FROM MOLALLA.

An Interesting Batch of News-- Thousands of Fish Being Killed in the Molalla River with Giant Powder--Personals, etc.

Farmers are busy cutting grain. About all the fall wheat has been cut in this part of the country. Some threshing has been done, and wheat is not yielding as well as was expected. Both fall and spring grain has been damaged by aphids and a small white worm that worked in the joints of the grain.

The Shaver-Thomas Threshing Company started out this morning. Their first setting will be across the Molalla on Dickey prairie.

John Cole will start his new threshing outfit in a short time.

Herman brothers have moved their engines from the sawmill and will also commence threshing soon.

Bagby Bros., who recently purchased the sawmill from the Herman Bros., will put in a new stationary engine, and will be ready to begin making lumber in a short time.

The hydraulic that the Bagby Bros. put in to furnish water for their sawmill engine, works to perfection. They now have all the water they need.

Carl Bagby, who had his scalp badly lacerated by coming in contact with the circular saw, is rapidly improving and will be able to go to work in a short time.

A. J. Sawtell is busy harvesting his teazel crop.

Samuel Gregory is also harvesting his teazel crop.

Should the patent device that is to some extent taking the place of the teazel in the manufacture of woolen goods prove a success and the culture of teazles be discontinued, it will be a detriment to this community, as Mr. Sawtell and Mr. Gregory pay out hundreds of dollars each year to the people of this community to harvest and prepare the teazel for market.

Not long ago two boys from this place was over to the Molalla river, and hearing something that sounded to them like a blast they began to investigate and found a party of young men and boys that are well known here, but live across the river in the Dickey prairie neighborhood. In the river was dead fish floating, while others were seen dead in the bottom of the stream. There has been more or less blasting going on all summer along the Molalla river, but recently it has become a general thing. The river is lined for miles with dead and decaying fish, and unless the guilty parties cease operations along that line they will undoubtedly have a chance to either pay a fine or go to jail. You that are guilty take warning for their will be special game wardens along the river. This wholesale slaughter of our fish must be stopped. If only such fish could be killed by blasting that was wanted it would be different, but thousands of young fish, especially trout and white fish are killed, also lots of fine trout are killed and sink to the bottom and cannot be recovered.

Lucien Ogle is having a fine fruit drier built. C. I. Gipson is building it. Our mail carrier, Mr. Duffy, is having a house and barn built in Clifford addition to Molalla.

John Bagby who returned home recently, and others are preparing to go on a prospecting trip in the vicinity of Mount Jefferson. They go by the way of Table Rock, Hot Springs and Elk lake.

D. Wright and others start to the Hot Springs tomorrow.

Clifford, Eby and others have just returned from a camping trip in the vicinity of Pine creek. They report a fine time plenty of fish but no venison.

P. L. Coleman, who is to be the principal in our school this fall and winter, has moved his family here, and is occupying the McDonald property.

Millard Hiatt, Jack Confer and another gentlemen passed through here today en-route to the mountains on a prospecting trip.

Uncle Jake Harless is having a windmill put up. The tower is about finished and the mill men are now engaged in putting up the mill. When finished, it will make the town look some what windy, as F. C. Perry has just put the finishing touches on his wind mill just across the street from Mr. Harless' mill. The Harless mill is the larger of the two, being furnished with a three thousand gallon tank, while Perry's tank is only two thousand gallons capacity.

Marion Moore came out from Portland on his wheel last Saturday and visited home folks over Sunday.

N. P. Kayler was over from Woodburn recently. It is reported that he takes a camp stool with him now when he goes to see his best girl.

SERVING JAIL SENTENCE.

