REASONS WHY

YOU SHOULD INSURE

IN

THE MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

On account of the benefits of the famous non-forfeiture law of Massachusetts which applies only to companies chartered by that state.

This law secures to the policy holder a definite contract of insurance. In case of the non-payment of any premium after the second year, whether such lapse of payment be intentional or accidental, the status of the insured with the company is fixed by this law without action or negotiation, hence forgetfulness will not result in the total loss of one's policy and the accumulations thereon.

In many instances the paid up value allowed by this law is more than the net cash paid for premiums, thus securing to the policy holder the ultimate return of every dollar paid for his insurance.

This law removes the objection so often raised against life insurance, that "once in it is hard to get out," as a withdrawal under its provisions does not necessitate a sacrifice of one's whole interest in his policy.

A Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Years ago W. P. Burns, father of Chief of Police Burns, resided in Oregon City and conducted a wagon shop. Afterward he was sheriff of Clackamas county for eight years, and later removed to Portland. The Sunday Oregonian gives the following account of the golden wedding:

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Burns, pioneers of 1852, was appropriately celebrated at their home, 187 Sixth street, Wednesday evening, by a party of relatives and intimate friends. A sumptuous wedding feast was served under the ministrations of a daughter, Mrs. Fuller, and a granddaughter, Mrs. W. O. Barnes, and then there were singing and playing in the parlor, and numerous letters of congratulation from distant relatives were read, and listened to with great interest. The rooms were tastefully decorated with smilax and cut flowers. A number of presents were bestowed on the honored couple.

William P. Burns and Millicent A. Conyers were married in Quincy, Ill., half a century ago by Rev. Horatio Foote, who long since passed to his reward. She was the daughter of William Conyers, once mayor, and an honored citizen of the town, and her husband was son of John Burns, another prominent citizen of the same city. Crossing the plains with an ox team, they located in Oregon City, where they lived many years, and then came to make their home in Portland. For 16 years Mr. Burns has been a popular mail agent between Portland and Astoria. The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Burns are Mrs. Laura Fuller, of Portland, and Charles E. Burns, of Oregon City.

Oregon City's New Bell.

The interesting spectacle of seeing a brass bell cast will be witnessed at the foundry of the Oregon brass works at 89 North First street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The bell to be cast is for the Oregon City fire department. It will measure 36 inches across the mouth, and weighs 1200 pounds exclusive of the hangers, which will weigh perhaps 300 pounds more. The mold is in readiness, and the metal will be put into the furnace early this afternoon.

Later—Owing to the fact that it takes about 2700 degrees of heat to melt copper and tin, the melting of the metal was commenced early in the morning, and the furnaces piled with coke, until nearly 9 o'clock in the evening, when the casting took place. The bell weighs about 1200 pounds, is 36-in. across the mouth, and is the largest bell ever cast in the northwest.—Evening Telegram.

It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

A Challenge.

As agents for a new stump-blasting, bank-blasting and mining powder (The California Vigorit Powder) we challenge the representatives of any powder company on earth at any time and place to test their powder against ours for strength, superiority and cheapness. This powder has been tested by Clackamas county and many individual citizens and is acknowledged to be 1/2 cheaper than any other powder. Its safety is one of the chief features of superiority.
