The Chicory Industry.

The chicory industry is becoming quite important in Nebraska. The roots can be grown on any soil suitable for sugar beets. In fact, the two crops require much the same treatment up to the time the roots are taken to the factory. The preparation of chicory as a substitute for coffee calls for the slicing and drying of the roots, to be followed by roasting and, later, granulation or grinding, according to the demands of the trade. There are about half a dozen factories for the final preparation of the root in Nebraska, the one at O'Neill being shown in the engraving.

Points on Breeding.

A man should breed with some definite purpose in view—should have an ideal in his mind, and constantly work toward it. Having grade Jersey now, in what respect is a change desired? The Guernsey and Jersey are very similar in most important particulars. Neither breed is noted for giving extra large amounts of milk, but rather for yielding milk of exceptional quality. So far as breed is concerned, we see nothing to be gained by changing from Jersey to Guernsey; but there may be a wide margin for choice as between individuals. Rather than breed these grade Jerseys to an indifferent and unsatisfactory Jersey bull, we would use a Guernsey, if one was offered, of better form and pedigree. For the same reason, we would not accept an inferior Guernsey, when a better Jersey could be had.

There have been some excellent cows of the Guernsey-Jersey cross, but this was not because of the cross-breeding, but because dam and sire were superior animals. Some people affect to think there is some hidden power or virtue in cross-breeding, and they are continually following after some will o' the wisp, phantasm or charm, in the delusive effort to get something for nothing. Cross-breeding is all right provided it is entered upon with a clear understanding of its limitations and purposes, but one must not expect to raise profitable cows from sires that have only a name to recommend them. There are a great many "scrubs" among the full-blooded animals in all breeds.—Hoard's Dairyman.

For Washing Vehicles.

The device shown in the cut will save much time and labor in washing wagons. A narrow, water-tight box of the shape shown in the illustration is slipped under the wheel when it has been "jacked" up. A pail of water is now poured in and the wheel revolved. The dirt can thus be removed quickly and much more easily than when a pail is used to hold the water. Once used, the benefits of this device will be very apparent.—Orange Judd Farmer.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 7c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Dorset Sheep.

One of the important advantages of the Dorset sheep is its prolificacy. The ewes quite generally farrow two lambs and have been known to drop triplets and raise them all. They are a very hardy sheep, well able to defend themselves, and even marauding dogs, who have regarded the sheep as their natural and easy prey, have often been obliged to desist when they find themselves confronted with the formidable horns with which both the bucks and ewes of this breed are armed. In localities where predatory dogs are the shepherd's scourge, the horned Dorsets are the sheep that will be most sure to give satisfaction.

Better Cows Need Better Care.

Many farmers think that if they only had the money to buy better cows they would then have no trouble in making money. But if the farmer's present stock is not constantly growing better it shows that it is as good as the care it gets. If he had cows that would yield much more than those he has now they would deteriorate until they reached his present standard. Care and feeding of the cow while bearing her young and persistent milking of her during this period, have as much to do with making the calf a good milker as has the animal's pedigree. Scrub treatment of stock soon reduces it to the condition of scrubs. On the other hand better care of the present stock will increase its capacity for producing milk and butter.

Step Ladders for Fruit Gathering.

Considering how easily step ladders are made, and their small cost, it is surprising that they are not more used in gathering fruit. The habit of climbing all through the tree, bruising and injuring its branches, is the direct cause of the numerous sap shoots that start out wherever a branch on the trunk is bruised. There was excuse in the olden time for training fruit trees high, so that cattle and horses when pasturing the orchard should not reach up and gather most of the fruit prematurely. But most of the orchards lately are trained with heads so low that a step ladder set under them, and one somewhat higher set against the outside of the tree, will enable the orchardist to gather his fruit more easily and safely than he could going through the trees according to the old fashion.

Golden Wax Beans.

