Mulino.

Miss Sausbery, our new school teacher, met with quite an accident this morning. While curling her hair the hot iron in some manner slipped from her grasp and struck her eye, making a very painful wound. She went to the doctor in Oregon City, for treatment. It is thought she will lose the sight entirely.

The McCord sawmill started up this morning with a full crew. The old whistle sounds familiar again.

Preaching at the grange hall yesterday was well attended. Services by the Rev. Mr. Pigreen.

On Saturday, April 1, the Molalla road committee met at Payn's school house to hear the report of the sub-committee and Surveyor Smith's estimates of both the new and old routes. After considerable argument, with the best of feeling, a vote was taken and the old road route was adopted by a unanimous vote. The bills for surveying were presented and paid, leaving a balance of $4.50 which was donated to the survey of the Buckner creek route. A committee was appointed to receive subscription, and the whole committee will meet the county court on Friday, April 7th. The intention is to raise at least $2,500 in subscription work and with some help from the county, to finish the road through as far as Howard's mill this year. Frank Jagger headed the list of subscriptions with $100. The Oregon City delegation was tendered a vote of thanks for the interest they have taken in bringing the road question to a final settlement.

Prof. Ogle was a visitor in our burg again yesterday. Of course he came to go to church.

Will White, of Beaver creek, came to go to church too.

Apr. 3. Rex.

New Era.

The roads are in very bad condition—plenty of mud.

The singing-school Wednesday was all right, but I was sorry Miss N. was not there, for one young man was very down hearted.

Mrs. Rey and Miss Bertha Lykes made a trip to Oregon City Thursday.

Miss Amelia Spulak went to Portland Thursday to visit her aunt, Mrs. Wansmaker.

Some of our New Era young girls are very sorry that some of the promising young men did not help them make garden.

What's the matter with "Tempest and Sunshine?" Should like to hear from them.

Ed Spulak made a trip to the McKinsey on his wheel.

Mr. Shefchick made a flying trip to Oregon City on his vehicle the other day.

We had a very fine day, and Mr. Bogas thought it was the 4th of July. He decorated his wheel with smelts and went to Oregon City.

Some brakies like strawberries, and some like newburys.

Frank McArthur is going to have his hill graded. Jonah Penman is going to do the work.

Miss B. Wells was up visiting her mother on Sunday.

April 5. JACK FROST.

Elwood.

Elwood is still moving and people are busy putting in their crops.

Dr. Wallens, of Springwater, was in our burg this week extracting teeth; consequently one of our young men will keep close for about three months, then we expect him to appear again in society with a big grin on his face, not to expose gold filling, but a brand new set of teeth.

Henry Cadonan has gone to Oregon City to work.

Bert Henderson, who has been at Philomath going to school, is at home again. We are glad to see his smiling face among us once more and hate to see the time come when he enters college for the fall term, as he will be missed very much.

There was a spelling school at the school house Thursday night.

Rev. John Lewis will preach Sunday, at 11 o'clock.

Mat Kandle has rented Mr. Scott's place.

Seymore Lankins, of Oregon City, was out to see his folks one day last week.

Mar. 31. Sallie Vate.

April 3. SWEET MARIE

Stafford.

Monday, the 27th, about 7 p. m., a flame was seen issuing from the peak of H. E. Hayes' residence. It shot straight up 20 feet at least. Upon a closer look, it was ascertained that his immense fire-place chimney was burning out. When it was seen that there was no real danger the beautiful scene presented was enjoyed by those who saw it.

The local merchant has made considerable addition to his store furniture. We have been informed that he has purchased the entire stock of a grocery store in Portland.

Theofeld Reichle has begun work on G. Reutter's barn. The heavy timbers are being hewn out on Mrs. Schiewe's ten-acre tract. C. W. Larson is helping do the scoring.

George Biehle has been working for Mrs. Schiewe.

Fresh apples are scarce. But few farmers have any yet on hand. Now is the time they are considered a luxury.

Some early potatoes have been planted.

Spuds are $1.60 to $1.80, and cellars and pits are getting quite a thorough cleaning up. But few are holding for higher prices.

Miss Anna Weissenborn is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Walters, at Glencoe.

John DeNeui has license tag No. 17 on his bike.

April 1 was showery.

Good Friday was a pleasant day until 5 p. m. Then some light showers began to fall and the prettiest rainbows of the season presented themselves.

Gage Bros. have a new violin case.

Glen Howard was out from Oregon City Saturday.

Toothache seems to be the prevailing malady at present.

Elwood Sloan, wife and five children were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Gage Easter Sunday. They were on their way from Emma to Viento, where he has a steady job hauling sawlogs. They report the roads over the coast range in a dreadful condition for travel.

Mrs. O. Z. Holton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gage, is making her parents a visit. Mrs. Holton's home is on the sound.

