Not How High

But how low can we make the price, is the question we ask ourselves when marking our goods for sale. That's what makes ours an ever-panding business, it's a potent advertiser; it tells the story through the purse in thousands of homes, only to be retold in countless others by appreciative money savers.

MOLALLA.

Molalla slowly continues to improve notwithstanding hard times and the long looked for McKinley prosperity.

Frank Kayler is building a neat cottage on his lot in the Moody addition to our village. John Alexander is finishing his residence. W. P. Herman has moved to town and is occupying his new barn as a residence until he can build a house. The carpenters are at work on the old school house that now belongs to Mrs. Moody and are making a residence of the same; the Rev. Molloy will live in it. James King, our blacksmith, has added a new picket and board fence to his many improvements this summer. Looks as though there might be a wedding in that end of town some time soon.

Our school is progressing finely and is well attended.

Albert Engle is with us again after undergoing a very serious surgical operation recently at the Gladstone hospital. He speaks very highly of the attention that he received while there.

Fay Moody is home again after railroading while in the vacinity of Rainier. He dosen't seem to fancy that portion of the county.

There was some excitement here for awhile last Sunday morning. Some one in passing Mackrell's harness shop noticed that a window glass in each of his front windows was broken. Mr. Mackrell is away visiting his parents near Astoria and it was thought that burglars had been at work, but upon further investigation it was found that Luther Fox had carelessly placed his wheel in such a position that one of the handle bars went through the glass, while Uncle Sam No. 2 got frisky and accidently shied a rock through the other one.

Miss Mertie Eby has gone to Portland to have her eyes treated.

Mrs. O. W. Robbins was called to the home of her mother near Corvallis by the dangerous illness of her sister.

E. P. Carter has moved his family to Molalla and has gone to Phenix, Ariz., he is in hopes that the change of climate may benefit his health, which has been failing rapidly for the past year.

Levi Robbins has moved to town to spend the winter.

Uncle Jake Harless is still at work on his ledge in the vicinity of Ogle Creek. He is highly encouraged the way in is showing up so far. It is of a chalky formation and carries considerable free gold. Holt and Wheeler have moved from their ledge on Henline Creek to a ledge that they have located on Gold creek. It is in the vicinity of the old Foley mine that was located years ago. There is a smelter being erected on Gold creek near Holt and Wheeler's mine that will work all the ore that they will produce. They are preparing to spend the winter there. There was a party of some six or more passed through here recently to placer mine on the upper Molalla; they were outfitted by Mason Ehrman & Co. of Portland and went prepared to stay awhile. Russell and Pelkey are at work on their Ogle Creek mines doing assessment work.

Some of our Molalla boys have taken the Klondike fever but will not start until spring.

There has been several fine deer killed on the Molalla recently. Jinks McCown shot a large fat buck in the river a few days ago. Several bear have been seen around here this fall but only two have been killed so far.

Farmers are about through with their fall sowing of wheat in this region. A large acreage has been put in.

Old Father Dibble was dangerously ill when last heard from.

F. C. Perry is mourning the absence of his pet fox again. Uncle Billy's hounds failed to locate Mr. Fox this time so in the future he will visit hen roosts in style consistent with a leather collar and about a foot of dog chain.

Wisley Riggs, who lives in the vicinity of Macksburg, met with a painful accident while hunting in the mountains recently. He fired at a deer when his gun burst lacerating the inside of his left hand terribly, tearing the flesh from the inside of his hand and fingers, caused by overloading his cartridges with smokeless powder.

GARFIELD ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Phylander Davis from Clackamas were here last week visiting his brothers, William and J. J. Davis.

Mr. Elie Surface and his sister, Mrs. R. M. Stone, from Gales creek, are out on a short visit to see their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Surface. Their father is failing in health.

Henry Palmateer is hauling lumber for his new house.

Mr. Antrin and family is moving to Portland for the winter.

Mr. Hubbard is visiting the upper hatchery this week.

Mr. C. Krigbaum thinks he will have about 6000 pounds of prunes. He and Hass Tracy are hauling them to Portland.

Two young couples, one from Garfield and the other from Springwater, went to Oregon City one day last week in a great rush. It was generally supposed that they went to get the knot tied, but by some hook or crook they made a failure.

Mr. Ed Crawford had the misfortune to lose his dry house and woodshed by fire while drying fruit.

October 16th. XX.

This fine weather makes the farmers get in and rustle to get their fall plowing done and grain sowed.

Miss Cretis Lemon has returned home from Portland. She thinks there is no place like home.

Mr. Estuce Deardorff of Damascus was on the hills last Sunday to see his girl. It was a fine day for buggy riding.

Miss Sadie Surface has come home to stay a while. She has been working at Springwater for several months.

Edwin Burlingame and Wilber Wade were in the mountains last week hunting. Mr. Burlingame killed three bear.

October 18th. AMERICUS

CANEMAH.

Mrs E. J. Marshall was very sick last week but is better at present.

Mrs. Rakel, Mrs. Templeton and Mrs. Stokes were visiting Mrs. Winkle of the West Side last Thursday.

Mrs. Davis of Portland, mother of our former townsman, and grand daughter, were visiting friends here Saturday.

Mr. Harrisburger and family have moved from their residence to the newly finished dwelling on the hill.

Mr. Fradley and family have moved to Albany, where he will engage in the second-hand business.

The spelling school given last Friday evening at the literary hall was very interesting and instructive. The society is in good working order and will no doubt be successful in its future. The exercises for Friday, October 22d, will be a discussion on the subject, "Resolved, That the Pen is Mightier than the Sword." On Friday, October 29th, there will be given a free entertainment and all the Canemah people should attend for the program will be worth their time at least, and so give encouragement to the society.

CURRINSVILLE.

The acreage of wheat sown this fall will greatly exceed that of previous years.

The Currin boys and G. B. Linn drove to Troutdale last Monday 40 head of beef cattle, and sold them for 2¼ and 2½ cents per pound.

Miller brothers of Fall Creek, on the upper Clackamas, have located three gold and silver quartz claims, which they are sanguine will pay handsomely when properly developed.

There have been many prospectors in the Cascade mountains near here the past summer.

Mr S. C. Huffman and others have located a coal mine, which they think will be valuable when developed. They claim the vein is 16 inches thick, and of good coal. The mine is located on Eagle creek, about eight miles east of this place.

Probate Matters.

The will of the late N. O. Walden was filed for probate. The instrument is in the handwriting of the testator, and was executed August 19, 1895, E. G. Caufield and Herman K. Jones being the witnesses. Mr. Walden bequeathed all his estate, real, personal and mixed, to his wife, "to be used and disposed of as she shall deem for the best interest of herself and our children." Mrs. Walden, Geo. A. Harding, E. E Charman and Chas. H. Caufield are named as executors of the will without bond. In the petition for probate the estimated value of the estate is given at $20,000.
