Attention Woodmen.

W. are requested to meet at their hall on Sunday, June 5th at 1:30 o'clock from which place they will march to the cemetery where unveiling of monuments and decorating the graves of deceased members will take place. Henry Smathers came into Justice Schuebel's office Monday morning wearing splashes of blood on his face, and informed Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Porter that Fred Swing, his mother and sister tried to kill him while he was building fence that morning. He swore out a warrant for the arrest of Fred Swing on a charge of assault.

About a half hour afterward Mrs. Swing and her daughter, Ella, came into the justice's office, the latter carrying two gashes in her wrist, alleged to have been committed with an axe blade in the hands of Smathers. Fred Swing was arrested, and his hearing was set for June 10th. A warrant has also been issued for the arrest of Smathers. The Smathers and Swing families live on adjoining farms near Redland, and the proceedings are evidently the result of two neighbors being at outs.

Oregon City Will Celebrate.

A meeting of the various Fourth of July committees was held at the council chamber Tuesday evening. E. Koerner, chairman of the city council committee presided, and plans generally were discussed. The finance committee made a favorable report, and are confident that they will succeed in raising all the money needed. Two hundred dollars was appropriated for the committee on sports, and the other committees were requested to report to the committee on arrangements, the amount of money needed for their departments. On motion R. Koerner was made a member of the committee on arrangements, and after considerable discussion it was decided to have the parade begin the line of march on upper Main street, thence down Main street, then turn and go up Seventh street, and from there to the bank of the bluff on Fourth street, where the exercises will be held. The races and sports will probably be held on Main street in the afternoon. The meeting adjourned until next Wednesday evening.

Shepherd Boys' Cantata.

The musical event of recent date in Oregon City was the Cantata, "David the Shepherd Boy," given at the M. E. church in this city Wednesday evening by Prof. R. A. Heritage, of Salem, and about 50 prominent singers of Portland. Prof. Heritage and his talented chorus presented this splendid cantata at the Centenary M. E. church in Portland a few weeks ago to a crowded house. The Cantata was a beautiful representation of Oriental life, and the costumes and bearing of the actors vividly portrayed the scenes that existed during the early history of the Jewish kings. The eleven scenes were a revelation of panoramic views of Oriental life harmonized with frequent outbursts of melody. An excursion boat came up from Portland, bringing about 30 visitors, besides the members of the chorus. Almost every seat in the house was filled with interested auditors.

City Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held Wednesday night. Mayor Caulfield presided, and all the councilmen were present except Busch. The petition for the appointment of a night policeman on the hill was laid on the table. The usual gist of bills were allowed, and the recorder's monthly report showed that $208.67 had been collected for licenses, and three water commitments issued. The fire and water committee were authorized to have all the hydrants in the city readjusted so that the same wrench would fit all of them. Councilman Wilson called attention to the accumulation of trash under the suspension bridge. C. H. Caulfield was re-elected water commissioner for the term of three years. Councilman Latourette called attention to the fact that the municipality of Oregon City would soon have $2,000 of its share of the county road fund on hand. The mayor then stated that the Singer mill needed repairs, and a motion prevailed that the street committee examine the same and report upon the needed improvements. The Bestow road on the Abernethy, was also included in this motion. The council also appropriated $75 as prizes for the local firemen's tournament, to be held on the Fourth of July.
