Persons you meet every day,
WILL DIE
OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE
or some trouble of the kidneys, urinary or female organs.

THIS IS STARTLING, BUT IT IS TRUE.

WHAT CAN BE DONE?

In such a serious condition you must secure the best remedy you can find in the market.

AT ONCE.

There is only one absolutely sure cure for these troubles, and that is

HALL'S SAFE CURE

"It has stood the test of time."

A steel boiler plate seventy-six feet long, five feet wide and five-eighths of an inch thick was recently rolled in England.

Bottled Up!

Whether in the form of pill powder or liquid, the doctor's prescription for blood diseases is always the same—mercury or potash. These drugs bottle up the poison and dry it up in the system, but they also dry up the marrow in the bones at the same time.

The suppleness and elasticity of the joints give way to a stiffness, the racking pains of rheumatism. The form gradually bends, the bones ache, while decrepitude and helplessness prematurely take possession of the body, and it is but a short step to a pair of crutches. Then comes falling of the hair and decay of the bones—a condition truly horrible.

POTASH MERCURY

Contagious Blood Poison—the curse of mankind—is the most horrible of all diseases, and has always baffled the doctors. Their potash and mercury bottle up the poison, but it always breaks forth again attacking some delicate organ, frequently the mouth and throat, filling them with eating sores. S.S.S. is the only known cure for this disease. It is guaranteed purely vegetable, and one thousand dollars reward is offered for proof to the contrary. It never fails to cure Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Cancer, or any other disease of the blood. If you have a blood disease, take a remedy which will not injure you. Beware of mercury; don't do violence to your system. Don't get bottled up! Our books sent free to any address. Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

The costliest rugs in the world are owned by the Shah of Persia and the Sultan of Turkey. It is said that each possesses a mat made of pearls and diamonds valued at over $2,500,000. The Carlton club, London, owns the largest mat or rug ever made.

A new device for ringing street car gongs has two projections placed on opposite sides of the car axle, the bell lever being thrown into contact by means of a foot lever on the car platform. When the car is at a standstill the bell is rung by a pressure of the same lever.

CREASE AND INCREASE.

An elephant wears more creases to his trousers than any other animal. They seem to be sort of a kilt pleat with a bias slope. He is not very fashionable, but is up to date in taking care of himself. Some sudden, violent pains crease, twist or contract the muscles or tendons, and this is the nature of a bad sprain. If neglected, the creases increase, and so does the pain, until sometimes it is very difficult to straighten them out, but by the prompt use of St. Jacobs Oil, the friction or rubbing in its application and the curative qualities of the oil will smooth out the worst twist or crease and get the muscle in natural shape, where it will remain, restored, strengthened, cured. Promptness in using it insures prompt cure, and when the sprain is cured, it is cured for good.

ON TIME.

And very early too. That's what any one should be in treating one's self for insect on the kidney and bladder. The diuretic which experience indicates as supplying the requisite stimulation to the organs without exciting them, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Don't delay; kidney function and diseases are not far apart. For fever and ague, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism and nerve debility, also, use the Bitters.

SYRUP OF FIGS

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the proper physical fits, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Poultry Shelters.
The barrel poultry house shown in the first illustration makes a capital house for a small lot of birds. Any cracks or crevices should be filled up with clay or putty. The inside should have a good coating of lime, in which some carbolic acid has been mixed, and the outside should be well tarred or painted. When perfectly dry it should be placed on bricks or blocks of wood, so as to raise it a few inches from the ground.

The other sketch represents a more elaborate house, which can be made according to the number of birds for which it is required. The illustration explains itself, and the space under the floor is of great advantage, as it gives protection from the weather and is much appreciated by the birds. The house should be removed every few days on to fresh ground. It will be noted that two important points, light and ventilation, have received attention from the designer of this house. Strong handles placed at each end would facilitate removal, or the house could readily be fixed on wheels. If incor-gated iron is used for the roof it should have a wooden lining, as the former is a rapid conductor of heat and cold.

