

Table Linens

Housekeepers often wonder, perhaps blame the laundry because their fine table linens melt into holes. The real cause is the manufacturer uses short fibre and resorts to artificial means for retting, bleaching, etc., because it is cheaper. We are aware of these facts from practical experience.

You take no chances when you purchase linens of us. We protect you in prices and quality.

The excursion of Prof. J. W. Harper's Dancing Academy last Thursday evening to this city was a very successful one. The Altona was well filled with a happy party of young people, who reached the hall shortly before 10 o'clock and danced until 12:30, when they left for Portland. As this trip was successful, Prof. Harper will repeat the excursion this Thursday evening and has again engaged Armory hall. The people of Oregon City are invited to join in the festivities of the occasion.

The Sunday Mercury says that John Schramm, of Oregon City, who was the first general grand master of the Sublime Order of Arabian Knights of the World, is to deliver an eulogy on the life of his personal friend, the late Karl von Bismarck, in the city by the falls, one evening next week in German and English, before the Triumphant Conclave of the Oregon City Knights. All the old members will be present. At the meeting Mr. Schramm is to be decorated with the iron cross, the emblem of the supreme degree of the order. John Giesch, of this city, is the only man in the United States who wears the cross. They were authorized by Bismarck and are conferred on one man every ten years for good behavior. The coming celebration will be no slouch of an affair.

R. D. Wilson and William Wright returned Friday from a two weeks hunting and fishing trip to Trout lake, near Mount Adams in Washington. They visited the lava caves in Klickitat county; also the ice caves four miles across the line in Skamania county. They explored the lava caves for a distance of half a mile, and brought home some specimens. The ice caves had no particular attraction this season, on account of the unusual warm winter and there were no fantastic or extensive ice displays in the caves. During a cold winter the water dripping from the roof of the cave to the floor, freezes and forms columns reaching to the ceiling. These remain intact until late in the summer season. They report excellent fishing, and made the trip from Trout lake to Oregon City in one day. Charles Moore, a former resident of this place, drove them from Trout lake to the Columbia river.

Bound Over for Stealing a Bicycle.

Last Thursday E. N. Rasmussen left his new Crescent bicycle in the Wilamette Falls railway depot for a couple of hours, and when he returned it was gone. About the time that the wheel was missing Ben Thompson, aged 18, was also conspicuous by his absence, but two little girls on the West Side had seen him riding a Crescent wheel. The officers watched and waited until Monday when it was ascertained that he was in the neighborhood. Officer Shaw saw him crossing the suspension bridge, and when he reached this end, commanded him to halt, but Thompson jumped over the banisters and down along the river bank. After a lively chase Shaw overtook him, and when he was arraigned before Justice Schuebel pleaded guilty to the charge, and told where the bicycle was hid about 300 yards from the depot. In fact, he had previously imparted this information to Officer Shaw after a little pumping. Thompson was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500, and is now confined in the county jail. When Thompson took the bicycle he went to the neighborhood of Forest Grove, where he has relatives living, and did not return until Monday morning. He lost the axle pin of the bicycle, and used a spike in its place for the last few miles, and had the tire punctured so badly, that it is a wonder that he reached his destination. Mr. Rasmussen says that his wheel is damaged to the extent of about $10.

Young Thompson was sent to the reform school about three years ago, but was discharged some time afterward.

Rev. W. H. Latourette, of Oakland, Calif., is visiting his brother, D. O. Latourette, having just returned from Alaska. He was sent there several months ago by the American Baptist Home Missionary Society to see what could be done there in the way of missionary work, with instructions to report at headquarters at New York. He established a mission at White pass, and has engaged Rev. J. O. Jordan, of Bakersfield, Calif., to take charge of it. Mr. Latourette states that George Rinearson is running a ferry boat on the lakes, and William Sagar is running a cigar store at the summit of White pass. Hank Mattson has been in very poor health for some time past, and will return to Oregon City soon.

Judge Ryan made an order that a citation be issued to the heirs of Peter A. Weiss, deceased, to show cause why the affairs of the estate should not be settled up. Judge A. L. Frazier, of Portland, and G. W. Swope are trustees of the estate, and are anxious to settle up the estate, and be discharged from their trust.

In the matter of the estate of the estate of I. J. McFarland, deceased, an order was made that, inasmuch as the value of said estate is less than $350, that the administrator's notice to creditors be posted in three public places for a period of four weeks.

L. Collett, a wood hauler, was fined $6 yesterday, for using abusive language, by Recorder Curry. He will have a hearing this morning on a charge of the larceny of two cords of wood from H. Straight.
