Build Up Your Brain.

Steady your nerves, and perfect your digestion by using bread made from our whole wheat flour. It is made from the whole wheat berry except the out side hull, or bran, which is a woody substance, irritating and indigestible. Bread made from this flour is not so white as that made from the pale white roller flour, but it is far superior for food as it contains all the gluten, germ, and oily matter of the wheat and is much sweeter than graham or any other bread not sweetened artificially.

ONCE TRIED—ALWAYS USED.

Some Points.

OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 22.—(To the Editor.)—In the arguments of the advocates of the gold standard, it seems that two important points they try to make against the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, are: (1) The coinage value of silver would be brought down to the commercial value, giving us a dollar with the purchasing power of 53 cents, or, in other words, we would have a 53-cent dollar. (2) That the silver agitation is in the interest of the silver-mine owner, and in the event of the passage of a free-coinage law, he would be enabled to take 53 cents' worth of silver to the mint and have it coined into a 100-cent dollar, thus making 47 cents by the transaction, or, rather, having the government give him 47 cents just for the privilege of coining his 53 cents' worth of silver.

Now, if the silver dollar was worth only 53 cents, or the commercial value of the amount of silver contained in the dollar, how is the silver-mine owners going to be benefited? Unless it was a 100-cent dollar, how would he receive 47 cents from the government whenever he took 53 cents' worth of silver to the mint? If it was a 100-cent dollar, what does all the talk about the cheap dollar, the dishonest dollar, the repudiator's dollar amount to?

Again, if this silver agitation is in the interest of the silver-mine owners, how would he be benefited if when he took 53 cents' worth of silver to the mint he got back a dollar with purchasing power of only 53 cents?

CHARLES V. GALLOWAY.

HOW IS IT WITH YOU?

PREFIX ONE to a row of ciphers, and you represent the value of one insurance policy to many an estate. Thus 0000 is by prefix made 10,000. Insurance must be prefixed. There is no coming back from the dead.

OVER SIXTY-THREE THOUSAND, that is the reported number of insane people in the United States. This makes no account of the uninsured.

IT IS STATED that 20,049 stitches are taken in making a shirt, and fifteen cents is the reward for the labor. Life insurance has saved many a woman from a life of toil. How is your family fixed?

NOW ONE BUSINESS MAN in thirty-three leaves his family anywhere near money enough to continue the comforts he has educated them to need and expect. This suggests immediate action on their part, in the direction of life insurance. The Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins Co is over 45 years old, has over 20 million assets, and over 1,500,000 surplus. The Massachusetts Insurance law is the safest for the insured. You can make no better investment, than to carry a policy in this company. Write me for information.
