BETTER FINANCIAL TERMS

Proposed Surplus Acceptable to Spain

A PEACE DEADLOCK AT PARIS

The Commission Willing to Sign the Treaty of Peace

The attempt of the French government to mediate between the United States and Spain in the war of the Philippines ended in failure Saturday, and the situation appeared to be at a deadlock.

The French minister at Washington, Faure, returned to his own country yesterday after making an appeal to the Spanish government to discuss a treaty of peace. The minister explained that the French government wished to keep the war going as long as possible so as to be able to arrange a peace treaty which would be acceptable to the United States.

The Spanish government had already indicated its willingness to sign a treaty of peace, but the French government insisted that the treaty must be acceptable to the United States as well.

The French minister reported that the Spanish government had offered to evacuate the Philippines and pay a large indemnity to the United States. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to France as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States and France as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, and Spain as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, and Great Britain as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, and Italy as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, and Japan as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, and Russia as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, and Germany as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, and Austria as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, and Turkey as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, and Greece as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, and Puerto Rico as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and Guam as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Guam, and the Virgin Islands as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and the Straits of Magellan as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister also reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and the Straits of Magellan, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States as well. The French government had rejected this offer, and the Spanish government had indicated that it was willing to discuss a treaty of peace on its own terms.

The French minister further reported that the Spanish government had offered to pay a large indemnity to the United States, France, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey, Greece, and Turkey, and to give up the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and the Straits of Magellan, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philippines, Guam, and the Virgin Islands to the United States, and to cede the Philips...