OREGON CITY, OCT. 4, 1895.

ACCORDING to Hon. J. H. Aiken, a free silvrite of Nashville, Tenn., the free silvrites will have 294 delegates in the next national democratic convention, the goldites 406, doubtful 188.

With a $6000 deficit in the state in same asylum woodpile, what was that $700 inventory good for? About as much as those high priced legislative investigations that never investigate.

WHEN people can buy on credit they always buy more than they would if they had cash to pay at the time of purchase. They seldom keep run in debt much more than they expected or intended, and find when called upon for settlement that the bill is often two or three times more than they anticipated.

WHATCOM, (Wash.) Revelle says that "the Oregon papers are lamenting their lack of population and its failure to increase. They conclude that marriage is a failure and that the state must import inhabitants or peter out. Our webfoot friends might make a lot of inhabitants out of Oregon pine. Needn't change the pine any; just cut it up into the right lengths, put them on end and the new inhabitants would stand around just like the old ones."

"I do the heaviest advertising in dull times," says John Wannamaker, in writing on that subject. "Then it is when people look keenly for bargains, and are anxious to know how much things cost, and when they can save money. I advertise particular things, give prices and take as much pains with my announcement as I do with my stock. One big dinner won't keep up the reputation of the house—but steady, good cooking does it. I never permit interest in my announcement to lag, and never miss an issue in my chosen publications. Advertising has made my store one of the largest in the country."

A very intelligent Jap came into our office on Tuesday and thinking we were publishing a daily wrote out a local ad in good business like form and in excellent handwriting and faultless English which was to run two days. He wanted employment for two of his Japanese friends who had been hop picking. Our curiosity was aroused, so we asked him a few questions to which he replied that he had been here in this country six years, had never been to school but he had a brother in a university in California from whom he had learned English. We were compelled to say to ourselves, how many with much more than his advantage and opportunity had failed to do as well.

"Nevada, or the Lost Mine."

The Oregon City Glee and Historic Society will favor the public with one of their most interesting entertainments, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild and for the benefit of the St. Paul Episcopal church of this city, on the evenings of October 11th and 12th. Don't fail to witness the production of this beautiful three act drama, entitled, "Nevada, or the Lost Mine," to be given at Shively's opera house. We can assure the people of Oregon City that this play is one most worthy of the patronage of every theatre-loving individual and should be so considered. It beautifully depicts the frontier life in the gold mining regions of the Sierra Nevada in the early days. The play will be staged with every modern scenic and mechanical effect. Every person concerned in the play is adapted to his or her part or character and are well up in their lines. In connection with the drama there will be a very select musical programme. In response to the request by the Ladies' Guild, the following talented musical artists will appear. Mrs Cass U Barlow, late of Stockton, Cal., Miss Cilia Goldsmith of Eugene, Miss Beatrice Barlow and W A Askin, both of this city, and a number of others. Taking the programme as a whole, it will be a most enjoyable and interesting entertainment. Look for ad in another column. Reserved seats on sale at Huntley's drugstore. Popular prices.
