the wicked man Quay, a inspired prophet of the gospel of "addition, division and silence," has downed the pious political boss who donated $100,000 to the state to debauch American politics. Now if the people of Pennsylvania would down both bosses, it would be a grand step taken against machine methods which have constituted the backbone of the g. o. p. all over the country.—Olympia Standard.

C. M. Beak writes from Swindon, Eng. to Salem Journal: "If an Oregon farmer had been with me he would have been frightened to see live stock selling at such large figure, viz: Cattle from $80 to $120 each, sheep $14, calves $16, hogs $15; how do the prices compare?" He says nothing of other crops. It is well known that live stock sells at boom prices in England. It is also well known all other agriculture has been terribly depressed the past year. Ten to one, Mr. Beak returns to Oregon to live.

The Electric Belts sold nightly on the vacant lot on Main street opposite Catholic church is genuine. All sufferers from Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver or Stomach troubles should give it a trial.

Kermasse Cigar.—The best ten cent cigar, sold for five. E. E. Williams, the grocer.

You receive a lead pencil free with each tablet you purchase at "The Fair."

Entire stock of Crocker will be sold below cost at R. Staub's Grocery.

Blank note and receipt books of all kinds and deeds, mortgages, etc., cheaper than Portland wholesale prices. Call on our office.

A few more cords of wood wanted on subscription accounts at the Courier office.

Birmingham turns out every week, among other articles, 100,000 pins, 200,000 needles, 500,000 buttons, 1,000,000 saddles, 3,000,000 copper or bronze coins and 50,000 pairs of spectacles.

A shepherd at Cranberry, Savoy, employs a horse instead of a dog to keep the herd together. The horse understands the orders given him and carries them out as intelligently as the best trained dog.

He—Will you marry me? She—Certainly. He—Thanks. I was afraid you were going to say it was too sudden. She—It couldn't be.—Detroit Free Press.

Gates—The only time I ever saw whiskey in when I am getting a load pulled. My wife will allow me to touch it under any other circumstances. Barnes—Had any pulled lately. Gates—No. Haven't any left.—Tadousapolla Journal.

Olney (a little tipsy)—Would you die for me, old boy? Charley—Why, of course I would. Olney—I wish you would, dear boy, I wish you would.—Trenton Signal.

Two Lives Saved. Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City III, was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured.
