CASH PAID $1000.—Cassius Barlow, several years ago, made promise to marry Belle Hammond, a beautiful girl, born and raised in Portland. As a result of that engagement Belle became mistress of Barlow, kept house for the fellow and actually enslaved herself to him. An accomplished artist, the young woman painted several lovely pictures to adorn that expected home, and gave them to her affianced. These he placed in his rooms at Barlow, and there they were admired by every caller. But a change came over the spirit of Cassius Barlow's dreams—and a few months ago he married another woman. The young wife was taken to Barlow's domicile and there fasted her eyes upon the handwork of her that had expected to fill that exalted place now belonging to another. Then Belle Hammond brought suit against Cassius Barlow for $25,000, alleging breach of promise of marriage and seduction. This week Barlow settled the affair—by payment of $1600 and the return to Belle Hammond of all the pictures she had given him. The Mercury is glad the fellow was made to "dig up." Belle Hammond deserved his hand in marriage. She was true and loyal to the scamp. He has gotten his desserts.—Sunday Mercury.

GREAT FIND OF A BOTANIST.—A couple of botanists went up to see their friend Howell, in Clackamas, on Sunday, says the Oregonian, to find out how he is getting along in defining the new plants he collected in Alaska. He has been hard at work on his collection since his return, and has studied up a species of arnica and a huckleberry, which have never been described, and he has several more plants unknown to science. This is a great pleasure to him and his friends, as a number of celebrated botanists have explored Alaska. Only those who are interested in botany and know how few plants there are left in the world which have not been discovered, analyzed and described, can realize the joy a botanist feels when he discovers a new species. Mr. Howell formerly ran the Oregon City Steam laundry and is making arrangements to publish an extended work on botany.

MUSICAL.—The Ladies of the Congregational church are preparing for a musicale and social, to be given at the church Friday evening, November 8th, by the best musical talent of Oregon City, assisted by Mrs. Will Glofke, one of the sweetest singers of Portland, and by Prof. Durette of the west side (Oregon City) schools, who is by far and far the best educationist that has lately come to our city. A fine piano has been engaged for the occasion and other arrangements of a social nature are in progress. Admission 25 cents.

PROBATE MATTERS.—December 2d set as time for hearing petition of T. F. Ryan, administrator, for sale of property of Wm. R. McCubbin. Annual report of C. E. Myers, administratrix of C. H. Myers, filed. S. M. McCown ordered to deliver deed of lot 2 in block 14 of Gladstone to C. A. Williams on payment of $90.40.

ANOTHER PIONEER.—William Greenwood, one of Oregon's oldest pioneers, died at his home at Samuel Galbreath's at Tualatin October 23 at 2 a. m. He was 81 years old. His burial in the Stafford cemetery last Friday was conducted by the Revs. Mr. and Mrs. Barber of Hood View.

Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy that he has used in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Christian Endeavor Work.

The fourth annual convention of Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor of this county commenced at the Presbyterian church on last Friday evening with a praise service led by George T. Howard. W. G. Beattie gave the address of welcome, which was responded to by President T. J. Gary, of Milwaukie. The feature of the evening was the address of Dr. Wallace, of Portland, on Christian Endeavor work.

On Saturday the societies began work with a sunrise prayer meeting, led by Miss Mattie Gray, which was well attended. After the reports of a number of societies were presented in the forenoon session, the following named officers were elected for the coming year: W. G. Beattie of Ely, president; T. J. Gary of Milwaukie, Geo. W. Swope of Oregon City and O. P. Yoder of Canby, vice-presidents; Miss Musa Barkley of Oregon City, recording secretary; B. M. Fish of Milwaukie, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. B. Wizing of Oregon City, treasurer.

Mrs. J. Wise read an excellent paper on "Secret Power." A symposium of definite work was presented by Miss B. Jones, Mr. Gibson and Mr. Swope. The number of Christian Endeavor members in the county was shown to be 340, an increase of three during the past year and 451 are enrolled as junior workers. The report of the corresponding secretary showed the number of societies in the county to be 12, the same as last year. The number of conversions during the year was 99, just half as many as during the year before. For missions, $43 45 were given; one-quarter as much as the previous year. An attractive programme of entertainment were presented in the evening.

On Sunday the convention was begun by a sunrise prayer service, led by Miss Musa Barkley, after which the members attended the regular morning services at the various churches. At 2:30 o'clock there was a big junior rally, led by Mrs. Gilman Parker, at which short addresses were made by the Rev. A. J. Montgomery and Messrs. Groom, Wall and Hargreaves. "The Need of Systematic Bible Study" was the subject of a thoughtful discourse by Mr. Montgomery. The evening praise service, led by the Rev. J. W. Cowan, D. D., was largely attended and very enthusiastic. A large number of people could not gain admittance to the church. E. S. Miller, of Portland, gave an address on the "Influence of Hope in the Service of Christ," and Mrs. G. C. Brownell gave an interesting report of the Boston convention.
