Build Up Your Brain...

Steady your nerves, and perfect your digestion by using bread made from our whole wheat flour. It is made from the whole wheat berry, except the outside hull or bran, which is a woody substance, irritating and indigestible. Bread made from this flour is not so white as that made from the pale white roller flour, but is far superior for food as it contains all the gluten, germ, and oily matter of the wheat and is much sweeter than Graham or any other bread not sweetened artificially.

CORRESPONDENCE.

COLTON.

We have had very fine weather for some time past and now we are having a fine rain just the kind to make things grow.

Well, election is over and people are no longer in suspense between hope and fear, but may each successful candidate strive to fill his position honorably.

Since gardening and grain have got a start they are growing nicely.

The present teacher of Colton did not teach on the 4th or 5th on account of his being slightly indisposed.

C. O. Hubbard's daughter, Mabel, accidentally swallowed a piece of tin. They thought for a while it would be necessary to take her to the Gladstone hospital, but in all probability she will be all right.

Mr. Gorbett has quite a lot of good building material on hand which he sells at reasonable rates.

One of the Misses Cass got quite a severe cold by getting a kettle of hot water spilled on her, but the fire is mostly out and the burns seem to be healing all right.

Mrs. Gottberg went to Oregon City on the 9th.

Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. Gorbett received a call from Mrs. Dix Thursday, June 7.

HOOD VIEW.

Grandma Seely is home again after a week in the metropolis.

Miss Nettie Wood is again at home for a few weeks.

Miss Belle Jones closed a very successful three months' term of school in the Hood View school house Friday.

Mr. Anderson will close a nine months' term of school in the Wilsonville school house Monday.

Mrs. Gratman and Miss Rosa, of Newberg, were guests at Mrs. Young's this week.

M. H. Goulding and Mrs. Melvin Baker are improving. Our sick list, we are glad to say, is small in number.

Grandma Lanz, it is reported, has a cancer of the throat.

Mr. Wm. Munay had the misfortune to lose a fresh milch cow, also a fine young colt, recently. The cow seemed to have some kind of lung fever, but the colt just layed down and died.

This rain is a very welcome visitor. Hops are looking fine, it only the price was better. Messrs. Reese and Jones of Astoria, were in our neighborhood Wednesday, trying to make some contracts at 3 1/2 cents.

The new minister and wife, who has taken charge while Key barber and wife are east, are very much liked.

M. C. Tooze and family of this place, have moved back and the Sess family who had been on the Fozze farm are going east soon. We are glad to see the smiling countenances of our old neighbors once more among us and are equally sorry to lose such very valuable people as the Sess family have proved themselves.

Decoration day was appropriately observed in our midst and all joining neighborhoods this year.

CANEMAH NEWS

Mr. E. T. Fields left Tuesday night on the overland for a point near Eugene, where he will be employed as an operator for a short time.

Mrs. Mollie Jacobs of Washington, was visiting her mother, Mrs. Hedges, Sunday.

Grandpa Washburn has been visiting relatives at Carus, for the past week.

A boy arrived at the house of Mr. Searle about a week ago. It is supposed that the infant voter leans toward populism.

There has not been much excitement here since the election. The republicans and democrats seem to be as scarce as hen's teeth, but on the contrary the populists are blooming out on every hand. Since the populists have gained a victory in this county, all that will be necessary to restore prosperity is to wait for free coinage and shake hands with Gen. Cuxey.

L. Stoler has gone up to Roaring river to work.

Potato planting is the order of the day and a very large average is being planted.

During the fine weather of the past week the roads became dusty, except in the mud holes.

The health of this community is very good.

Children's day, June 14th, will be properly observed here.

No Fourth of July celebration here this year.

Some of our young folks were at Davis' to the dance, and all had a high old time.

MULALLA.

The populists here are very quite since the election. They expect the green backs to be flying in the air before long, which will make a demand for their straw stacks, and make wheat a dollar and a half per bushel—demand or no demand. We hope they will make a success, which we haven't the least doubt they will, unless they forget some of their platform. We have had a nice rain since the election that has done lots of good to the gardens and late grain.

We have got a new harness shop at this place which we are glad to see.

R. T. Dibble is hauling wheat to Howard's mill.

There is talk of celebrating the Fourth at this place.

It is hard luck when a lady makes a mash on a nice looking fellow and she finds out he is a married man—too bad.

There is church in Harless hall every fourth Sunday. Sunday school at the church every Sunday at 10 a. m. and at 2 p. m.

The singing school here is making good progress.

The ladies are beginning to look out for the future, as leap year is getting pretty well along. We hope they will have success.

THE BEE-HIVE

We are doing a great shoe business and there is no reason why we should not, as our goods and prices are right. Good reliable goods were never sold before as cheap in Oregon City, as we are retailing them at the present time. Many customers tell us they never saw them sold in Portland for as little as we are asking. We, the secret of the matter is here—we buy of the best manufacturers for cash. You have no bad debts to pay when you buy goods of us.

Ladies we want you to see those fine Dongola Shoes we are selling for $1.98. We guarantee every pair and most merchants would want three dollars for the same shoe.

ADDRESS.

Veterans of Meade Post No. 2, Grand Army of the Republic, and Eastern Ladies of the Relief Corps.

Gladly do we assemble to celebrate with you that day which commemorates the valiant deeds of our country's soldiers who purchased for us at the price of their blood our land, our liberties and our institutions.

That school in which the study of the history of the country is not a part of school works is indeed unworthy of the name, school, for it is history which tells us of men who practiced that heroic virtue of self-sacrifice, which causes us to honor and admire them, and which gives, as it were, a greater stimulus to our aspiration to be upright and honest citizens.

In the study of history we have learned that our country's defenders were men who considered no sacrifice, however dear the cost, too great when its safety was at stake. Whether this land was theirs by birth or adoption, or whether their religious convictions were Catholic or non-Catholic, they fought and fell side by side like brothers. These were men to whom the call to preserve the Union meant the greatest sacrifices but they did not waver in answering it. Their motto was "Our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country."

Fearfully yet cheerfully did they bid farewell to home and loved ones to go to far off battle-fields which they were to consecrate with their blood. Duty stern, but just, made them tear themselves away from cherished and beloved ties, for a time at least if not forever to this world; for mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, sons and daughters.

With readiness, may I imagine, they cared they for fatigue, or want of sleep, the soldier's life was in danger? These gallant heroes whose courage was nothing daunted at the thought of their fate, how could they falter in accepting all the sufferings of their duty-chosen life. Well they knew they might return home strong and well, or maimed and crippled; or perhaps they might meet death at the mouth of the cannon and placed in an unknown and far away from home and kindred.

Where is the student of history who would admit that these men who have proved that they considered their lives bound by the dearest ties to this land, in order to make it ours, ours to enjoy, ours to preserve, and ours to transmit, command our greatest honor, our greatest admiration.

PURVIS OF ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL,
