THE SAME OLD FIGHT.

The republican spellbinders are trying to delude the voters by sophistry in order that they may not perceive the paramount issue that will come up for decision by the American people on November 31.

The money power against the masses, is the issue. The silver question and all other questions are but subsidiary, to be solved in either of two ways, depending on the result of the campaign. They are but means to an end. When a battle has been decided and the victory won, it is not difficult to dispose of the preliminaries of peace with the vanquished.

The capitalists, the railroads and the trusts are supporting the republican ticket and its ally, the so-called "national democratic" sideshow, whose unconcealed object is to draw votes away from Mr. Bryan, the candidate of the common people.

It cannot be that from purely patriotic motives the money power champions Major McKinley's cause. The prominence of Mark Hanna—an unscrupulous and merciless millionaire coal baron—as his manager, plainly indicates the object the money power had in view when it poured out its millions for republican campaign boodle. The object is to fasten its greedy grip more firmly on the productive energy of the American people. If they succeed, their blind victims, the farmers and the toilers of the cities who voted against Bryan, can only blame themselves.

However the campaign terminates, the money power will be worsted eventually. If it does not result in its defeat, the contest for the liberation of the white slaves of the United States will continue and wax fiercer and hotter until they are free. History shows that human nature can endure a strain, a tension of passion, up to a certain point; beyond that is the fury and the terror of armed conflict. The time comes now and then in a people's life when the sentiment wells up in millions of hearts so grandly uttered by Patrick Henry, "Is life so dear and peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?"

A CORRESPONDENT asks us to publish a copy of the text of each issue of United States bonds in order to settle the question whether the bonds are payable in gold or not. The matter is not one that is open to dispute. The United States has issued no bonds payable in gold.

The Press accuses the COURIER of "bullheaded stupidity." To reach this sage conclusion it, with knavish duplicity, perverts the sense and meaning of three or four lines clipped almost from the center of a paragraph in the COURIER, thus imparting to them that sophistical lucidity which is peculiar to the Press; but what else can one expect from a sheet that has a semi-weekly spasm of glopping consumption and is speeding to an untimely hole in the newspaper boneyard?

A STANDARD is naturally presumed to be stable, permanent, like the yard, the pound avoirdupois or the fluid ounce. We speak loosely of the "gold standard" of value, as though the gold dollar measured as much hops, cotton, pork or other commodity as it did, say 15 or 20 years ago. We know it does not and therefore it is a misnomer to call it a standard. There are large numbers of articles that have greatly fallen in money value since silver ceased to be like gold, primary money, was reduced to a commodity like beef or cotton. The standards of value, being, unlike the yardstick or the pound weight, values in themselves, have been reduced one-half by demonizing silver. The so-called standard remaining has naturally greatly risen in comparative value, in other words, gold has jumped upwards and is therefore a most unstable standard, or no standard at all, any more than a yardstick would be that measured three feet to-day and four feet on March 4th, 1897.

Bryan, prosperity and freedom.

Vote for Bryan and independence.

Look out for lying statements in the goldbug papers.

McKinley has refused to answer the question, "are you in favor of trusts?"

Some people are goldbugs because they think it is "high-toned" to be classed as such.

The McKinley managers have sent circulars to all the Catholic priests and all the A. P. A. leaders to persuade them to work for "gold."

If the republicans should by "hook or crook" get a majority of the electoral votes, would they be cast for Hanna or McKinley? They could be cast for either.

EVERY democratic nominee for governor or congress-man in Oregon is for Bryan with the exception of W. W. Thayer, W. D. Fenton and Col. Lane.

B. J. PENGRA, W. D. Hare and J. F. Gasley, the three republican electors on the state ticket for Lincoln in 1860, are now stumping for Bryan and liberty.

THE vote of Oregon on June 1st was divided as follows. For supreme judge: Bean (rep.) 40,451; Burnett (dem.) 18,623; Gaston (pop.) 28,125.

EVERY Chinaman is for McKinley and the gold standard. Why? Because he takes every dollar he earns to China, and of course he wants gold. The white laborer is the loser.

A vote for McKinley is a vote for the continuance of the gold standard policy of the present administration with a bond issue every few months.

A PROHIBITIONIST of Yamhill county declared he would vote for the gold standard because it makes money so scarce nobody would have any to buy whiskey with.

COLLIS P. Huntington, who is said to have given $50,000 to the Mark Hanna campaign fund, has raised the freight rate in Oregon 1 1/2 cents per bushel on wheat.

A TRAVELING man for a Portland wholesale house made his monthly trip to Oregon City on Wednesday, and is now an enthusiastic Bryan man. While on his last trip he was for McKinley.

The reason that old Aunt Hanna has ordered the people to display flags on October 31, is because he is a large stockholder in two of the largest bunting factories of the United States.—Portland Tribune.

At a meeting of republican managers in Portland on Saturday it was found that they had 271 speakers (269 of which are lawyers)stumping the state for gold, and decided to increase the list to 500 speakers this week. Who pays the bills?