Transplanting Large Trees.
When a large tree is removed from the ground, as much earth as possible should be taken up with it, so that the small, fibrous roots may not be greatly disturbed. The tree will have a much greater chance of living in its new location if this is done. Dig first about the trunk at some little distance away, but do not cut off the big roots that are met. Follow these out for some distance. When the trench is dug about the tree, work under the roots and get chains or ropes about the ball of earth in two or more directions. Then set a long pry in the manner shown in the illustration, when the tree can be gently raised. A drag or stone boat can then be slipped under the ball of earth and the tree hauled home on it, without disturbing the roots in the least. With the earth left about the roots in this way, even trees of considerable size can be safely transplanted, and they will hardly seem to notice the change in their surroundings.—Exchange.

Cob Charcoal for Hogs.
Fattening hogs eat charcoal greedily, but that made by charring corn on the cob is eaten best, and this in our experience has proven all that is needed to keep them in health. But in one of the Minnesota Farmers' Institutes, Theodore Louis tells how he makes cob charcoal on a large scale where hogs are kept by the hundred. He digs a hole five feet square at top and five feet deep. Into this he throws some cobs, setting fire to them as they are thrown in until the hole is filled. Then the hole is completely covered, banking earth against the edges of the cover. In 12 hours uncover, and the cobs will be found completely charred, so that they will easily crumble. Six bushels of this is then mixed with eight pounds of salt, two quarts of air-slacked lime and a bushel of wood ashes. Dissolve one and a quarter pounds of copperas with hot water, and sprinkle over the mass. This mixture aids digestion and destroys the intestinal worms with which fattened hogs are always infested. Hogs, thus fed, have no occasion to root, as they get what they require without this labor.

Feeding Value of Apples.
We do not think enough of the value of the orchard for feeding its fruits to the farm animals. Apples are nutritious, and an aid to the good digestion of other food. The mild acid of them is excellent for the health of the stock and we all know how gratefully they will receive a feed of them at any time. For the cows they are especially desirable; a peck of them chopped and sprinkled with meal of any kind will help much to add to the flow of milk of the cows. Horses love this fruit, and they tend to help in the shedding of the coat, by their gently laxative effect. When the selection is made for the spring planting, a few of some of the sweet varieties, ripening from the summer to the winter, should not be forgotten for this use. We may begin with the early Sweet Bough for the first, then the autumn Sweet Bough and the old Pumpkin Sweet, and for later use there are the Talman Sweet and the Winesap, all productive sorts and unexcelled for this use as well as for market.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Locating the Pear Orchard.
A slightly descending slope is most favorable in order to precipitate drainage and the discharge of surplus surface water, but it is not essential that any particular point of the compass should be secured. Shelter from the rake of the wind is important. The pear is a companionable tree and will luxuriate when supported by other trees around it. In close garden culture a degree of humidity is preserved, and there is less evaporation from the foliage where the strong winds are broken, the growth will be more vigorous and healthy. There must, however, be sufficient air and sunlight to mature the wood and the fruit. If the site is high, it will be an advantage to plant an evergreen bent to the windward, both for the health of the trees and also to prevent the falling of the fruit during high winds. On the other hand, a low, cold and peaty position, subject to fogs and frosty nights, is objectionable.

A strong, retentive loam inclined to clay is a preferable soil.—Fruit Grower.

Ripening Cream.
A good way is to hold the cream at a temperature of sixty degrees for twelve to fourteen hours after the first taste of acid is apparent, and then judgment, formed from experience, will do the rest. The method for warming the cream for ripening is an art, but it will be necessary to keep the temperature of the room at about the temperature it is desired to keep the cream.

For a starter, some ripened cream or buttermilk from the previous churning is often used to "start" the ripening. A better starter is made by taking some skim milk from a healthy, fresh-milking cow, warm it up to 85 or 90 degrees, and hold it at that temperature till it becomes thick. Put into the cream from three to five per cent. of this starter, and if the cream is held at 60 to 65 degrees for twelve to fourteen hours it will be found sufficiently ripened.—Massachusetts Ploverman.

