A BIG FOURTH.

Everything in Readiness For a Grand Celebration.

Oregon City will have a roaring big Fourth of July, the like of which was never before seen in Clackamas county.

Flags will float in the breeze and the noise from Roake's cannon and the combustibles manipulated by small boys, will drown the roar of the falls on the stormiest day that ever existed.

The program in its complete details is not yet ready, but will be printed in a day or two and scattered broadcast.

The grand parade will take place at 10 a. m., the complete details of which are given below.

The literary exercises will take place in a picturesque location on the edge of the bluff overlooking the falls, and surrounded with delightful shady retreats amidst the moss-covered rocks.

Mayor Canfield will officiate as president of the day, Hon. W. H. Effinger will orate, Miss Myrtle Buchanan will read the Declaration of Independence, and a chorus of 50 voices under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Strickler, will make the woods ring.

At one p. m. the log-rolling contest and swimming races will take place in the river near the suspension bridge. At two p. m. the sports will begin on Main street—bicycle races, basket ball, and jumping contests. At 2:45 the 100-yard sprint, open race, also a 200-yard hurdle race, open.

At 3:30 p. m. the hose races begin, and later the firemen's 220-yard dash. The illumination of the falls and grand pyrotechnic display will take place in the evening.

The following teams will participate in the hose races and contest for the prizes:

Hose Company Co's Nos. 2 and 3—J. W. Jones, captain; W. B. Zumwalt, nozzle man; James K. Howell, C. M. Mason, J. W. Kern, Charles Ely, Frank Bullard, F. Curran, Chester Muir, John Albridge, Fred Williams, Jack Frost.

Fountain Hose Company—S. R. Green, captain; F. T. Rogers, L. M. Moore, A. Frohman, Chris Hartman, Smith, Al Cannon, Ernest Hickman, Cass Strickland, Adolph Willey, Luther Miller, Unknown.

Hook & Ladder Company—F. O. Brown, captain; William Nefzger, Joseph Beaulieu, Thomas Trembath, William Gregerson, Will Rhoades, George Brown, Ed Brown, Sherman Barford, Ed Reckner, Ross Spencer, Walter Neynure, Dell Hart.

FROM THE VOLUNTEERS.

On the Way to Manila—Oregon City Boys Well, and Treated Royally.

Scores of letters were received from the Oregon City volunteers en-route for Manila, dated at Honolulu, June 3rd and 4th, and arriving here Tuesday morning on the Southern Pacific overland from San Francisco. The letters were read and re-read with absorbing interest, then passed around and discussed. Near relatives and friends of the volunteers had waited patiently for direct news from the soldier boys, and was delighted to learn that they were all alive and well.

They expressed the highest appreciation of the way in which they were entertained at Honolulu; in fact, there was nothing left undone to make their brief sojourn in the Hawaiian islands pleasant. Several copies of the Hawaiian Advertiser was received here, giving exhaustive and glowing accounts of the festivities, celebrated on account of the visit of the Oregon boys. Almost the entire reading space of the paper was taken up with matters pertaining to the visiting soldiers, and the white paper was printed with red and blue ink.

Captain Pickens writes that the people of Honolulu were extremely anxious to be annexed to the United States, and consider themselves genuine Americans. Among other things in his letter, Captain Pickens said if any of the boys should be crippled or sick, he would at once telegraph the fact from Manila here.

Lee Harding speaks in the highest terms of praise of Captain Pickens and Lieutenant Huntley, and states that any improvement in the comfort of the men on board of the boat, can be traced directly to them.

Many interesting accounts and incidents of the ocean trip and the reception at Honolulu were written in the letters received here, which will be preserved and read in after years as a part of the history of the expedition to Manila.

Will Logus writes that he has been promoted from the private ranks to clerk of Company I, and appreciates the difference in quarters.

It will likely be a month before nay letters are received from Manila.

The victory rests with America's Greatest Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, when it comes to the battle against impure blood.

Off for the Seat of War.

Twelve more brave Clackamas county boys responded to the second call, and left for the seat of war Friday night. A large crowd gathered at the depot to see them off, and wish them God-speed. The Women's Relief Corps Auxiliary provided the boys with "Housewives" and other little things necessary for camp life in a tropical region. They were provided with splendid lunches, and loaded down with fragrant bouquets of the choicest flowers.

The girls did not importune them for brass buttons, as only one of them wore a uniform. It was the intention to outfit them at San Francisco. When the train pulled out cheer after cheer went up for the recruits who will join their comrades, who have gone before, at Manila.

Captain Kendall mustered the boys in Friday, after they had passed the physical examination made by Dr. Walker, of Portland. Out of 13 examined, only one failed to pass. Lieutenant Metzner had 19 names on his list, but only 13 were examined. Following is a list of the recruits, who went to San Francisco in charge Corporal Harry Empkins:

Charles Burns, Le Roy Case, William Bell, John A. Howland, Alonzo Amen, Thomas Wentworth, Charles Criswell, Frank Surryhine, Harry Empkins, Oregon City; John Huerth, Parkplace; Ara W. McLaughlin, Milwaukie; Robert Heiser, Damascus.

Lieutenant Metzner still has 45 men left to complete the organization of separate Company F.

Matrimonial.

Harris-Conn—Miss Edith May Conn of Astoria, and V. Harris, of Oregon City were married Wednesday, June 29, at Grace Episcopal church, Astoria.
