TEACHERS CONGREGATE.

A Very Interesting Meeting Held At Canby Saturday.

There was a very good attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Clackamas County Teachers' Association, held at Canby last Saturday. Superintendent Starkweather presided, and Miss Fannie G. Porter, secretary, was in attendance. First on the program was a patriotic selection by the pupils of the Canby school, which was well received. Robert Coe favored the association with several selections on the violin, whil George Knight played several cornet solos. The efforts of both gentlemen were thoroughly appreciated.

Prof. P. L. Coleman, of Canby, presented "Spencerian Penmanship." Mr. Coleman is partial to the Spencerian method, and said that he believed that there was but one natural movement, and that was the finger movement. He illustrated his plan of instructing a class in penmanship in a very interesting way, and thought that children could be best taught how to write by means of the Spencerian system. His plan was to first develop the movement, and then teach the pupils how to execute it properly. County Superintendent H. S. Lyman, of Clatsop county, endorsed Mr. Coleman's ideas, while Prof. H. S. Strange, of Oregon City, advocated the vertical system, and thought it the best for poor writers. Other teachers, who took part in the discussion were Messrs. Young, Anson Ginther, Moore,, Hyatt and Miss Fannie Porter.

"More Civil Government in Our Schools," was the topic assigned Miss Estella Bracken, but as she was not present Superintendent Starkweather took up the subject, and said that this was a very necessary branch to be taught in our schools, and that every boy and girl should be able to tell all about their government. Profs. Gilbert and Strange, both made earnest appeals for more thorough education along this line. Supt. Lyman, also made some pertinent remarks on the subject.

A splendid dinner was served at the Canby hotel, by the enterprising business men of Canby.

At the beginning of the afternoon session, Superintendent Starkweather called Prof. Strange to the chair, while he presented "Teachers' Examinations." Supt. Starkweather said that he would not attempt to cover all the ground covered by this topic, but he was much dissatisfied with the present school law. He said that after a teacher passed an examination before the county board, they must pass an examination before the board of directors of a school district, which was the most important of all examinations. He seriously objected to the plan of Normal and other schools in this state issuing life diplomas as teachers, to graduates, who had never had any experience in teaching; that there were 43 educational institutions in the state of Oregon, who were authorized to issue life diplomas to their graduates to the detriment of other teachers, although he favored one good normal and training school in the state. Mr. Starkweather, also favored a uniform method of examinations all over the state. Prof. H. S. Strange said this matter was regulated by law and and that he wanted college education and college education endorsed, but spoke of the many impracticable questions sent out by boards of examiners. He believed that it would have been proper to have asked a committee of educators to draw up a series of school laws, but would leave the matter for future educational committees. Chas. Hansen, of Wilsonville, told in a humerous way of the injustice done experienced teachers by reason of so many teachers' diplomas being issued to college graduates. Miss Olive A. Luelling, of the West Oregon City school stated that she was a graduate of the Normal school at Monmouth, and with other teachers had worked her way through school by teaching, which gave them both theoretical and practical experience. And, besides the experience in the training school for a short time was worth three times to the teacher, the same period of experience in a country school. Mrs. Wilson of the Portland schools, who was educated in the East, was an ardent supporter of Normal schools, but thought one good institution in a state of that kind was enough. Shirley Buck favored a middle ground in the discussion.

Superintendent Lyman, of Clatsop county, who is also the Union candidate for superintendent of public instruction, made a very interesting short address, in which he complimented the work of Supt. Starkweather and the Clackamas County Teachers' Association in general. He told how Superintendent Starkweather had brought to successful issue a suit in Clackamas county, which raised the per cent of the school tax levy, and the result of this very suit had tended to raise the percentage of school taxes in other counties. He also favored better books than we now have.

George Knight, of Canby, made a very effective talk in favor of teaching civil government in the schools.

A vote of thanks was extended to the business men and citizens of Canby for the excellent entertainment.

The following teachers and members of the Association were present: Supt. Starkweather, Miss Fannie G. Porter, Robert Gunther, Fred Meindl, A. F. Knight, Corwin Fisher Canby; Shirley Buck, Elizabeth Illig, Hubbard; Hannah Peter, Aurora; Mrs. Matilda Frakes, Logan; Elgiva Mullan, Milwaukie; Olive A. Luelling, Nellie Younger, H. S. Gibson, H. S. Strange, Millard Hyatt, K. H. Gabbert, Oregon City; Ada Randall, Stone; Aletha Phelps, P. L. Coleman, Bertha Summer, L. L. Moore, Howard Eccles, James Kocker, Mrs. St. Helen, Robert Coe, Canby. Charles Hansen, Wilsonville, W. E. Young, New Era; Mrs. Wilson, Portland; J. K. Gilbert, Union Hall; Chas. Crittenden, Monte Cristo; Elsie Taylor, Marquam.

