Logan.

[Crowded out of last issue.] Died—William A. Frakes died at the home of his son, Marsh Frakes, at Logan, Or., at 6:16 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, Jan. 7, 1899, aged 74 years and 10 months.

The deceased was born in Harrison county, Indiana, March 7, 1824, and married Margaret M.
Marsh on May 1, 1864.

Mr. Frakes was an old Union soldier, having enlisted in Company B, 53d regiment, Indiana Volunteers, at Corydon, Harrison county, Indiana, on Feb. 20, 1862, and was mustered into the United States service Feb. 24, 1862, at Indianapolis for the field of action on March 16, 1862, and was mustered out at Louisville, Ky., July 21, 1865. Mr. Frakes was promoted to the rank of first sergeant June 1, 1865. He served three years and five months in the army.

He was died June 16, 1873. Mr. Frakes was the father of five children, three of whom survive him, viz: Hon. Philip A. Frakes, county commissioner of Columbia county, Oregon; Mrs.
Laura A. Flouray, Yamhill county, Oregon; and Marsh Frakes, of Logan, Or.

Mr. Frakes came to Oregon Sept. 17, 1874, and settled near Hillsboro, and later moved to Yamhill county. He was married to Louise Alper Jan. 6, 1887. His second marriage was of short duration, his wife dying April 20, 1887. He, accompanied by his son, Marsh, moved to Logan, Or., in October, 1888, where he lived until his death.

Mr. Frakes was a member of Harding Grange, P. O. No. 22, Logan. He possessed noble traits of character and was loved and respected by all who knew him. A large circle of friends mourn his death.

The remains of the deceased were laid to rest in Mountain View cemetery, Logan, last Tuesday morning. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. Frisco, pastor of the German church at this place. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the funeral service was well attended, which shows the respectability of a surviving community for the death of an upright man and citizen. He is gone, but not forgotten. W.

Garfield.

[Crowded out of last issue.] After so long a time, I am home again, so will try and catch up a few items in and around our field.

The most important item is the health of the community, and I am sorry to have to say that there are so many with colds and sore throats.
First on the list are the Misses Alice and Dollie Lenon, Mrs. and Manda Davis. Mrs. Annie Covey has been suffering very much the past two weeks with neuralgia in the head and face. Mrs.
J. P. Irvin has neuralgia in the head and face.
Miss Sadie Barnett has sore throat. J. T. Irvin and Elbert Surface are troubled with hives or some kind of nettle rash. They say it is powerful scorbuty, or at least they think so.

Frank Gill has gone to see his father, near Portland, and will be gone several weeks. Garfield people will miss him, as he was the main stay of the team. He was superintendent of the Sunday school, president of the Epworth League and took a great interest in the Debate and Literary Society. He leaves Miss Sadie Barnett to act as Sunday-school superintendent and president of the League. She will stop with Mrs. Irvin the rest of the winter, so that she will be close to the schoolhouse, so she says, but Mrs. Irvin has her teachers, so look out, boys; some of you might get caught with a Baronet.

The young people gave a dance at Mrs. W. W.
Davis' last Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Minnie Palmester, of Eastern Oregon, but owing to some cause or other she was called away that evening. Nevertheless, the young people gathered at the place, supper was served by Mrs.
Davis and all had a good time generally.

Last Monday evening, the 20th, a crowd of Garfielders gathered at the home of Mrs. J. P. Irvin, to bring her son, Alex's, birthday. The young man was not only surprised, but disappointed as well, as he intended going to Corvallis. So she had to wait for him till next time. We will tell his age, as there are several other bachelors, brothers, in the family.

Frank Irvin spent last Sunday at J. J. Davis'.
There seems to be a center of attraction at Mr.
Davis'. Which one is it, Frank, Miss Florence or Miss Mildred?

The Garfield Literary Society met New Year's evening, with a full house, and they had a good program—singing, music, essays, speeches, readings, etc., and wound up with a magnificent supper free to all. They watched the old year out, and then went home wishing every one a happy New Year. We regret not being able to attend, as they had such a good, sociable time.

Miss Pearl Palmester is still in Portland with her sister. She is missed very much by her young friends.

Conrad Kristianm came out to spend the holidays with his family. Johnnie Patterson and Arthur Perry came out with him. They intend returning to Salem soon.

Clark Fosberg, who came here last fall from Michigan, is very homesick.
There was some snow out this way, but it is going fast. Let it go. We old Oregonians like the rain best. A REPORTER.

Beaver Creek.

If any one wants to know the condition of the road from Beaver Creek postoffice to the plank road, just ask Sam Glesby.

Mrs. Grace Benell is quite sick. Dr. Powell is in attendance.

Miss Lydia Edwards spent a few days last week in Portland, but is now at home.

Some of the members of the Salvation Army, from Oregon City, held a meeting at the Welch church at this place last Monday evening. The meeting was enjoyed by all present.

The dance held at Floyd Kirk's a week ago was well enjoyed by the young people.

The pupils of Beaver Creek school have organized a literary society, which meets on the first and third Monday afternoons in each month. The officers are: President, Charles Forbes; Vice-president, Mervyn Longden; secretary, Joe Faber; censor, Mary Herman. This society has been running over a month and is in a flourishing condition.

Met Davis, who has been in Washington for some time past, is now at home.

Adam Herman, teacher of the Elwood school, spent last Saturday and Sunday with his parents.

The sad news reached here last Tuesday that Mr. Dick Davis died in Klondike on the 20th of November. The news was a severe shock to the community, as no one knew he had been sick.
He leaves a wife and five children, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

New Era.

The son (son) once more smiles on New Era.
In spite of the disagreeable weather, a good crowd of both young and old, great and small attended the entertainment given by the Literary Society in the school house Saturday, Jan. 14.
The entertainment opened with a song by the school, followed by a dumbbell drill by six girls and six boys; viz: The Misses Cora Wickham, Amelia Pulk, Olive Fredrich, Tillie Reff, Laura Newbury, Mabel Anthony, Wilbur Newberry, Oscar Burgoyne, James Wickham, Frank Fred-rich, Frank Iell and Carl Burgoyne. A recitation tha Siker, Miss Hattie Spink, Bert McArthur and Walter Meade. Song, "Take Back Your God," Nettie Burgoyne. Dialogue (comic), Frank Mc-Arthur and Walter Meade. Then came the selling of the pretty goods. Mr. Burgoyne was auctioneer and the baskets were soon sold, the Misses Newbury's selling the highest, after which the dancers soon retired to Anthony's parlour of their lunch and then danced until morning. The program was a grand success and was highly appreciated. About $25 was realized from the sale of baskets, coffee, lunch, etc., and was left in the hands of J. C. Newbury, who will go to Portland and purchase an organ for the school.

Miss Carrie Burzo yne's smiling face was seen dancing the crowd that assembled to have a good time Saturday evening. She returned to Portland Sunday.

Mrs. Reynolds has been quite sick, but is gradually improving. James Wickham, Frank Fred-
