The body of the deceased was buried near Silverton Monday afternoon, where the funeral services were held.

About 30 Christian Endeavorers and members of the various churches attended the state Christian Endeavor convention in Portland during the past week. They speak in commendatory terms of the convention, and are proud of the fact that Oregon City secured the president, Rev. A. J. Montgomery. An excellent picture and sketch was printed in last Sunday's Oregonian. The only complaint made by the delegates was that there were too few Endeavorers on the program.

Last Friday night the south-bound Southern Pacific overland train collided with the rear section of an extra freight train on the road-crossing at the Abernethy, seriously damaging the passenger locomotive, and wrecking the caboose, two flat cars and two box cars, one loaded with knock-down berry boxes, and the other with shingles, which were saved. However, about half the berry boxes were lost by being carried away and scattered broadcast over the city. The freight train, which was not over a half hour ahead of the passenger was unable to pull up the long trestle in the city limits, and the rear section was left behind. The brakes did not work properly, and it started down grade with the result above stated.

Closing Exercises of Our Public Schools.

On Thursday evening, June 8, at Shiveley's hall, one hundred pupils of the Oregon City public schools, in costume, will present the cantata, "Culprit Fay."

The character of this cantata and the effort that is being made by all participating to present an entertainment of high merit should insure for it a very liberal patronage. The entire net proceeds will be used as a library fund.

General admission 25c. Reserved seats 35c. Tickets will be on sale at the postoffice.

School Picnic.

The scholars and friends of school district 54 had a very enjoyable time at the grounds and residence of Mrs. M. E. Stevens on Friday last. The children formed in line at the school house and marched to the ground, arriving at the hour of noon. About sixty of the neighbors were assembled to welcome them, and a bountiful repast awaited them. Before lunch one of the residents, representing the wishes and sentiments of the district, presented the retiring teacher, Mr. Howard Eccles, a beautiful scarf-pin as a token of their very favorable opinion of his work and the very able manner in which he has conducted his charge since assuming the school duties in the district. The teacher responded to the presentation in a short, pointed speech, and having disposed of the sentimental part of the program the children and guests fell to and soon disposed of the solid portion of the entertainment.

Though the day was not the finest, all things considered, the affair is one long to be remembered.

The school has had a full attendance, much interest being manifested, and Mr. Eckles is to be congratulated on his efforts, being in every way successful, and he can carry with him the thanks and appreciation of the district without reservation. Before breaking up, the whole party, pupils and friends, were photographed by Canby's popular artist, Frank Zollner, in the grove adjoining the house.