ENDEAVORERS MEET.

The Canby Christian Endeavor Convention a Success.

The first semi-annual convention of the Clackamas County Christian Endeavor Union, held at Canby last Saturday and Sunday, proved to be a very profitable and interesting gathering. The convention was held in the neat edifice of the Christian church, and the Canby people entertained the visiting delegation in a most hospitable way. The Friday evening session was a regular Endeavor prayer meeting conducted by William Bissell, of Canby. At this meeting a reception committee, consisting of Mrs. E. H. Carlton, Veba and Vesta Knight, Mabel Knight, Emma Evans, Grace Hampton and Esther Knight.

At the Saturday morning session Mrs. E. H. Carlton, of Canby, led the praise service. The address of welcome was made by William Bissell of Canby, and was responded to by George Randall, of New Era. These exercises were followed by President C. H. Bestow's address, and the secretary's and treasurer's reports and reports of committees and societies. The president's address and the various reports received, indicated that the societies were in a fairly prosperous condition. A short business session was held, and the matter of changing the time and place of holding the semi-annual and annual conventions was generally discussed. The delegates, who reside in the country, were opposed to holding conventions during seeding time as it made it almost impossible for them to attend. Dr. Butler gave notice that he would introduce a resolution at the next meeting to change the days of holding the conventions.

Although there was a pretty good attendance of people at the convention, but few of those on the program were present. During the afternoon Levi Johnson, general secretary of the Oregon City Y. M. C. A., made a most excellent talk on the faithfulness of C. E. officers and its effect. He said that oftentimes many young people could be induced to join the Endeavor society and the church if the matter was only mentioned to them. He pointed out many ways in which C. E. officers could accomplish much good by being faithful to their trust. On the whole, his short address was practical and interesting.

Miss Eunice Donaldson of Oregon City, presented the duties of the lookout committee in a way that showed her thorough appreciation of the subject. She made many valuable suggestions and hints that were listened to with close attention by the Endeavorers present.

In speaking of the duties of the social committee, Mrs. E. H. Carlton, thought that every member of the society should consider themselves members of the social committee, and thus do effective work in the cause. She also spoke of the important work that could be accomplished by this committee.

Other members took an active part in the discussions that came up, which intensified the interest of the convention.

Dr. T. W. Butler's lecture closed the work of the convention. He went over in a general way the work of the convention, and among other things said: "We are foolishly backward in the work we have espoused. Some young people will talk well anywhere else than at an Endeavor meeting. We need tact. While it will not do to talk to some people, others require a great deal of talking. There are four G's that make a church go: Grit, grace, gumption and gold, and a lack of go is a drawback to Endeavorers."

Mrs. Carlton of Canby, Miss Wise of Milwaukie and Miss Donaldson, of Oregon City, were appointed a committee on place of meeting.

A delegation from Wilsonville, who were delayed on the road, arrived in time for the very impressive consecration services.

Patriotic Church Services.

Special patriotic services were held at the M. E. church Sunday evening. Bouquets of choice flowers were tastily arranged in front of the pulpit stand and the platform and wall were decorated with flags and bunting, and the pastor, instead of the customary white choker, wore a necktie of red white and blue. Mrs. F. F. White presided at the organ, and the well trained choir discoursed excellent music. The members of Meade Post and the Women's Relief Corps were present in a body, and the house was crowded to its utmost capacity. Rev. Oberg, the pastor, said: Every age has its great periods, and read the following from the book of Isaiah: "Trust ye in the Lord forever; for in the Lord Jehoviah is everlasting strength. The way of the just is no righteous." Words fitting especially for the present.

Col. R. A. Miller, who was the first speaker said: Our native land tonight means more for us tonight than it has for many long years. Native land, ere words that are dear to the citizens of every clime. The speaker said: There are different kinds of patriotism; the patriotism of the savage and the patriotism of the civilized Christian. Our National honor rests on the National guard, who left our city Saturday, and our flag is safe in their hands. So long as error exists, so will war exist. He paid a compliment to the veterans sitting in the audience. After Col. Miller's address was concluded, Mrs. Oberg sang a patriotic solo which was well received.

George C. Brownell was the next speaker introduced. He said that this was the best country on the face of the globe, and was built on the lines of human justice to all people. Spain through all its history has never advanced one thought of liberty. Despotism cannot live in the face of the American flag. He spoke of the disaster that befel the Maine, and said we love our children, but there are times when we should take them up and spank them. We should take Spain up and spank her. For every drop of blood that is shed, the American flag goes up one notch higher. North and South America should be one great republic so said Henry Clay. The services closed by the congregation singing America.

Patriotic services were also held at the Baptist church, and the pastor, Rev. Rugg delivered a sermon on the necessity of war.