Graeme.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Baker, a pioneer of 1852, died at the home of her son, A. Baker, Tuesday, March 28, at 8 a. m. Her death was due to heart disease from which she had suffered nearly two years. She was 75 years, 3 months and 18 days of age, and was born in Missouri, Dec. 10, 1823. She was married to Endymian Baker, Dec. 21, 1837, and crossed the plains to Oregon with an ox-team in 1852 and settled on a donation land claim near Pleasant Hill, which was her home ever after. She was the mother of 10 children of whom 7 are now living, namely: Alison Baker, Edward Baker, Graeme, Or; Mrs. Emma Derebery, Keasy, Or; Mrs. S. J. France, Portland, Or; Mrs. Eliza Eymann, Sherwood, Or; Mrs. Tennessee Bonney, Hubbard, Ore; Mrs. Laura Whitmyer, Preobstal, Wash., all of whom were at her funeral but Mrs. Emma Derebery. The funeral took place Thursday, Mar. 30, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. But few of the early pioneers were present, as she was among the last to pass away.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were conveyed to Pleasant Hill cemetery and placed by the side of her husband, E. Baker, who died Oct., 4th 1885.

Dearest mother, thou has left us, And your loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God who hath bereft us, He can all our trouble heal.

Clackamas.

Our vice-president, Mrs. Prettyman, called our W. C. T. U. to order, and nine responded to roll call and three new members joined.

Mr. Woodmansee, wife and daughter, from Kansas, have bought the Lawrence place and are pleased with Oregon.

We have a photo artist in Clackamas, Mr. W. Chapman, who is doing quite good work.

We hope more of our people will take an interest in our traveling library. As some one has said, "it's not the length of the pants, but the length of the head, that makes the man."

Mrs. Theissen and daughter, Dora, were calling on their friends last week.

The M. E. Sunday-school gave as a souvenir to each of the scholars a book or an Easter card, and each of the teachers of the smaller classes gave eggs, made in different designs.

Mr. Prettyman has had an attack of the grip.

Rev. Butler delivered an Easter sermon in the evening at the Congregational church.

Now is the time, while it's raining, to straighten up around the barn and wood shed, so that when people pass by they won't know but what an Easterner lives there.

The sewing fee will meet at Mrs. Ambler's, and "The New Woman" will be our subject.

Some of our folks report it very cold in Eastern Oregon. ROSE HILL, April 3.

Mountain View.

Frank Curran made his mother a present of a fine new piano this week. Miss Pearl is quite delighted with the present.

Mr. Savage and family moved into their new house this week. They keep their horses and cow in Mrs. Jane Curran's barn.

Mrs. Good, of Salem, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. Smalley.

Uhlia Lee Schuebel is attending a kindergarten school at Shively's, taught by Miss Peabody, of this burg.

W. Hall has quit working in the pulp mill and has bought a half interest in the meat market on Seventh and J. Q. Adams streets.

This nice weather makes the people busy planting garden truck.

A great many fruit trees are in full bloom, and if frost discontinues we bid fair to have an abundance of fruit this year. SALINA, April 5.

Redland.

Farmers are all pushing their work owing to wet weather. There is quite a large acreage to sow yet.

Whooping cough has been on the list for some time past, but all are getting better.

Elias Mosher died at his residence March 31. Mr. Mosher had not been sick but a short time. He was first taken down with the la grippe which caused apoplexy. Mr. Mosher had been a resident for nearly 20 years on a farm joining Mr. Sprague's. He leaves a wife, five sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. He was buried at Redland cemetery, Sunday, at 2 p. m.

Several of our people attended the funeral of Mrs. Kennedy the 30th inst. Mrs. Kennedy had been a former resident in this community for a long time and made many friends. She leaves two sons and three daughters to mourn her loss.

Tinnersett & Munson's mill is turning out an A 1 article of lumber.

Mrs. Josie Kutch, who has been keeping house for her father here for the past two or three years, recently went to Eastern Oregon to make her future home. Her friends here wish her prosperity, health and contentment.

Dhuk Force, the lessee of the Rees farm, has returned from Molalla, where he has been working since last October, and is busy plowing.

Mr. D. Robison has just received from Washington a thoroughbred Poland-China boar that is a splendid specimen of the swine family.

Homer Trullinger, who is visiting his father, Jasper Trullinger, of this town, expects to start in a few days to the Blue mountains, where he and Clay Myers, well known to early settlers in this county, are interested in mining.

School begins tomorrow at the West Canyon Creek Academy, with Professor Casper, of Clarks, at the blackboard.

Rev. J. H. Comer entertained a fair-sized congregation with a good, logical sermon last Sunday at the Wright church. He will preach at the same place next Sunday, April 9, at 11 a. m. Come out, reader, and encourage home industry.

A goodly number of our people here are doing their trading with J. Corbett, the Colton Merchant. Mr. Corbett sells his goods at Oregon City prices, even on nails, is obliging and courteous to his numerous patrons and deserves a fair share of the trade of this end of the county.

