WEATHER .- For the past twenty-five ears weather records have been made in Oregon, and this is the first year that rain has commenced to fall on August 30th and continued daily in the form of showers, as it has done this year. In 1884, at Portland, rain began on September 1st and continued to the 11th; in that year on the 1st, 2d, 6th and 7th there were only showers; the total for the entire time amounted to 2.88 inches, of which 1.86 inches fell on the 9th, 10th particulars of the shocking accident, Marion county, who has been slated by and 11th. In 1894 and 1895 the entire month of September was showery, but the total was only 1.32 and 1.16 inches. The past records show September, 1884, was similar to the present month, so far as it has gone. The total rainfall for the past week amounts to 1.66 inches at Portland and 0.39 of an inch at Roseburg; rain to a greater or less amount fell every day. The mean temperature for the week averaged 58 degrees, which is 9 degrees lower than it was the preceding week, and about 10 degrees lower than the mean for this period of the year. The maximum averaged 64 degrees, and the minimum 52 degrees; the highest during the week was 70 degrees, and the lowest 44 degrees. The atmosphere has been cleared of smoke, but the sunshine was greatly deficient.

SCHOOL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The apportionment of pupils between the Barclay and the Eastham school for the school year beginning on the 13th inst. will be as follows:

All pupils of the high school and grammer pupils of the eighth grade will attend at the Barclay school.

Of the other grammer grades and the primary grades, those pupils will attend at the Barc'ay school whose homes are pelow the bluff or north of a line extending from the head of the Seventh street steps along the middle of said street to J. Q. Adams street, thence along the middle of this street to Ninth street, thence along North street to Harrison street, thence northeastward along the middle of Harrison street to the district boundary.

Pupils belonging to either of the seven CROPS .- The weather since the first of lower grades whose homes are south of the divisional line described above will

> While this plan of apportionment will generally prevail yet, in order that the work of parallel grades in the two schools may be equalized, pupils will be transferred across this divisional line, as the best interest of the school may demand.

> This arrangement will seem a rep resentation of all grades at the Barclay school, and of the primary and all the grammar grades, except the eighth, at the Eastham school, and will enable all pupils, with few exceptions, belonging to either the seven lower grades to attend the nearer and more accessible

Parents and guardians are urged to have their children or wards enter school on next Monday or as soon thereafter as may be possible, and continue regular in attendance throughout the year as otherwise the best results can rarely be attained.

Pupils wishing to take examination for promotion to the eighth, the ninth or the tenth grade should report, with their lunches, at the Barclay school on next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

ing open the prunes.

There are two kinds of sarsaparilla: The best-and the rest. The trouble is they look alike. And when the rest dress like the best who's to tell them apart? Well, "the tree is known by its fruit." That's an old test and a safe one. And the taller the tree the deeper the root. That's another test. What's the root, -the record of these sarsaparillas? The one with the deepest root is Ayer's. The one with the richest fruit; that, too, is Ayer's. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a record of half a century of cures; a record of many medals and awardsculminating in the modal of the Chicago World's Fair, which, admitting Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best-shut its doors against the rest. That was greater honor than the medal, to be the only Sesmarilla admitted as na exhibit at the World's Fair. If you want to get the best sarsaparilla of your druggist, here's an infallfale rate: Ask for the best and you'll get Ayer's. Ask for Ayer's and you'll get the best.
