Paint Talks

(No. 2)

I have in mind a house built seven or eight years ago and painted with two coats of Masury's Liquid Paint, about two years later a house was built on the adjoining lot and painted with White Lead and Oil bought in Portland—Oregon City merchants didn't have even a chance to give figures on this material. To-day if I were to point out those two houses to you (and I would be glad to do so at any time) you would probably insist that the house on which Masury's paint was used could not have been painted over three or four years ago and that the Lead and Oil house not less than ten years ago.

The lead and oil man could have easily saved money by paying me double the amount he did the Portland merchant, but "if he had only known" I could have sold him Good material at the same price he paid for poor.