The golden wax bean is very popular as a snap bean, though to our taste it has less of the characteristic bean flavor than have the snap beans that are green rather than golden in color. Their advantages as a snap bean consists, we suspect, in being less stringy than the more highly flavored green snap beans, and in keeping their tenderness until nearly the time of ripening. But when dried and shelled, the wax beans are really superior in quality, next to Lima beans in tenderness. The only objection to the bean is that when cooked it is dark colored. But this is really a small matter. It is, however, rather difficult to shell the wax bean. Its pod, even when ripened, continues to be thick and does not dry out readily. Hence it must usually be shelled by hand.—American Cultivator.

Brackets for Staging.

A year or so ago there was shown in these columns a cut of a wall bracket for a staging. An improvement is seen in the first illustration. An iron bolt passes through the back of the bracket, through an auger hole in the boarding of the wall, then through a bit of hard wood board and then through a nut, which, being screwed up on the inside, binds the bracket firmly to the wall on the inside. To save the bother of using a wrench, the nut can be made in one end of a curved bit of iron. This can be readily turned up with the hand. A set of these brackets can be put up in a few moments' time, and save all cutting and waste of boards, as in the old way of building a staging. In the second picture is seen a bracket for roof staging that tells its own story. It is adjustable to any pitch of roof, and has sharp iron points to keep it from slipping.—Farm and Home.

Feeding Salt to Cattle.

"It has been fully demonstrated," says Capt. C. Adams, manager of the Superior, Neb., Cattle Co., "that it is poor policy to feed cattle salt that you are trying to fatten for the market." Mr. Adams tried the experiment by actual tests. He put so many head in one field, and fed them freely of salt; and an equal number in another field, and gave no salt. The cattle without salt put on flesh more rapidly and were ready for market several days ahead of the other bunch which had been freely salted. After several tests, the cattle firm have decided not to feed salt lavishly, if any, in the future.

Planting Peach Pits.

It is a good plan to plant all peach pits when it is known that the fruit has been grown on trees free from yellows. If the peach is an extra good one, it may well be left to fruit on its own stock. Some kinds of peaches reproduce themselves for seed, and all kinds of this fruit are more likely to produce something nearly like themselves. If the native fruit proves to be worthless, a few buds inserted higher up after it has grown large enough to show what it is, will change it to whatever variety may be desired.

Farm Notes.

The period of cheapest growth is before the animal is matured. The best way to feed oats is in combination with other materials. An animal that is infested with vermin cannot be kept in a good condition. Arrange good shelter. Animals cannot thrive even with good feed when uncomfortably cold. One advantage with sheep is that they aid materially in keeping the pastures clean by eating down weeds. Clover hay and good wheat straw in equal parts with a little vetch bran make a ration equal to good timothy hay. Good farming is not only taking advantage of favorable circumstances, but also in overcoming adverse conditions. More or less linseed meal can be used to a good advantage with all classes of stock. It is not only nutritious but aids digestion and helps to regulate the bowels.—Farmers Union.

THE WORRY OF IT.

The world has come to know that the muscles have much to do with the health of the system, and the era of athletics has so much developed them that the whole man is a stronger being than in former years. But the worry of it all is that the muscles are of the flesh, fleshy. A little twist, or slip, or jerk—these happen in all work—and then a sprain. Sprains disable and are costly in time and money, but not if St. Jacobs Oil is used, for it cures surely and promptly and the worry of it is over.

A Sad Beginning.

He poised the bivalve on his fork, and then explained the reason: "This is," he said, with airy grace, "My first fun of the season." He smiled and gulped the bivalve down— Oh, wasn't he a mad man! He pranced, he choked, he kicked, he swore— His first fun was a bad un. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TO WOMEN FROM

Mrs. Joseph Peterson, Warren, Pa.
"I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement, and displacement of the womb. The doctor wanted me to take treatments, but I had just begun taking Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and my husband said I had better wait and see how much good that would do me. I was so sick when I began with her medicine, I could hardly be on my feet. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was dizzy. I could not walk around, and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything. I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me."
