Suffering

Women. Alas I women do suffer. Why, we often cannot tell, but we know there i one great cause, and that is weakness. The headaches, the depressed feelings, the pains, the discouragements, indeed, almost all the misery has a common cause weakness. At such times a woman always needs a friend that can be relied upon, and such a friend, for more than twenty years, has been that greatest of ail

TOO MUCH BARK.

It is not the best watchdog that barks the most. The old watchdog lays low and seizes the burglar before he knows it. In the treatment of rheumatism many sufferers talk too much and do too little. If ferers talk too much and do too little. If they want to find out what is best for it, let them get St. Jacobs Oil and use it. It is a good watchdog against the intrusion of pain. It goes to work quickly and surely, and seizes hold of rheumatism for the purpose of driving it out, and holds on until its purpose is accomplished. It is, therefore, the best remedy, because it takes the best means to accomplish its end, as many who have suffered for years with the ailment will testify. The cure is the same in chronic or inflamatory cases. With patience and a free use of it, the worst cases of long standing have been finally cured by it.

OPIUM HABIT DRUNKENNESS

The margin between the possibilities and the actualities of the average farm garden is a thing of goodly dimensions. It is, naturally enough, a difficult thing for the farmer to realize to what extent of practical usefulness he may put a single acre of ground provided he is willing and careful to bestow upon it the right kind of attention. This, says West Kentucky Farmer, is so because of the fact that in his farm work he looks more to general results. But when he comes down to work on a smaller scale he finds things quite different. It is only recently that a committee took upon itself to investigate somewhat as to what was actually being done on some of the small truck farms near one of our large cities, and they reported that one farm of forty acres yielded annually $16,000 worth of fruits and vegetables; another of six acres yielded $6,000; another of ninety acre- yielded $20,000, and another of twenty acres returned $8,000. These figures represent good receipts, but even after making reductions for fertilizers and other necessary expenditures, the net returns, although not stated, were no doubt handsome. Apart, however, from the profits from exclusive truck farming. the garden acre on the farm can be made an important item in the domestic consideration all the expense attaching to the purchase of garden produce necessary to the health, comfort and well being of the family.

Old Wheels Made Useful.

Don't throw away old wheels; they can be put to as good use, sometimes, as they were on the vehicles on which they were bought, as frequent and varied illustrations in Farm and Home each month have shown. The Illustra-

The barrel wheelbarrow is simply a barrel on wheels, balanced so that it will tip easily. The hooks in front are so valuable for feeding. They will are for a shovel and hoe to hang on. For many purposes this is better for farm work than are ordinary wheelbarrows. A heavier load can be carried. The wheel reel for fence wire is made by taking two wheels of a light wagon attached to their axle. Place four pieces of board through the wheels at regular intervals and wire to the felloes. It makes a large and convenient wire or cordage reel. These conveniences can be made during early spring so as to be ready for the first outdoor work.

Burn the Fcreenings. Since the improved fanning mills enable the farmer to separate all the defective and broken grains while it is cleaned, there is no longer any reason for grinding or feeding screenings. They are mostly composed of weed seeds and have little nutritive value, while some kinds of weed seeds are positively injurious to stock. Least of all should such weed seeds be given to poultry with the idea that passing through the gizzard will destroy their vitality. This is not the fact. It is in the crops of migratory birds that many kinds of plants and trees have been so widely spread as they have been. As for grinding the screenings, they are no longer worth the trouble. Grain is too cheap. If some broken grain is burned with the weed seeds it is no great loss.

Ammonia for House Plants.

Every housekeeper has her bottle of "Household Ammonia" or some preparation of ammonia, beside her kitchen sink or in the bathroom. It is very use ful in many ways, as the housekeeper knows. It has also another use. Fill a teacup with tepid water in the morning, and add to it three drops of house hold ammonia. Pour this on the soil of the geranium or other rapid-growing plant in your window. An application of this kind once or twice a week will add wonderfully to the growth and appearance of the plant. It is, in fact, a concentrated liquid fertilizer that is effective, cheap and bandy. For a number of plants, twelve or fifteen drops to a quart of water is sufficient. Twice a week on a sunny morning is enough .-

To Make the Form Pay.

One of the greatest hindrances to profitable farming is a desire to go too fast at first, and to purchase things one could get along without. The obliging agents tell you that you need not tronble about the money; your note will do just as well; but you will find that you must pay big interest for the privilege of going into debt, and you are always at a disadvantage with your creditor.

Haye the money ready to pay and you can then make your half of the bargain. Take good care for your farm and your stock, and they will furnish the money for the necessary outlays. I will just say to young men who expect to make farming their occupation, that they may expect hard work and plenty of it, and they will not need to join any baseball nine for exercise; but if they take care of their health and habits it will not hurt them. I have tried it for over sixty years, and am to-day a well-preserved man. I can truly say that with the blessing of our Heavenly Father upon the labors of myself and family. I have made farming pay, and what I have done others can do.-John Laramour, before Bloomingburg, Ohio, Institute.

Wells in Barn Basements. Every basement barn built for housing stock should have a well under it. There Will Be No Doubt as to What In this way water of proper warmth can be always secured for cattle, and a tub or kettle kept full all the time will add greatly to their comfort. It is well econons of the home, if we take into for all stock to run out of doors in cold weather for awhile each day, but the animals ought never to be forced to drink water nearly or quite down to the freezing temperature. We have scores of times seen cows turn away from the water under a hole in the ice because they were so chilled that further drinking of icy water was impossible. Much of the lack of thrift of cattle Feed for Bone and Muscle. In feeding all young animals thrifty growth is much more important than to fatten them. Many people suppose that the only way to lessen fat is to restrict diet until near starvation point. But they find by trial that if the food given contains the fat-forming nutrition, restricting its amount makes what is given so much better digested that the fattening process goes on as before. A fat, and especially to give what makes bone and muscle. It is for this reason that wheat bran and wheat middlings not fatten if fed moderately with hay. straw or roots, and they will keep young stock thriftly growing.

A great advance in theory and fact has been made over the old notion that good beeves could not be made before they are 4 years old. Better blood, breeding and management now make them most profitable at half that age.

A consensus of opinion among poultry keepers is that buckwheat is an excellent food for fowls. Some ascribe their profit to its use, briefly. Of course, this means that all the other conditions of care and food are properly supplied.

Old sheep are more profitable than young ones as long as they are healthy. It is claimed by some that any sheep falling to regain her flesh properly after her lamb is sold should not be kept, as there is danger of her not living through the next lambing.

No animal upon the farm requires so long a time to overcome the effects of over-feeding as does the sheep, and when a steady gain is necessary in fattening special care must be taken in regard to this point. There is the same risk in feeding growing lambs.

The Dairy. Sudden changes in feed will cause the cows to shrink in milk A good remedy for swollen teat on a milk cow, is equal parts of glycerine and lobelia.

The food for the cows should be of such a nature that no bad taste will be imparted to the milk.

Raise all the feed you can for your cows at home on your own ground. In that way you can get good money for the crops themselves.

The importance of healthy cows and sound milk cannot be overestimated. Too little attention has been given to the matter in the past.

In addition to corn meal, the cow needs something more nitrogenous in her feed. A combination of corn meal. gluten and cotton seed meal gives much better results than the former only. It will make one-third more milk and be better in quality.

Nervousness and viciousness are engendered in the illtreated cow, and are transmitted to her offspring. The more docile the cow, the more are her energies likely to be devoted to the dairyman's interest. We cannot be to watchful over irresponsible belp.
