MEDITATION

on the subject of crockery can lead to but one result—a visit to our store. We show so much and we quote so many prices that no other retailer can imitate, that we outlive rivalry. Our assortment of breakfast, dinner, or tea sets in the finest ware and of the most artistic design are so many constellations of rare brilliancy. Descending from such to single pieces, we here again eclipse all. Fine Decorated 56-Piece Tea Set for $2.50 and upwards.

SUCCESS IN BUSINESS

Is attained by the use of good sound common sense. The merchant who gives fair, honest values for the price never will be without plenty of customers. While we will always meet the price of "bait" merchants to cash trade, we never resort to fake sales or any other deceptions to attract trade. Our appeals are to your pocket book, and we give the best all-round values. The average man or woman has sense enough to know that when staple goods, like groceries, are offered for less than real value, they are of inferior quality or old and shop-worn. "Baits" were invented to catch fish, not men.

We Solicit Your Trade.

OREGON'S DISGRACE.

A Few Legislative Notes from Salem.—Nothing Done.

The situation at Salem remains as it was last week and it now looks as though nothing will be done at all. On Friday the 40 days' session will be over and in all probabilities an extra session of 20 days will be called by Governor Lord to give the legislators another show to re-elect Senator Mitchell.

The 67 useless committee clerks of the senate were discharged last Thursday.

"I'm a silver bug in the spring, a gold bug in the fall, and a straddle bug in the winter."—John H. Mitchell.—Salem Journal.

According to the Journal, market quotations for votes on senatorship are as follows: Single voters to go into joint convention, from $1500 to $2000. In blocks of four or more, average $1000 to $1500. Options are offering at $500 for the next few days with privilege of buying at $2000 for populists or bimetallists or silver republicans. None selling at those figures or offered at any price.

The Journal published the following queries and answers:

Q. Who is the man that Senator Mitchell, Charley Fulton, Mr. Hirsch and Judge Casey call a revolutionist?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who made Charley Fulton's campaign two years ago for senator?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who made Mr. Mitchell's fight in Oregon's last election?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who organized the Mitchell republican party?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who made the fight in the state convention to seat Mr. Hirsch and his friends in the last republican state convention?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Whom did Mr. Hirsch appoint secretary of the republican state committee?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who handled Mitchell's campaign last spring?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who invented the "I'm for Mitchell, who are you for?" button?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who gave those buttons to the candidates for the legislature to carry home to their friends?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Whom did Senator Mitchell promise to make speaker?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. Who helped Senator Mitchell to propagate the free silver doctrine in Oregon?

A. Jonathan Bourne.

Q. When did Jonathan Bourne become a revolutionist?

A. When he made the fight in the last state convention to divide the Multnomah county delegation in behalf of Senator Mitchell.

Q. Why is Jonathan Bourne a bad man?

A. Because he has associated with so many bad people like Mitchell, Fulton, Hirsch and Carey.

Moral: Reductio ad absurdum.

The general manager of "Moon and Mars" railway has experienced some difficulty in the promotion of his railroad, and the system is now in the hands of a receiver. When the affairs of the road were at low ebb, had not the president of the Jerusalem and Judah Air Line (Simon) and the superintendent of the Anaconda and Boa Constrictor (Bonnie) sold M. and M. stock at such a sacrifice, the road might have surmounted the crisis and arranged a traffic agreement with the Gold Standard, Canton and Washington G. O. P. Main Line. As it is, terra firma and aerial railway stocks are upon opposition markets.—Argus.

T. B. Hankins of Oregon City is the author of a revised "Yankee Doodle," which appeared in the Salem Journal:

There is a man in Salem now,
I'll tell you his condition;
He left his seat in Washington
To strengthen his position.
When he arrived from Washington
And rounded up his heels,
He swore that he would run the house
In spite of all the squelchers.
Now as the fight went bravely on
It seems they never swore 'em,
And when they met to organize
They could not get a quorum.

