NUGGET FAMILY JEWELS

A

proclivity for sentimentalizing her trifles, Mrs. S. M. B. is about to release the钻 of her gems. It has taken

her

years of accumulating
these precious pieces.

The most precious
of these jewels
are a
pair
of rubies

which she bought when she was twenty years old.

These
rubies
are

said

to be worth

four thousand dollars.

Mrs. S. M. B. is

averse

to

selling

her

jewels,

but

has decided

to sell

the

rubies

in order

to provide for

her

son's

education.

She

hopes that

her

son

will

be able

to

inherit

her

jewels

and

continue

her

collection.

Mrs. S. M. B.

is

a

woman

of

great

refinement,

and

her

jewels

are

a

testament

to

her

good taste.

She

is

said

to

be

a

devoted

mother,

and

her

son

is

her

pride

and

joy.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

simplicity,

and

her

jewels

are

a symbol

of

her

beauty.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

charity,

and

her

jewels

are

a

testament

to

her

kindness.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

grace,

and

her

jewels

are

a reflection

of

her

beauty.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

refinement,

and

her

jewels

are

a

symbol

of

her

beauty.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

simplicity,

and

her

jewels

are

a

testament

to

her

kindness.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

grace,

and

her

jewels

are

a

reflection

of

her

beauty.

She

is

a

woman

of

great

refinement,

and

her

jewels

are

a

symbol

of

her

beauty.