Cubans Willing to Purchase Their Independence.

WILL NOT ACCEPT AUTONOMY

Azcarraga Could Not Bluff the Queen -Premier Sagasta Says What Ife Will and Will Not Do.

New York, Oct. 5 .- The Herald prints a number of interviews with leading Cubans here on the situation in

Estrada Palma, representativve of the Cuban provisional government,

"The Cubans are more firmly determined than ever to push the fight until absolute independence of Cuba is ac-knowledged. I believe the Cubans are willing to pay a reasonable indemnity to Spain, provided she withdraw her troops from Cuba before the island is totally ruined."

Enrique Devarona said: "The only oractical solution of the Cuban problem is absolute independence."

Colonel F. Lopez de Queralta, formerly of the United States army, and a veteran of the 10 years' war in Cuba.

"To avoid further shedding of blood of innocent people I would, although painfully, sign and give my consent to a compensation to Spain for the sake of getting rid of the Spanish."

E. Trujillo, editor of El Porvena, said: "Cubans are fighting for absolute independence, and will accept no other solution."

Regarding the proposition for the purchase of Cuba from Spain, General Emilio Nunez, who has been in consultation with the junta leaders in New York, said:

"I cannot see how the plans for the freedom of Cuba on the basis of a guarantee by the United States of an indemnity of $200,000,000 in cash can be displeasing to any of the parties, except that the amount is greatly in excess of the true value of the relics left by Weyler. The United States could afford to back up the proposition, because it would have the revenue of Cuba to guarantee reimbursement, and would gain immediate improvements in its trade relations,"

SAGASTA'S POLICY.

Immediate Recall of Weyler and th Granting of Promised Reforms.

New York, Oct. 3 .- A dispatch to the World from Madrid says:

The World correspondent called today on Premier Sagasta, who said, in response to inquiries: "You ask me if the liberal party would assent to mediation by the United States, with a view to hastening the pacification of Cuba and inducing the rebels in arms and the exiles to accept autonomy. Why should we need mediation, when our intentions-long and often expressed by the liberal praty-aim at realizing all that America could suggest?

'No Spanish party, certainly not the liberals, could assent to foreign interference in our domestic affairs, or with our colonies. No government could question but the company will be able such interference. If America, as we section before the close of the present a thresher to thresh his grain, and firmly believe and hope, is disposed to be friendly with us, let her observe the rules of international law, and stop the flow of mortal and material aid, without which the insurgents could not last five months.

"We shall reverse the policy in Cuba, beginning, naturally, with the recall of Weyler. I informed the queen yesterday that the liberal party would accept the responsibility of office most willingly if her majesty honored the party with her confidence; that the liberal party had plans for all pending questions of the day in Spain, and certainly would grant to Cuba autonomy along the lines traced in the program of the Cuban autonomists themselves. I said so in my manifesto in June, and I have repeated the same promise during the government holidays. The liberal party is prepared to grant to Cuba all possible government, a broad tariff and every concession compatible with the inflexible defense of Spain's rule and sovereignty in the West Indies. We believe this will satisfy the majority of Cubans and we will act thus spontaneously."

Finally, the Thibetans arrested him by an act of treachery, sentenced him to death, and, after torturing him with hot irons, actually carried him to the execution grounds. At almost the last minute, the execution was stopped by the grand lama, who commuted the sentence to torture by the "streaching-log," a species of rack which greatly injured Mr. Landor's spine and limbs. After being chained for eight days, he was released. Mr. Landor has no fewer than 22 wounds as the result of his torture.

Schooner Orion Cut Down by the Ship

Astoria, Oct. 6 .- Shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon, just as she was completing one of the fastest trans-Pacific sailing trips on record, the big four-masted German ship Peru crashed into the little coasting schooner Orion, cutting her in two, and sending her to the bottom immeddately.

When the little vessel was struck by the big steel ship, the captain was thrown across the deck, badly bruised, and every one of his four men were knocked about and more or less seriously injured. They succeeded in grasping ropes of the German bark, and climbed aboard, and thus made their escape. Captain Nelson was loath to say who he thought was to blame for the collision. He avers that his schooner was on her course for Shoalwater bay. The weather was perfectly clear and the sea smooth. The accident occurred north of the lightship, some 12 or 15 miles off the mouth of the river.

The tug Relief was towing the German bark, and the captain declined to make a statement. The captain of the schooner laid his case before the British vice-consul here tonight, and the matter will be thoroughly inevstigated. The shipwrecked crew are now at a hotel in Astoria, without a cent of money or clothes other than what was on their backs at the time of the colli-

The Orion was en route from San Francisco for Willappa harbor in ballast, and at the time of the accident was on the starboard tack, steering by the wind. While the reticence of the men in charge of the vessel makes it difficult to get at the exact cause of the disaster, it is apparent from what little information they volunteer that there was a miscalculation as to the speed of the vessels, which prevented their having sea room until it was too late to avoid a collision.

The Peru being a heavy steel ship could not be much damaged by the encounter with the smaller wooden vessel, but she came out of the collision with her jibboon and bowsprit cap roary. missing. The Peru was on her way to Portland. The Orion was a small three-masted schooner, of 117 tons reg-

Spain was prepared to fight. as the Spanish navy is regarded equal in strength to the navy of the United

The train, the first section narrow-gauge, from over Marshall pass, was slowing down to take the siding at Colopaxi. While running at 10 miles an hour, a journal on the rear trucks of the first day coach broke. The car pitched over on its side and dragged with it all the cars behind, another coach, two sleepers and the company's paycar. Three tourist cars, the bag-gage-car and the engine, all ahead of the first coach, remained on the track.

The cars were all crowded with excursionists bound to the Festival of Mountain and Plain at Denver. There was little excitement and not much wreckage, as the train was running very slowly. Mrs. McIntyre was in a lower berth