CHORUS—
Give us Mitchell, howls the mob,
And save the grand old party.
But Joseph answers with a grin,
Hold your tongue, me hearty!
When Mitchell telegraphed to Har
To help him in his battle,
And teach the members of the house
That they're but voting cattle.
Har and Thurston wired back
Their legal contribution,
That Mitchell was in time
With Webster's constitution.
But Joseph answered with a wink,
Johnny keep your shirt on!
Har and Thurston cannot run
This great big state of Oregon.

LABOR EXCHANGE.

Permanent Organization of Oregon City Branch No. 185.

A meeting of the members of the Oregon City Branch, No. 185, of the Labor Exchange, was held at Justice Schueler's office in the Oregon City Bank block on Monday evening.

G. R. H. Miller, the temporary chairman, was elected president by acclamation.

A. J. Kellogg was elected vice-president, A. W. Cheney secretary and G. E. Hargreaves accountant.

The election of directors and auditing committee was postponed till next meeting, which will be held on Saturday evening.

The by-laws of the Vancouver Branch No. 180 were adopted with a few minor changes. A committee consisting of Wm. Cantwell, A. J. Kellogg and E. C. Hamilton was appointed by the chair to revise the same.

A. J. Kellogg presented several propositions and Editor C. A. Fitch spoke of the success of the La Grande association.

Several new members were added to the list.

The Exchange has already chances to get a saw mill and a steam wood saw, to be paid for in exchange checks.

OBJECTS OF EXCHANGE.

First—To provide employment for idle labor, by facilitating the interchange of commodities and services among the associates and the public.

Second—To alleviate the sufferings incident to, and avert the social dangers which may arise from, a constantly increasing class of unemployed, by furnishing this class useful occupation, and saving the wealth thus produced for the use and benefit of the actual producers and their dependents.

Third—To lighten the burden of charitable institutions, by establishing one self-sustaining.

By and through such employment of idle labor as aforesaid, this association aims to furnish food, clothing, and the comforts of a home to those thus unemployed; establish depots for mutual exchange; operate boarding houses for the same purpose, and also provide for education, the elevation of character and the amenities of life, by maintaining schools and other places of instruction.

NOTES.

It is with pleasure that I tell you our branch is growing in business, in permanent wealth, and usefulness. Our ice house of 150 tons capacity is nearly done and will be filled at once. Besides other products, we now have coal. The field for the use of our checks is broadening surely and steadily.—Herschel Sonner, Branch 104, Fruita, Col.

A branch at McEwen, Tenn, has applied for a charter. They have a large saw mill plant, stave mill, planer, concave saw for cutting feloes, spoke machine, etc., and hope to be shipping oak staves inside of 30 days, and will also soon commence the manufacture of wagons.

A branch has recently been organized at McCook, Nebraska, to which is attached more than ordinary interest, as the active organizers are connected with the American Railway Company, who propose to build a railroad from Council Bluff to Chicago, to be run, when completed, on Labor Exchange principles.

The Hamilton Branch of the Labor Exchange has secured three lots 50x100 and will build a two-story stone building. One team has been at work excavating and four more were ready to commence work when the cold weather set in, which will stop progress for a while.—Montanan, Hamilton, Montana.

Mr. John Clifford, formerly of Paso Robles, is now manager of the Labor Exchange in Los Angeles. The Association there is in a flourishing condition, and Mr. Clifford is about adding a shoe factory which will employ about fifty hands. Mr. Clifford is a practical shoemaker and an enthusiastic cooperator.—Reasoner, San Luis Obispo, Cal.

Rough Coated Scotch Collie Shepherd Dogs.

The pure-bred Scotch Collies are of a kind and affectionate disposition, and become strongly attached to their master's family. They are very watchful and always on the alert, while their intelligence is really marvelous. At one year old they are able to perform full duty, herding sheep, cattle, swine and other kinds of stock, attending them all day when necessary, keeping them together and where they belong, and driving off strange intruders. They learn to know their master's animals in a very short time, and a well-trained dog will gather them together, drive them home, and put each into its right stall. They have a dainty carriage and fine style, profuse silky hair of a variety of colors, bushy tail carried low, ears semi-erect, head long and sharp. Purchasers are delighted with those sent out by Messrs. Potts Bros., Parkersburg, Chester Co., as well as with their Chester White swine and poultry.