The Home Dairy.
If on every farm more attention is paid to the home dairy, a better product of butter will be turned out, and a greater yield per cow will be realized. The better the article the more sure the sale; and the larger the yield per cow the greater the net profit.

Never try to do dairy work with beef cattle. Never trust alone to the pasture to supply the food. Be sure to have necessary conveniences of the best kind for securing the full quantity of butter fat from the milk. Every home dairy should raise its choicest heifer calves, in order that the supply of good dairy cows may be kept up.

It will pay for the trouble and expense. Beside the ready sale at all seasons for good butter, the milk can be utilized in many ways, and the droppings in the barnyard will be valuable as a fertilizer. Build up the home dairy on a strong basis.

Oats Need Rich Soil.
The oat crop will make a fair success where other grains would fail. But it needs rich soil quite as much as any, and is especially benefited by phosphate fertilizers. The average yield is low, because the crop is generally put on the poorest soil on the farm. We have grown 90 bushels of oats per acre on a four-acre field planted the previous year with potatoes, and with 150 pounds of fertilizer drilled in with the oat seed in the spring.—Exchange.

Gleanings.
Top dress the garden with fine manure, and if not well drained, throwing up in ridges will facilitate early work in the spring.

Good cream rising can only be attained by keeping the milk sweet as long as possible and skimming off the cream while the milk is sweet.

All wagons for heavy loads should have four-inch tires. Good roads are impossible otherwise. Abate the road tax of those who use wide tires.

When all artificials have been tried, few or none are so reliable or available as barnyard manure, which is so much disregarded by many farmers.

Success in growing peaches demands frequent examinations in search of borers which are found just below the surface of the ground. We scratch them out with an old butcher knife.

NATURE'S BEST REMEDY.
Paine's Celery Compound Prevents Nervous Breakdown.

Spring has come. It is time for all persons to think seriously of their health. There is no reason why anyone should sit hands in lap, and submit to headaches, poor appetite, continual tired feeling or constipation. If every disheartened invalid will go right at getting well by using Paine's celery compound, that person will be astonished and delighted with the quickness with which this wonderful remedy is able to call a halt to wasting diseases, diseases of debility and a "run-down" condition.

Paine's celery compound does wonders in making people well. Here is what a woman, an ambitious and hard-working member of the legal profession in New York city, says of this great remedy:

220 4th Ave., New York.

While a student in the New York university law school and under great pressure from work and study, I was advised to take Paine's celery compound. I did so, and its beneficial results to one whose nerves are under the trial of severe mental effort, I am only too ready to assert. After taking three bottles I found that it produced quietness of nerves and induced sleep, very beneficial to my health. For those troubled with insomnia I can heartily recommend it as a harmless inducer of sleep on account of its quieting effect on the nerves. Yours very truly, (Signed.) Florence H. Dangerfield, Attorney and Counselor at Law.

Paine's celery compound, which makes the weak strong, has received testimonials from thousands of people who had almost despaired of ever again being in perfect health.

A Pretty Face

Tells a story of health. It is the reflection of strength in all the vital parts. A face is expressive of joy and mirth, caused by health, or of misery and suffering, caused by disease. The nerves that are irritable and tired cannot give brightness to the eye; blood that is sluggish cannot make the cheeks rosy; so ill health tells its story, too. But nature provides a cure for all such troubles.

Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt

Whence comes the joyous vital force? From electricity—animal magnetism. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt saturates the vital parts with its warming, vitalizing power, which gives new life and healthy blood to all parts of the body. It arouses the energy of youth and makes life a pleasure.

"I have received very much benefit from the use of your Belt. My health has been very much better this winter. I am relieved of that tired and worn-out feeling; also of the numbness of my hands and twitching of the eyelids. I am well pleased with the Belt, and would not do without one for a good deal more than it cost if I could get it. I shall always remember the Sanden Electric Co. with a grateful heart."—D. C. COYNER, Montezuma, Wash., March 22, 1897.

Men or women who are weak, read Dr. Sanden's book, "THREE CLASSES OF MEN." It is free, sealed from observation, by mail.
