EXPERT'S REPORT.

Condition of Finances of This County as Found by Grand Jury Expert Hackett.

To Hon. Grand Jury, Clackamas Co., Oregon, of Nov. Term 1895.

In pursuance of appointment by you, total I beg to say that I have carefully gone over the affairs of the county including By: county court matters, receipts of the different officers 1894 tax collections, etc., as will more fully appear elsewhere in this report.

The several county officers have been very kind and obliging and rendered Ry me every assistance possible in furnishing documents and papers desired.

It is perhaps proper to state that I have been assisted in this work by Mrs. War C. A. Nash, a lady of superior ability and whose work has been done under my direction and endorsed as correct. Wherever we could we have proven our work and know our figures to be relia-

I find no serious mistakes any where except it be that the Sheriff has issued tax-receipts to Clacksmas county for the property sold as delinquent amounting in the aggregate to $5,134.37.

This sum has never been accounted for to the Treasurer for the simple reason that the county has never paid for such receipts.

In my opinion Clackamas county is not entitled to tax-receipts except she pays for them; and all minor claims, such as those of the several school districts, ought in such cases to be satisfied, in order to make the title of Clackamas county clear to its own lien. The several school districts that have levied a special tax, have a right to demand their money; and whenever the Sheriff issues receipts to any one, he should be in a position to account for the money.

In examining the records and bills passed upon by the County Court. I have found it hard to determine from some of the bills the exact nature of the service performed for the county, thus obscuring the justice or injustice of said claims. All bills, it seems to me, should as elsewhere accounted for. be fully itemized and show on their face every fact an enquiring person cared to know.

In making up my financial statement, I have purposely left out 1892 delin- not print that part of the experts report quent taxes and all prior years, for the which includes these copies from fee delinquent in the ordinary sense. All publish instead, the total receipts per such property should have been deeded month of each of those offices, as shown to the county long since, except the county court thinks it is not worth the I have found that the fees collected trouble and expense. It will also further appear elsewhere in this report, that, turned over to the treasurer daily and the full amount of redemptions of de- his receipt taken for the same. I find linquent property, as reported to the their books to check out with the Treasurer, is but $158,85 (not including treasurers books exactly. I find also Treasurer, is but $158,85 (not including treasurers books exactly. I find also liver and bowel troubles are cured by Karl's Mt'g Taxes). This shows very plainly that the treasurer has properly distaxes. I should also state that I find and that he is duly able to account for no "Tax Deeds" of record for such de- all such payments as shown under our linquents.

I would recommend that all warrants redeemed or canceled be filed away (together with the list as returned by the Sheriff and Treasurer) and kept as a part of the records. All warrants have been destroyed by the several clerks for years past. Such warrants could be stamped as paid in the same way that banks do checks, and there would thus be no danger of their being used the second time. There is no business man in the country who does not preserve his checks as returned by the bank and why not the county do the same? Feeling the responsibility resting upon one undertaking a work of this nature, have endeavored to place the affairs of the county before you as they really are. If I have, in a measure succeeded, then my best wishes have been attained.

I have the honor, gentlemen, of subscribing myself,

Yours to serve, E. C. HACKET.

No More Sprinkling, No More Scrubbing, When You Have

DUSTINE

...ON THE FLOOR ... It's Odorless, It's Cheaper Than Paint, It's Non-Inflammable

It is a vanish-like substance, yet never hardens, and when applied to floors of any kind, enables you to sweep without raising the dust, hence you are not compelled to wait till after office hours to renovate your premises.

It is an odorous compound which penetrated the wood and for months keeps up a constant exudation, sufficient to catch and hold the dust yet not enough to be noticeable. Extravagant as this may seem, it can be easily verified.

By its use you prevent the percolation of dust particles throughout summer or winter. It will doubtless, also, ward off certain diseases by preventing the bacteria from rising and being inhaled. When you use DUSTINE you do not need to scrub your floors. This saving of soaps and 'ye counterbalances the cost of DUSTINE. No sprinkling is required before sweeping.

It means death to flees and all such vermin, hence is every house keeper's friend. It is not composed of benzoine or any other explosive or inflammable substance, hence will not affect your insurance. ***

PORTLAND TESTIMONIALS:

We take pleasure in saying that we had spread on our first and second floors the preparation manufactured by Mr. Wm. Bagley for the purpose of keeping the dust down. Mr. Ragley claimed that the preparation would keep the dust off our goods and we would have no further occasion to sprinkle our floors. We are pleased to say the claim is made good. We have now had it on our floors three months and have not been annoyed with the least dust in our establishment. Our floors need no sprinkling. No dust on our boxes of goods. We hardly need any duster now and we consider the preparation valuable to every mercantic business. We have it on our lincoleum and it acts the same as on our floors. We certainly commend the preparation to every storekeeper.

We have been using "Dustine" on the floors of our crockery store since March, 1894, and the results are so satisfactory that we continue using it and will do so in the future. All you claim for it has been performed. Two decided advantages result, namely, that no dust rises when the floors are swept, and that scrubbling is unnecessary to keep the floor clean. We corditally recommend its use on any floor where dust is liable to settle.

OLDS & SUMMERS.

We have your "Dustine" on our floor now for some time and can truly say that we become more pleased with it every day. We have no need of covers for our goods and have not used them since the "Dustine" was applied. To anyone wishing to keep their stock free from dust and also to avoid the generally hard labor of sweeping, we cheerfully recommend "Dustine."

CHICAGO CLOTHING CO.

We have had your 'Dustine' on our floor about eight months and it is everything you claim for it. We have not used any water on the floor during that time, and it prevents the dust from rising or slicking to the floor. We would not be without it for any reasonable consideration.
