He would furnish plank for several miles of road at a seasonable figure.

Mr. Editor, while talking of roads, would it not be a good idea for the county court to spend say two or three thousand dollars on such main road leading to Oregon City. For instance, the county went in debt for a new court house. We do not complain, but how much better would it be if we would go in debt the same amount for good roads so we could get to the court house all times of the year, and not only about lax paying time. The people out in this direction are ever willing to do their share. An sifort will be made to induce the court to give us three miles of plank road. The people to grade and lay down the blank, the court to furnish planks, spikes, etc. Please use your influence in that direction.

If the papers will take up the farmers' burden and the farmers come in three thousand strong, the court itself being farmers, I have no doubt but they would be willing to go in debt even a hundred thousand more and it wouldn't be to much, as the farmers would then get some benefit of their taxes. At the present time, if you ask a farmer why he pays taxes he after answers, so those fellows in the court house can have a soft snap, yes, softer than they ever struck in private life. I think it should be the farmers' deal now.

School Notes.

They are having busy times in the office of the county superintendent, as the work had accountated during the vacancy in the office. Mr. Bowland, the new superintendent begins active work last Saturday and is being ably assisted by the efficient deputy superintendent, Mrs. G. M. Strange. Quite a number of the official bonds of the new by elected school clerks did not have the required 50 cent revenue stamp. To properly adjust this matter County, Superintendent N. W. Bowland has sent out the following circular letter to the deliquent school clerks: "Your bond requires a 50 cent revenue stamp placed upon it before it can be filled in this office. You may send the stamp or the 50 cents to this office and the matter will be attended to at once. Said 50 cents may be deducted from the school fund of your district."

It is certainly unique conduct in modern journal-ism.

On March 3rd you admitted the fall's properties, if ur mills, woolen mills, pulp and paper mills, to be assessed at something like a fair estimate. In the issue of March 17th you say that all the fall's properties do not payone-tenth of their just share of taxation, and falsely charge me with cost cessedly admitting the same.

While admitting the increase in assessment on the woolen mills to be fair, you denounce Mr. Stout for the increese on the P. G. E. Co's properties, which was nearly eight times as much. You quote from my let er "some of u- know the opposits of this," and deitherately misconstruc-the sentence, apparently to east a sturon me, and

You quote from my let er "some of u- know the opposite of this," and deliberately misconstrue the sentence, apparently to east a surrow me, and you keep up the misrepres uitation in different articles. You say alleged les lers of the party, insisted that the assessment of the P.G. E. Co. should be one million, but Mr. Myers after careful consideration fairly and honestly fixed it at about half, $20,000.

In your 3rd editorial of this issue you say. "Let these men be made to shew their books to the end that the assessor may deal fairly with all without fear or fayor."

This is exactly how the assessment of the P.G. E. Co. was fixed. Their books were demanded and values determined according to the sworn statement of the officials, and information of which the deputy was not cognizant. This enabled the cours to decide secording to the best judgement what was a fair amount. And for doing this, just what you say should be done, indiscreet populats have howled at and hounded Mr. Stout from office. Such conduct is certainly queer, as you say, and makes the party look foolish.

Your articles are subject to much swere critic-

Your articles are subject to much severer criticism, but my object, next to defending the character of one whom to know is to esteem, is to show that with the best intentions, as you quote, hell is paved with them, we are all more or less inconsistent, even so critical a person as an editor, may unintentionally place himself and others in a false position.

unintentionally place himself and others in a lasts position.

With the tremendous issues at stake, invrlying the well-being if not the very life of the nation, we have "o time to bloker and quarrel on personal or minor matters, and the reform party cannot afford to be hypocritical with its elected standard bearers. Beform, if it ever comes, will be by the united force of these, as we all are imperfect specimens of humanity. The gold standard is compelling the farmers to sell his wheat and other produce at 48 cents on the dollar. Out of every thousand dollars worth he only gets $430. The worker is compelled to sell his labor at the same rates.

The worker is compelled to self his those as the same rates.

I wrote an argument a few weeks ago which might have set some of your readers to thicking and requiring. Let us rise to issues that are of overwhelming importance to us. This penny wise and pound foolish methodt of throwing away $570 out of every thousand dollars we earn, then quareling over the pennies is like trying to plug the bung-hols with the bettom of the barrel out.

Respectfully yours.

G. E. HARGEEAVES.
