Ash or Brown favored the Palace, where he was known as Wallace. On the way to the coast, the swindlers mailed letters to themselves, which were duly received at editorial discussion of the proposition the hotels named one day after the arrival of the guests.

AN ORIENTAL ROMANCE.

A Fortune Awaiting the Son of John

McFarlane.

San Francisco, Sept. 29.-An ordinary four-line advertisement in last week's personals announced that a Glasgow firm of attorneys is looking for John McFarlane, who was last heard of in San Francisco five or six years ago. Back of the advertisement lies a story of Oriental romance, rare even in this day of strange happenings. The father of John McFarlane, who is wanted, was a canny Scotchman, a

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER.

Eowning, Hopkins & Co.'s Review of Trade.

Portland, Or., Sept. 80 .- The wheat Leadville Received Miners situation is gradually hardening, and there is a steady increase in confidence along the line. Operators who were not inclined to take the buying side three weeks ago, when prices for December were around 58c, have during the past week become convinced that the market has intrinsic value, and have bought at Sic and above. Since the first of September prices have advanced nearly 10 cents. It has been mainly owing to the situation being the strongest in years. In fact, the position of the wheat market as to the demand and supply has not been as strong in years. There is everything favorable for higher prices.

Liverpool led the market last week, and since the first of the month prices there have advanced faster than here. Traders have waited for years for the foreigners to take the initiative on the buying side, and, as they have acceptalso bought futures both in Chicago and at the seaboard, the bull feeling naturally increased, and prices here advanced about 51%c, and at Liverpool supplies than for years, and within the past three weeks have largely replenished them. ing Party.

San Farncisco, Sept. 30.-Yesterday afternoon Frank Carnivalli and Filomena Campologni were married. Shortly afterward the bridegroom fired into the wedding party, seriously wounding one of the guests and scattering the others in all directions.

The wedding party had adjourned from the church to the house of the married couple to join wedding feast. The health of the bride was' toasted, then that of the groom. The wine cup passed freely and the merry jest. Things were going along famously when George Zitka did sometihng which displeased Carnivalli. He also said something intended to be funny, but Carnivalli failed to see the joke and from the pistol pocket of his wedding garb produced a big revolver. Leveling it at Zitka, he pulled the trigger twice. The doors were not hig enough to give exit to the affrighted guests as hastily as they chose to leave. The bride and her female friends fainted. A policeman arrived at this juncture and arrested Carnivalli for assault with intent to commit murder, while Zitka was taken to the receiving hospital, where it was found that he had been hit by both bullets, one having entered sentence today, Judge Grant inquired his right side, the other shattering his
