Westernization of the Japs.
Kioto, Japan, formerly regarded as the sacred city of the Mikado, is being thoroughly westernized, having adopted the overhead trolley and arc and incandescent lighting. The power for the operation of the street railway is supplied by the waters of Lake Biwa, which are utilized through the agency of extensive canals, the plant being one of the largest engineering projects completed by native engineers.

As to the Poppy.

And poppies! You must have poppies! They're just as much a necessity as corn flowers, but with this advantage: Corn flowers must be their own beautiful blue, while poppies—well, you make up your mind and then order your poppies to suit. A pale green poppy may not be warranted somniferous, but you don't court Morphine in your hat—no, not even in a five-dollar one!

Pretty good showing for the price, isn't it?

The word "hairbreadth," now used for an infinitesimal space, was once a regular measure. It was the width of 10 hairs laid side by side.

A PHILIPPINE HEROINE.

One of the Philippine insurgent leaders is a beautiful woman whose life seems to be charmed. She has often rushed bravely into the very teeth of death from guns and cannon, but has never been wounded. Frequently we see people in this country who live so long that their lives seem charmed also, but the only charm about it is that they keep up their strength and vitalize their blood with that celebrated remedy, Rosetter's Stomach Bitters.

The sound of a bell which can be heard 45,000 feet through the water can be heard through the air only 456 feet.

CONSULTING A WOMAN.

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Inspires Confidence and Hope.

Examination by a male physician is a hard trial to a delicately organized woman.

She puts it off as long as she dare, and is only driven to it by fear of cancer, polypos, or some dreadful ill.

Most frequently such a woman leaves a physician's office where she has undergone a critical examination with an impression, more or less, of discouragement.

This condition of the mind destroys the effect of advice; and she grows worse rather than better. In consulting Mrs. Pinkham no hesitation need be felt, the story is told to a woman and is wholly confidential. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. she offers sick women her advice without charge.

Her intimate knowledge of women's troubles makes her letter of advice a wellspring of hope, and her wide experience and skill point the way to health.

"I suffered with ovarian trouble for seven years, and no doctor knew what was the matter with me. I had spells which would last for two days or more. I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken seven bottles of it, and am entirely cured."—Mrs. JOHN FOREMAN, 26 N. Woodberry Ave., Baltimore, Md.

A SPANISH FIRE-EATER.

Remarkably Checked Career of Emilio Castelar, Revolutionist.

Emilio Castelar, who brought down upon his head the wrath of the Spanish Senate by his letter in which he blamed Queen Christina for Spain's troubles, is the republican leader in the politics of the peninsula. Like all revolutionists, Castelar has had his ups and downs, and knows no fear. When the home troubles came with the American war

SENOR CASTELAR.

Castelar patriotically refused to head 20,000 republicans who desired to take advantage of the foreign complication and overthrow the monarchy. Castelar is now 60 years old. He inherited his love of liberty from his father, who lived in England an exile under sentence of death for agitation, and who died destitute in 1830. The son was given a fine education and was for a time professor of philosophy in the University of Cadiz, the town of his birth and heart. He lost his place when he founded the newspaper La Democracia of Madrid. His conduct with this paper earned him the sentence of death, but he escaped to Switzerland and France. When Isabella II. was dethroned he returned to Spain and labored for a republic. Restored to his professorship he resigned in 1873. King Amadeo resigned in 1873 and Castelar became minister of foreign affairs of the republic, and later in the same year was the executive head of the republican government. Castelar has been in and out of cortes for years, and divides public attention with Sagasta. He is a learned man, and is supposed to be far ahead of his country in his ideas of modern statesmanship. Since the outbreak of the present war he has manifested bitter animosity toward this country, and with tongue and pen has made savage attacks upon the people and the government of the United States.

BUILT THE OREGON.

The Man Who Did It Famed Chiefly for His Integrity.

