14th YEAR.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1896.

NO. 27.

A BAD BREAK has ended that chair, but there are others in our stock. Rockers; dining, parlor, and easy chairs; chairs of all sorts and kinds await your inspection at our establishment. More, finer, handsomer chairs are here than you can see elsewhere. That's our reason for claiming your attention to our varied array of invitations to a seat. In this case, seeing discounts description. Chairs are too large a fraction of your furniture to be bought haphazard. No occasion to look further: Six chairs for $2.10 and upwards.

Build Up Your Brain.

Steady your nerves, and perfect your digestion by using bread made from our whole wheat flour. It is made from the whole wheat berry except the out side hull, or bran, which is a woody substance, irritating and indigestible. Bread made from this flour is not so white as that made from the pale white roller flour, but it is far superior for food as it contains all the gluten, germ, and oily matter of the wheat and is much sweeter than graham or any other bread not sweetened artificially.

ONCE TRIED—ALWAYS USED.

W. J. BRYAN'S ADDRESS.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—Bryan to day gave out the following:

To Bimetallists of the United States: "Conscious that the millions of loyal hearts are saddened by temporary defeat, I beg to offer a word of hope and encouragement. No cause ever had supporters more brave and devoted than those who have espoused the cause of bimetallism. They have fought from conviction, and have fought with all the zeal which conviction inspires. Events will prove whether they were right or wrong. Having done their duty as they saw it, they have nothing to regret. The republican candidate has been heralded as the advance agent of prosperity. If his policies bring real prosperity to the American people those who opposed him will share in that prosperity. If on the other hand, his policies prove an injury to the people generally, those supporters, who do not belong to the office-holding class, or to the privileged class, will suffer in common with those who opposed him. The friends of bimetallism have not been vanquished; they have simply been overcome. They believe the gold standard is a conspiracy of the money changers against the welfare of the human race, and until convinced of their error, they will continue the warfare against it. The contest has been waged this year under great embarrassments and against great odds. But in spite of the efforts of the administration and its supporters, in spite of the threats of money lenders at home and abroad, in spite of the coercion practiced by the corporations on employes, and in spite of the trusts and syndicates, in spite of the enormous republican campaign fund, and in spite of the influences of the hostile daily press, bimetallism has almost triumphed in its first great fight; but bimetallism emerges from the contest stronger than it was four months ago. I desire to commend the work of the three national committees, which have joined in the management of this campaign. They have laid the foundation for future success and they will be remembered as pioneers when the victory is at last secured. No personal or political friend need grieve because of my defeat. My ambition has been to secure immediate legislation, rather than enjoy the honors of office. Therefore defeat brings to me no feeling of loss. Speaking of the wife who shared my labors, as well as for myself, I desire to say that we have been amply repaid for all that we have done, in love by millions of our fellow-citizens so kindly expressed. In the knowledge gained by personal contact with the people and in broadened sympathies we find full compensation for whatever efforts we have put forth. In the face of the enemy rejoicing in its victory, let the roll be called for the engagement, and urge all friends of bimetallism to renew their allegiance of the cause. If we are right, as I believe we are, we shall yet triumph. The year 1900 is not far away. Before that year arrives, international bimetallism will cease to deceive. Before that year arrives those who have called themselves gold standard democrats will become bimetallists and unite with our party or become republicans and thus open enemies. Before that year arrives, trusts will have convinced still more of the people that a trust is a menace to private welfare and to public safety; before that year arrives, the evils of the gold standard will be even more evident than they are now, and people will be ready to demand an American financial policy for American people, and will join with us in the immediate restoration of free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation."

REDLAND.

The health of the community is good. Sunshine is over and rain has come at last. It will be well appreciated by the farmers.

Miss Ida Young is out home again.
