Funeral of Miss Olive A. Luelling.

There was a large attendance at the funeral of the late Miss Olive A. Luelling, who died Friday, aged 27. The services were held at the Presbyterian church, Rev. A. J. Montgomery preaching a very impressive funeral discourse. The floral offerings were elaborate and tasty. The pall-bearers were Professors J. C. Zinser, J. W. Gray, T. J. Gary, O. H. Byland, and Chester Muir and Howard Brownell. The interment was made in the family burying lot in the Milwaukie cemetery. Miss Luelling was the daughter of Deputy County Treasurer Alfred Luelling, and was one of the most capable and popular teachers in the public schools here. She was a graduate of the Monmouth state normal school. Miss Luelling had to give up her place in the schoolroom here a few months ago on account of her illness caused by the advancing stages of consumption. She was an active worker in the Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor, and was held in the highest esteem by a wide circle of friends. For some time she was deputy county recorder, during the first year of her father's term of office. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Luelling and other members of the family, desire to express their kind appreciation for the many kindly offices performed by sympathizing friends during the last illness of the deceased.

Philomath college commencement will begin Sunday. A Lebanon youth was held up, beaten and robbed. The population of Oregon is expected to be 500,000 by next year. The Klamath County Bank has begun business at Klamath Falls. It is the only bank in the county. Nearly all the 1898 wool clip held in warehouse in Elgin was sold last week for 11 cents a pound. The trials of William Baer and Richard Hinkle for the murder of George A. Scott cost Grant county $15,000. Benton county's delinquent tax roll will not reach $10,000. The prompt payment of taxes is accounted for by the fact that the enterprising and accommodating sheriff sent notices to all the taxpayers of the amount of their taxes and the time of payment. This proved to be a great accommodation to non-residents. Two hundred head of sheep are said to have been shot by some miscreant in Grant county. This commencement week at Salem. There are 1,174 patients in the asylum at Salem. Linn county Patrons of Husbandry praise Oregon-made wagons. John T. McNamara got a year for stealing $5 at Hillsboro. Two Portland drummers were hurt in a run-away near Albany. Harry Patru, an Astoria fisherman, committed suicide.
