"FAMOUS,"  Corner Morrison and Second Streets, Portland, Ore.

CHANGE OF BOUNDARIES.—County School Superintendent Starkweather has on file a petition signed by a majority of the voters of Marmot and Ames joint school districts, asking that all of sections 26, 27 and 34, lying north of Bull Run river, be included in the territory of the latter district. At present this territory is in the Marmot district, and the reasons given for the change is, that it is more convenient for the children to attend school at Ames. All petitions of this nature are required by the statutes to be kept in the county superintendent's office for a period of 10 days, and if no objections or remonstrance is made, the changes in the boundary lines are officially made. Changes can only be made in the boundary lines of school districts, when a petition is signed by a majority of the voters, who are residents of the districts interested, but the superintendent can form a new district in unorganized territory upon the petition of three voters.

IN A PECK OF TROUBLE.—Albert Schilling, who formerly conducted a saloon in this city, but for several months past has been carrying on business in the same line at the corner of First and Madison streets, Portland, is in a peck of trouble. He was arrested last Sunday morning on a charge of receiving stolen money. Two women, who reside in that vicinity, and were frequenters of Schilling's saloon, were arrested at the same time for relieving an East Side saloon-keeper of his money. They gave most of the money to Schilling, hence his arrest. Schilling was bound over to appear before the circuit court in the sum of $500, and his saloon license was revoked by the authorities. Mrs. Schilling and children passed through Oregon City Saturday on their way to New Era precinct to visit her parents.

LADY MINSTRELS' ENTERTAINMENT.—The Comical Coon Combination Company gave a splendid entertainment at Shively's opera house last Friday evening. The best musical talent in Oregon City was brought into requisition, and they were reinforced by star vocalists and artists from Portland. Mrs. Strickler deserves a special compliment for the success of her lady minstrel aggregation of well sustained characters. Some of Salem's best talent, also held prominent places on the program.

Grand clearance sale. Buy a hat at Miss Goldsmith's.

PUBLISHER'S BAD LUCK.—The publishers of the COURIER is having hard luck. During the past week someone stole a small duck that we were trying to fatten for our Christmas dinner, our pet rooster has disappeared and our winter stock of vegetables is getting low; but the worst of it all is the fact that the Semi-Weekly Spasm down is on us and we will not be able to loan its "best equipped office" (?) any more material or machinery to do its printing with. If some tender hearted delinquent subscriber will pay up or send us something to appease our hunger we will try and survive the mental anguish.

GLEE CLUB.—Corvallis Gazette says of University of Oregon Glee Club: "All were unanimous in expressing their appreciation of Mr. Nash's playing. It was faultless, and evidences of approbation from those present was marked. In fact, many who heard the young artist on former occasions maintain that he had never before played with so much feeling and expression. This was especially noticed and commented upon with reference to his encore selection, Chopin's g major Nocturn." They appear at Shively's opera house on Thursday the 30th. Chas. V. Galloway, son of Hon. Wm. Galloway, is an impersonator in this club and had made decided hit.

BEFORE JUSTICE SCHUEBEL.—Charles Seebe, a pedestrian tourist, secured admission to John Lewthwaite's residence on the West Side on Tuesday. He was considerably intoxicated, and seemed determined to make himself at home, in spite of the efforts of the ladies to get him to retire. A warrant was issued for his arrest on a charge of trespass, and Justice Schuebel fined him $25, in default of which amount he was sent to jail for 12 days. On the same day Minnie Starr, of Tualatin, brought suit against John Townsend for $39, alleged to be due for board and washing. After hearing the case the judge took the matter under advisement until Saturday.

ONE MORE.—Portland now has two morning newspapers and there are good reasons to believe a third is about to be established. It is said the new paper has Eastern capital in abundance behind it. Rumor connects Charley Meserve with the management. Those who are supposed to know all about it say the new paper will receive full press dispatches and espouse the cause of John H. Mitchell.—Salem Sentinel.