Irving M. Scott, the man who built the battle ship Oregon, is the head of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco. He is a native of Hebron Mills, Baltimore County, Md., and is 61 years old. His father was a Pennsylvania Quaker clergyman and his mother was a devout Quakeress—two facts which account for the soundness of the Oregon's boilers and her trustworthiness as a ship. Young Scott was educated at a public school in Baltimore and at Milton Academy. In 1854 he began the study of mechanical engineering, and in 1858 he went to San Francisco to be a draftsman for the Union Iron Works, then the property of Col. Peter Donohue. In 1862 Mr. Scott went into the manufacture of mining machinery and designed many machines that are still used in heavy and deep mining. Soon, however, he returned to the Union Iron Works and has been the guiding spirit of that great plant ever since. Mr. Scott not only made a success of heavy machinery building, but he interested himself in the social and political life of San Francisco, and has occupied many important public positions in the metropol of the coast. He has been a candidate for the State Senate, a member of the taxpayers' convention and a regent of the University of California. His wonderful success as a builder of battle ships has caused him to be called to St. Petersburg by the Government of the Czar, which wishes his advice about the building of big war ships for the Russian navy.

IRVING M. SCOTT.

Talking It Over.

Miss Macfall—I wouldn't marry a man who was less than 30 years old.

Miss Kittish—Ah, selfish to the last, I see.

Miss Macfall—What is there selfish about that?

Miss Kittish—Why, you wouldn't want, when you died of old age, to leave your husband in his prime and have a chance to get some young girl and be happy.

Fresh Flowers.

In Berlin the hospitals and almshouses are regularly supplied with sweet, fresh flowers plucked from the public gardens before they begin to fade, and twice a week each of the national schools receive over 100 specimens of four different kinds of plants for botanical demonstrations.

Age of Frogs.

The common pond frog's natural lifetime is twelve to fifteen days.

Out of evil comes good. The apple that Eve ate has given employment to thousands of tailors and dressmakers.

About two-thirds of the credit a man gets for doing things rightly belongs to others.

Taking time by the forelock causes lots of worry about things that never happen.

Modern Methods in the Old World.

The lighting of the tombs in the interior of the pyramids and the outlining of the tops of the pyramids with arc lamps has brought home to Western minds the fact that electricity is rapidly being adopted in the far Eastern countries. The Western Electrician in a recent issue states that electric lighting, especially for household purposes, is rapidly progressing in Egypt. It is offered at cheap rates, and is far preferable in the Egyptian climate to the very ordinary quality of gas supplied by the gas company at Cairo, which has been granted a concession to supply electric light. Only two trains on the government railway are at present equipped with electric lights, but other installations are proposed. The gas company mentioned has contracted to light all Cairo by electricity in lieu of gas, and it is confidently expected that Alexandria will soon adopt the same method.

Somewhat Fishy.

Wonderful are the tales of travelers, and the proof, remarks Youth's Companion, is generally ready for purposes of substantiation, if their truth is called in question.

A tourist who had returned from a trip to Seattle and Tacoma was describing to his Eastern friends the glories of that region, its marvelous climate, and the rapid strides its people are making in the arts and sciences of civilization. "I tell you," he said, "they are away ahead of you people here. Even the animals are more sprightly, and have more go-aheadiveness about them than the animals in this part of the country."

"I have heard," said a sarcastic listener, with a wink at the others, "that the fish out there can sing."

"Well, they do have a kind of Puget Sound about them," rejoined the traveler.

Dainty as a Dewy White Rose.
Another creamy white straw is as dainty as a new-born wild rose, with its soft folds of pink chiffon coyly hidden under roses chenille dotted black Brussels net. Pinky roses are next the hair, half hidden under the brim.

Bad Digestion, Bad Heart.

Poor digestion often causes irregularity of the heart's action. This irregularity may be mistaken for real, organic heart disease. The symptoms are much the same. There is however a vast difference between the two: organic heart disease is often incurable; apparent heart disease is curable if good digestion be restored.

A case in point is quoted from the New Era, of Greensburg, Ind. Mrs. Ellen Colson, Newport, Ind., a woman 43 years old, had suffered for four years with distressing stomach trouble. The cases generated by the indigestion pressed on the heart, and caused an irregularity of its action. She had much pain in her stomach and heart, and was subject to frequent and severe choking spells which were most severe at night. Doctors were tried in vain; the patient became worse, despondent, and feared impending death.

A Case of Heart Failure.

She was much frightened, but noticed that in intervals in which her stomach did not annoy her, her heart's action became normal. Reasoning correctly that her digestion was alone at fault she procured the proper medicine to treat that trouble and with immediate good results. Her appetite came back, the choking spells became less frequent and finally ceased. Her weight, which had been greatly reduced was restored and she now weighs more than for years. Her blood soon became pure and her cheeks rosy.

The case is of general interest because the disease is a very common one. That others may know the means of cure we give the name of the medicine used—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves.