A PRIVATE letter from a father in Ohio to his son here says that "every working man in his town (Dayton) is for Bryan and the state's for him also." While McKinley was governor of Ohio the state ran in debt over a half million dollars.

DID you ever hear of a republican statesman who spoke against the re-monetization of silver until this campaign opened? No, you never did. Then how can you believe them honest when they go back on their professions of years?—Daily Tribune.

It is Oregon City's reputation that there is no other place in the state, outside of Portland, where so many laboring men obtain employment. This enviable condition of things is due to our paper and woolen mills. If Bryan is elected, their business will increase and our community will flourish as it never flourished before. Factories are an absolute necessity to the growth and prosperity of a city.

THE Press accuses the COURIER of "bullheaded stupidity." To reach this sage conclusion it, with knavish duplicity, perverts the sense and meaning of three or four lines clipped almost from the center of a paragraph in the COURIER, thus imparting to them that sophistical lucidity which is peculiar to the Press; but what else can one expect from a sheet that has a semi-weekly spasm of glopping consumption and is speeding to an untimely hole in the newspaper boneyard?

It is an interview at the Marlborough hotel, April 20, 1896, Senator John H. Mitchell said: "I am afraid the democratic party will make concessions to the silver men in the platform adopted at the next national convention. If it does, despite all past mistakes, it will sweep the country. If neither party give silver the recognition it deserves, a new party will spring up that will sweep the country like wildfire. I think the result of the Denver conference will be to make the republican party realize fully the gravity of the situation, and may lead to its adopting a more liberal policy toward silver at the next republican national convention."

BRYANITES should watch the polls carefully as word comes from Portland that the republicans expect to carry this county by "repeating."

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Government Food Report. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., New York.

HARVEY Scott of Oregonian in a private interview admits that Bryan will be the next president and is sorry for the "people."

O. A. CHENEY in a letter in the goldbug Press derides the silver idea. How long has it been since he was in favor of free silver? We know.

Don't make crosses before the names of the "national democratic" electors on ballot. They are a republican side issue. Vote Nos. 16, 17, 18 and 19.

In June the vote for supreme judge in Clackamas county stood: Bean (rep.) 1908; Gaston (pop.) 2351; Burnett (dem.) 484; combined populist and democratic vote 2835.

Your attention is called to the letter of Hon. Geo. O. Rinearson in another column. He was a republican member of the last state legislature and comes out for Bryan.

Cutting and McKinley.

Editor Courier: The Press takes umbrage at my interesting myself in the cause of Bryan, and says I conducted my business so badly that I ran through with an estate and for that reason should not be considered competent to advise in governmental affairs. McKinley managed his business so badly that he is a bankrupt and in debt to Boss Hanna $118,000 besides running the state of Ohio in debt as its governor. McKinley can't be any good for president if the Press reasons correctly. CHARLES CUTTING.

From Our Exchanges.

Chauncey Depew is now listed as a "railroad employe." Employees of his class will vote for McKinley. The other classes will vote for Bryan.

McKinley will go down in history as "the man who was afraid to leave home."

It's a mighty mean man who won't holler for the man who has given him a free railroad ride.

For the first time in history this campaign presents the paradox of a Hill being in a hole.

Col. W. C. P. Breckenridge is for the gold standard because it would pain him to pay off that Madeline Pollard judgment in 53 cent dollars.

The people drive miles and stand in the rain to hear Bryan. To get them to hear McKinley they are paid a day's wages and given a free dinner.

So far Major McKinley has had no calling delegation from Alaska, but it is rumored that Mark Hanna is getting up a free excursion from Sitka.

Topeka, Kansas, republican says: A Bryan old soldiers' silver club has been organized in this city with a membership of 207.

Mr. Breckenridge may be very much in earnest in his effort to preserve the "honor of the nation," but at this distance it looks as if his honor preserver is on crooked.

Slavery wouldn't have been abolished if Mr. Lincoln had waited the approval of the slaveholders, neither will silver be restored as long as the consent of England is made a condition.

A frost that will kill goldbugs is a weather prediction that can be relied upon for November.

The gold standard advocates present some queer arguments. They say silver was so valuable that it was demonized in order to keep it at home. Now they are afraid that it will come back if re-monetized.

If the pure gold standard is good goods for the workman and laborer, what is the reason wages in Canada are so low? What about the invasion of low-priced labor that comes over to the New England cotton mills and harvest fields every year?

Judge J. F. Caples, J. Francis Forsythe, Mark Hanna, Wm. McKinley and the bankers of Wall street want the money question taken out of politics and left to them to manage.

There is a very stringent law in Ohio against moving mortgaged property out of the state. Hanna says McKinley shall stay on his own doorstep. November 3d the voters will say the same.

Des Moines (Iowa) Register, rep., says: "Mr. Bryan is all the time assuming that the republican platform means that we want to get rid of the gold standard with the help of other nations. He says if the gold standard is a good one, why do they want to get rid of it? They do not want to get rid of it, Mr. Bryan."