We gladly welcome the COURIER-HERALD in its new home-spun dress. We challenge comparison of it with any county paper in Oregon.

We call attention to this paper's weekly market report. Don't see any stereotyped ear marks about it. Do you?

If you are a devotee at the shrine of political and social reform, show this paper to your neighbor who does not receive it weekly, call his attention to its merits and ask him to subscribe.

April 2. Nix.

Oswego.

Special Easter services were held at the M. E. church Sunday.

Mrs. A. King Wilson, of Portland, has been visiting Mrs. J. B. Heminger.

The "April fool" party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Evans Saturday night was an unique but very enjoyable affair. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gray and the Misses Gerlie and Laura Evans were the originators of the party.

Bolton.

Monday will long be remembered by the citizens of Bolton, the event being the marriage of one of our most popular young ladies, Miss Martha Cramer, to Henry Holzmeyer, of Dundee, Yamhill county. The wedding took place at the home of the bride at 3:30. The Rev. Mr. Mack, of Oregon City, tied the knot in grand style in the presence of 76 invited guests. Henry Cramer acted as best man and Miss Lena Barner, of Oregon City, as bride's maid. The bride looked very pretty, dressed in white with delicate trimmings. Mr. and Mrs. Cramer certainly know how to give their friends a good time. There was everything you wish to eat and plenty to wash it down with. This is the first marriage in the new town of Bolton, but 50 years ago the writer's mother was married on the same property, then owned by her father. Mr. and Mrs. Holzmeyer left the following day for their new home.

Edward Johnson, Sr., and his son, Thomas, were given a joint surprise party on their birthday by their many friends. Mr. Johnson was 59 and his son 20. Many songs were rendered by Messrs. Johnston, Huffman, Doty and Konkle, who were his comrades in arms during our late civil war. The young people played games and had a jolly time, after which a splendid lunch was served.

The joint debate that was to have taken place last Saturday night at Pope's hall between the Y. M. C. A. team, of Oregon City, and the Bolton Literary Society's team will take place at Pope's hall next Saturday night. Come. JULIA.

April 5.

Those intending to plant tomatoes for field crop should send to Street, Clackamas, for his low figures.

Carus.

There was a road meeting at Paine's school house on Saturday, the 4th, to listen to the report of the committee on survey which was read and adopted.

Said report was a detailed account or estimate of the work and expense of grading both the old and new route, and after considerable indecision, as the committees were pretty evenly divided, two favoring the old route and two the new, and after taking into account the cost of forcing the new route through those farms where there was a protest, it was decided to take the old route as improved by the survey. Harver Cross at this juncture made a nice little talk that captured all hands. He said that Oregon City was disposed to do a whole lot for the roads if they could get anything definite as a result. That they didn't propose to help build the road one half mile or one mile farther, and get no good as the result, but if the space between the end of the plank road and the good road on the Molalla bottom could be connected Oregon City would do its share. He gave it as his opinion that $2,500 should be raised by the citizens who are interested in the road, and he pledged Oregon City for $600 hard cash as their part of it, the balance to be raised outside along the road. Frank Jagger gave his pledge for $100. Committee were to be set to work at once to raise the balance, and the coming Friday was the day set for all the committees to meet in a body in Oregon City and go before the county court, pledging themselves to raise $2,500, and asking of that honorable body their assistance to complete the road from the end of the plank to the good road at Howard's mill. It cheers one to see how nobly those committees took up the farmers' burden. This is most encouraging. This is as it should be. The farmers should take up their own burdens and not wait for others to do it for them.

I was diverted at the close of this road meeting, and what I shall relate shows so plainly that the farmers expect some one else to take up their burdens: One of the Oregon City committee remarked that it was the hearty wish of Oregon City to have good roads leading to it so as to draw all the trade in that direction possible—a very commendable wish, every one will say—but the Mulino committee had a member that has been prominent as a chawer of the rag, and at the remark of this Oregon City man, he drew himself up to his full height, which is not very high; he cut the air a time or two with his horny hands, his eyes snapped, he shifted his tobacco from one cheek to the other, and in most strident tones he said, "By G—! Oregon City don't know how to treat the farmer right when he does come with his produce." What does such a one expect the town people to do when they come with their produce? Does he expect that the business man will be waiting on the street for the farmer, and when he comes along take him by the arm, walk him up and down the street, and cry out like an auctioneer: "Ho! ve business men attention! Here is one of those spring chickens that grow only in the country; he is too stupid to set the price on the product of his own labor and we business men must see to it that he gets the very highest price it is possible to pay him for it. It is evident from his actions that he has suffered from softening of the grain, as he always allows us to set the price on the product of his labor." Can you blame the business man for taking in such a spring chicken? I can't.

I promised in my last communication to tell you how the other fellow protects himself. It is by placing the price on the product of his own labor. I hope to be able to give you my idea more fully on another time. Take up the farmer's burden.
