Weighing Things

The value of our groceries depends on three things: How much you get for your money; how good it is when you get it, and the price you pay for what you get. We have sugars that are cheap and sugars that are good. We have coffees that will satisfy the appetite and the pocketbook. Staple goods at less than staple prices. We give you money-saving health-saving chances.

Prof. T. J. Gary, principal of the West Oregon City school, began a session of night school yesterday evening in a room in the Willamette Falls Railway depot building. It starts out with about dozen pupils in the class, and others express a desire to attend. The branches taught are arithmetic, algebra, composition, rhetoric and literature. Several of the younger employes at the paper mills recently asked Prof. Gary to teach a night class. He informed them that if they would secure a room and make arrangements as to the class, that he would accept. The Portland General Electric Company donated the use of the room and lights, and several boys and girls have formed themselves into a class, the majority of them being employes of the paper mills and woolen mills.

George F. Gibbs brought suit in Justice Schuebel's court Thursday, to recover $125 damages from Max Schulpus. Gibbs claimed that he rented a farm from Schulpus in the Maple Lane district last November, but the latter changed his mind and did not let Gibbs have the place. As a consequence, he claimed damages for the delay and disappointment. Justice Schuebel gave Gibbs judgment for $50 and costs. G. W. Swope was the attorney for the plaintiff.

The Portland Evening Telegram in commenting on youthful marriages and divorces, makes mention of the following suit now occupying the attention of the divorce court in Portland: It is entitled Grace Holt against Edward Holt, a minor, 20 years old. Judge Cleland appointed as guardian of the young man, Rev. W. S. Holt, his father, to enable him to enter a defense, if he so desires. It is less than a year ago that young Mrs. Holt was attending school up the country. She became acquainted with young Holt. A mutual attachment sprang up between them and they eloped to Vancouver, Wash., where they were transported into the romantic realms of matrimony. Neither had seen anything of life, and perhaps it was their first experience in "baby love," of which they soon wearied. Hence this suit.

OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE OREGON CITY, ORE

A Few Words to Prospective Buyers
Of Upholstered Furniture

The first question dear lady you should ask after entering a shop is, who made this couch or lounge, what is it made of and can you guarantee the work?

Now, let us tell you, no dealer can do that unless the work is done under his own eyes; lounges and couches are made by contract in factories, and no manufacturer can guarantee piece work—Quite different with us dear lady, we will show you the lounge cover first, so you examine the quality, then we will show you the springs, wool, hair, or excelsior, as the case may be, and guarantee that either material is used for a certain piece of furniture you may select.....
