HELD FOR THE ROBBERY.—Ed Kendall, a well-known North Portland crook, was arrested at Sheds last Friday to explain whether or not he had any hand in the Oregon City street-car robbery Sunday, Oct. 10. The police strongly suspect that Kendall was one of the robbers, and it will be held during a thorough investigation of the matter. A charge of burglary, the outgrowth of one of his frequent petty thefts, has been placed against him to head off any habeas corpus proceedings, and it was on this that he was arrested. A "pal" of Kendall, named Frazier, who is also wanted, has not yet been found.

Here's one on J. H. Walker: As is well known Mr. Walker makes frequent visits up the valley with his gun and dogs and always brings back a string of birds. Last week a boy came down on the train with some game and was asking for Mr. Walker, saying he always sold his birds to him when Mr. Walker was hunting up the valley.

Congregational Services.
There was a large audience at the Congregational church last Sabbath evening, filling the audience room and galleries, to listen to the harvest home program, which was a very pleasant and interesting one.
There will be the usual services at this church next Sabbath, at the evening service the pastor will present the first subject of the following series, especially to young people:
Oct. 24—"Your Pedigree; or Starting in Life."
Oct. 31—"How to Win; Elements of Success."
Nov. 7—"The Choice of an Occupation; Your Calling in Life."
Nov. 14—"Habits."
Nov. 21—"Character Building."
Nov. 28—"Young People Amusements."
Dec. 5—"Courtship, and the Choice of a Wife."
Dec. 12—"Courtship, and the Choice of a Husband."
Dec. 19—"Marriage and matrimony; or what Marriage Means."
All young people are especially invited to listen to the series.

Before furnishing your house call at Young's second-hand store and he will fit you out for less than one-quarter of what new goods would cost.
A gentleman went into Holman's to buy some wall paper for his parlor and looking through the many samples found some patterns that were fine, decided upon one. "What is the price of that paper?" "— cents per double roll." "I'm afraid that is too cheap." But when it was explained how and why it was sold so cheap, he took the paper and was highly pleased.

A Good School.—Attention is called to an advertisement, in another column, of the Holmes English and Business College, of Portland, Oregon. This institution has probably educated more young men and women for business, and found them employment, than all the schools of that kind in the Northwest. Miss Holmes, in addition to being assisted by an able corps of six teachers, gives her entire time to the up building of the school and everything that can add to the students advancement and comfort is provided. The school maintains six departments, namely: Three years course in English branches, a course in book-keeping, penmanship, shorthand, typewriting and telegraphy. The Holmes college is a Christian institution and has at heart not only the mental but the moral and the physical welfare of the students entrusted to its care. The principal has given much thought to the home life of students and is able to provide safe and comfortable rooms at a low cost. The past years of business depression has impressed upon the minds of all the necessity for practical education and never in the history of the country has the work of the thorough business college been so much appreciated as to-day.
