COMMENTARIES.
Matters Concerning Local Every-day Affairs Noticed by the Courier-Herald Reporter.

March 3rd was the anniversary of a day of great importance not only to Oregon City, but the entire state. C. H. Walker, of Albany, informs the Democrat that it was the 50th anniversary of the laws of the United States over the Territory of Oregon. He says that General Joseph Lane, the first appointed governor of Oregon, arrived at Oregon City March 2nd, 1849. I was among the crowd that stood on the bank of the Willamette at Oregon City and saw Governor Lane step ashore from the barge that brought him up from Portland and heard him receive the congratulations of his fellow citizens. He addressed the people that evening, but I did not hear his speech. The next day he issued his proclamation thus giving Oregon one day under President Polk.

Albert Tozier, secretary of the Oregon Press Association, has returned from the east, where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of National Press Association, who met to make preparations for the annual convention to be held in Portland early in July. Mr. Tozier says that they will be here one day, and wanted to know if the people here could exhibit some big salmon at the falls to the visitors. Oregon City will receive visits from a thousand Eastern journalists, and preparations will be made to entertain the visitors.

Fraternal Notes.

Charles Holman, of Meadowbrook, Charles O. Albright and Lily Ship were initiated into McLaughlin Cabin No. 4, Native Sons of Oregon, Monday night. New members are being received almost every evening. The Woodmen anticipate a grand time when Head Quarters Rogues arrives here, which will be in a couple of weeks. One of the events will probably be a grand open meeting at Weiland's hall.

Reception to Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Bollinger.

The event of the week was the reception given in the parlors of the Congregational church Tuesday evening to Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Bollinger. The parlors were tastefully decorated with daffodils, Oregon grape and ferns. About 200 people were in attendance, and C. H. Dye was master of ceremonies. After a selection by a quartette, consisting of Mrs. E. E. Chapman, Mrs. W. B. Wiggins, Mrs. Ira Wishart and Miss Edith Wishart, Mrs. E. S. Bollinger gave the address of welcome. She referred to this as the old historic church—the first Congregational church west of the Rocky mountains, and paid a tribute to the late Dr. Atkinson. That while this was the first Congregational church planted west of the Rocky mountains, the Oregon City Methodist church was the first Protestant church established on the Pacific coast. Timely addresses of welcome were made by Rev. A. J. Moniquery, of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Harold Oberg, of the Methodist church, and Rev. W. H. Laourette, of the Baptist church. Rev. Laourette gave some reminiscences of his boyhood days here, when he attended Dr. Atkinson's services at the Congregational church and went to Sunday school in the little Baptist church down on the flat. Rev. Bollinger feelingly responded to the ceremonies of welcome, so heartily expressed. The musical program consisted of selections by the ladies' quartette, Mrs. E. E. Chapman, Mrs. W. B. Wiggins, Mrs. Ira Wishart, Miss Edith Wishart; and duet by Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Chapman. Miss Wishart presided at the organ.

School Election.

The annual school election last Monday was a very quiet event, and only 185 votes were polled in three wards. Charles O. Albright was elected director for three years by six majority over Dr. W. E. Carll, chairman of the board. The vote for director in the different wards was as follows:

First ward—Carll, 35; Albright, 30. Second ward—Albright, 38; Carll, 35. Third ward—Albright, 27; Carll, 20. Mrs. Sarah M. McCown was re-elected clerk without opposition.

An indication of the high standing of both candidates for director, was the evenly divided vote between Dr. Carll, whose three-year term expires this week has been a faithful member of the board, and an active promoter of school interests. He retires with well earned laurels. Mr. Albright, the new director, was born in Oregon City, and has been an active business man and taxpayer here for the past 22 years. Like his predecessor, he will take a practical, active interest in school affairs.

The board will hold a meeting tonight to canvass the vote, and attend to such other business as may be presented.

The morning after the annual meeting held last week, Mrs. McCown, the clerk, discovered a mis-laid sheet of the school census that fell under her desk. Its recovery made a difference of 40 in the number of children of school age. Instead of 1155 there will be 1195 people in Oregon City school district No. 62, who will draw their proportion of school money.
