FOREST FIRE RAGING.

Due to the Favorable Turn in the Fi. Destruction Done on Washington Side

The amount of timber already destroyed is estimated at from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 feet. All of the buildings at Benson's logging and lumbering camp have gone up in flames.

A wall of flame three miles long, leaping to the tops of the highest trees, renders it impossible to get direct communication to the scene of the trouble. A month ago a fire broke out in the same district, which, notwithstanding the recent rains, smoldered and broke

San Francisco, Aug. 31.-Mayor Sutro is constantly in receipt of all kinds of invitations, but today he received one of an unusual nature, which he will, no doubt, decline with thanks. NOMINATED STATE OFFICERS

Washington State Republicans Meet at

Last week in Tacoma the Republicans of Washington held their state convention and placed the following ticket in the field: Governor, P. C. Sullivan, of Pierce; lieutenant-governor, J. W. Arasmith, of Whitman; supreme judge, John P. Hoyt, of King: secretary of state, J. H. Price, of Pierce; treasurer, J. A. Kellogg, of Columbia; auditor, John E. Frost, of Kittitas; attorney-general, E. W. Ross, of Cowlitz; superintendent of public instruction, Edwin L. Brunton, of Walla Walla; commissioner of public lands, W. T. Forest, of Lewis; state printer, O. C. White, of Columbia; presidential electors, L. B. Andrews, of King; Sol Smith, of Klickitat; John N. Conna, of Pierce; W. K. Kennedy, of Adams.

The Platform.

"We, the Republicans of the state of Washington in convention assembled, reaffirm and renew our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party, and indorse the declaration of principles as expressed by the national convention held in St. Louis, June, 1896.

"We further pledge our earnest and united support to the nominees of the Republican party for president and vice-president of the United States, William McKinley and Garret A. Ho-"We indorse and commend the prudent, wise and patriotic conduct of public affairs under the chief magistracy of Hon. John H. McGraw, and denounce as false and malicious the attacks made upon our state administration from motives of personal revenge, and for partisan purposes.

"We reaffirm our confidence in the ability, probity and efficiency of Senator John L. Wilson and Congressmen William H. Doolittle and S. C. Hyde.

"We assert that the injuries to our industries and the wrongs inflicted upon our wage-earners, miners, artisans and all laboring classes, and upon our lumber, coal and agricultural interests are chiefly attributable to the repeal of the McKinley law and the abrogation of our national prosperity rests upon a just application of the principles of a protective tariff.

"The Republican party is unreserv edly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1879; since then every dollar has been as good as gold. We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agree-ment with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such agreement can be obtained, the existing gold standard must be preserved. All our silver and paper ourrency must be maintained at parity with gold, and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolably the obligations of tween the best and latest invented air the United States, and all our money, whether coin or paper, at the present

We heartily approve the declaration of the Republican national convention in which it pledges the Republican party to promote international agreement, and we hereby instruct our senator and representatives in congress to earnestly co-operate with the administration to that end. We believe that will never entrust its monetary legislation to any party under the leadership of such men as Bryan, Tillman and

"The Republican party has always been mindful of its country's defenders, and therefore favors the policy of just and liberal pensions. "We believe that taxation should be no higher than is required for sufficient revenue to defray the actual necessary expenses of the state; and we pledge ourselves to the most economical administration of public affairs consistent with their business-like manage-

"We emphatically demand the enactmens of such legislation as will secure just and equitable freight rates to the producers of the farm and all industries of the state, awarding justice alike to the producer and the common carrier.

"We favor an appeal to the general government for an additional donation of two more sections of public land in each township to be surveyed, the proceeds from the sales thereof to be devoted to the construction and maintenance of a system of public roads.

"We recommend such legislation, or amendment, to our fundamental law as will enable us to adopt the Torrens system of registering land titles, at as early a day as the condition of our public finances may justify.

"In view of the slarming incres of contempt for our constitutional liberties and the growing disrespect for gent enfranchisement and immigration

"The principles set forth in the Chicago platform that it is not within the duty and province of the federal govnrment, whenever and wherever necessary, to protect the lives and property of all citizens, we denounce as revolu-

"We reaffirm the doctrine of the founders of our government that the safeguard of our liberties and our institutions rest upon its judicial tribunals; and we condemn as unpatriotic the im-putations of the Democratic and Popu-list platform that the decisions of the supreme judicial tribunal are governed other than honest and impartial in-

Wheat is moving at last, and cattle and sheep are bringing a great deal of money into the state. The fruit crop is rather light, but what there is is bringing good figures. Hope will be a small crop, but will bring a figure that will at least pay for the picking and leave a small margin besides, which is a big improvement over last year.