H. S. Adler Doing Time for Taking Clothing from Selling's Store.

H. S. Adler, a clothing salesman of good appearance, is now serving a 60 days' sentence in the county jail for deviating from that safe, straight and narrow path that leads on to an honorable career. A couple of weeks ago George Herron, the salesman in Selling's store, went to Newport, accompanied by his family, for a short vacation. Adler, who for a short time had clerked in the Moyer clothing store in Portland, was employed to work during Mr. Herron's absence. He secured a room at Mrs. Shaw's house, where Deputy Sheriff J. E. Jack, also rooms. Mr. Jack became suspicious of Shaw's actions, and kept a close watch on him, and on Monday discovered that Adler had 14 pairs of pants and other articles in his room. A warrant was issued for his arrest, and in the meantime Chief Burns and Sam Selling, with the authority of a search warrant, identified and recovered the clothing. Adler was arraigned before Justice Schuebel Tuesday morning and pleaded guilty, and on the recommendation of Deputy Prosecuting Attorney G. B. Dimick he was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. Had Mr. Selling been inclined to push matters, it is probable that Adler would have eventually landed in the penitentiary.

There is some doubt as to Adler being the offender's real name, as Sheriff Cooke has letters in his possession, taken from the former's pocket, postmarked at Tacoma, and addressed to D. C. Griffith, Oregon City. Had not Deputy Sheriff Jack brought matters to a focus Monday, Adler would have been safely out of the city by another day, as Mr. Herron returned from the seaside during the afternoon.

Circuit Court.

Judge McBride held an adjourned term of circuit court last Saturday, and the following cases were disposed of:

Helen B. Anderson vs S. B. Calliff, et al; judgment for $203.

Patum & Bowen vs. George Broughton, et al; demurrer to complaint overruled, and defendants last named are given 30 days to file answer.

A. W. Brown vs. Mand Rowler, a minor, and Yevia Brown, a minor, and Dan Lyons; S. D. Latourette appointed guardian ad litem.

W. F. Knight vs. G. W. Grace; ordered that defendant be permitted to file answer now offered.

Thomas Charman vs. W. B. Stafford; referred to W. S. U'Ren to take testimony.

Owen R. Owens vs. R. O. Thomas; stipulated that defendant have until August 10th to serve and file answer.

Alma M. Hackett asked for a decree of divorce from Erwin O. Hackett on the plea of cruel and inhuman treatment, and further asked for the custody of the minor child, Erwin Albert Hackett, alimony and a portion of the real estate held by plaintiff. The court made an order that plaintiff have the custody of the minor child until September 20th, when defendant shall have the custody of the same from that date until said suit is settled at the November term.

Both plaintiff and defendant are restrained from taking said minor child outside of the state. It was also further ordered that defendant pay into the county clerk's office the sum of $50 to be given to plaintiff.

The following sheriff's sales were confirmed: Helen B. Anderson vs. William R. Wade; Edward Lund vs. Mrs. Joe Wall.

The Wiser Way.

"How fresh and rosy you look, Nora," exclaimed Isabel, who had just returned from the beach, and was greeting friends.

"Yes, dear," replied Nora, "I am feeling splendidly, and mamma says I have an alarming appetite."

"Where in the world have you been since I saw you?"

"I have remained at home," replied Nora, "and have worked hard every day. But I have been taking that wonderful medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me, oh, so much good. You see I always like to feel well when I go away, and I leave for the mountains next week."

People who visit Wilhoit Springs complain of the poor condition in which the grounds are kept, the lack of conveniences that a few dollars would provide, and the poor arrangements about the springs. The proprietor does not seem to make any effort to make the visitors' stay there pleasant. An enterprising man in his place, and with the great attraction of the springs, would draw hundreds there every year, would not run the place like a farm, would have more liberality, and would be more accommodating to guests.—Canby Independent.

G. W. Mallatt, a prominent farmer of Mulino, was in Oregon City Monday, and reports that the fall wheat already threshed in that neighborhood is not yielding over 13 and 14 bushels to the acre. The green aphid had gotten in their deadly work, and extracted the succulent juices from the stalks. Mr. Mallatt, however, expresses the opinion that spring wheat will yield much better, as the late hot weather was death to the aphid. Oats give promise of a good yield.

Ex Sheriff G. W. Grace arrived home this week from St. Michaels, after being away from Oregon City about six weeks. Mr. Grace started to go to Dawson City by way of St. Michaels, but upon reaching there learned that it was extremely doubtful about getting up the river this season. In fact, none of the river boats would agree to take him there this year, so he gave up the idea of reaching Dawson City this year, and returned home. Mr. Grace says that river steamers built here and transported to the Yukon, are positively unfit for navigation when they reach St. Michaels.
