Additional Troops.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—It is the opinion of many high army officers, extending through the department generally, except of those who actually control affairs, that the 35,000 additional troops should be called out at once and sent to Manila. This sentiment is growing throughout the country and the people who are opposed to the permanent retention of the Philippines say that the only thing now to be done is to crush the rebellion there and establish United States authority, and then deal with the subject after peace has been restored. The general opinion is that the United States cannot afford to allow matters to rest, as Spain did while trying to put down the rebellion, by holding simply what the soldiers were encamped upon. Many officers have advised the president to increase the army to a sufficient number to put down the rebellion without further delay. Nobody can yet explain why there has been such hesitation about furnishing General Otis with a sufficient army.

Manila Fleet Was Engaged

MANILA, June 15.—A day light this morning the insurgents at Cavite Viejo dropped two shells from a big smooth-bore gun mounted in front of the church in the navy yard. The only damage done was splintering the top of the huge shears in the Mo'e. The gunboats Caliao, Manila and Moquito soon dimmed the rebels' guns, and then, running close along the shore, bombarded them. The rebels replied with rifles and with some small artillery pieces. So vigorous was the enemy's fire at 6:20, that the gunboat Helena joined the gunboats already named and the Princeton, Monterey and Monalnock dropped occasional big shells among the rebels. Shortly after noon the fire of all seven warships poured into the rebels and they were forced to abandon their guns, only to be confronted by General Laton's force in their, where there was heavy firing. The destruction of life from the fire of fleet must have been heavy.

WHERE TO LAND THEM.

Disposition of the Second Oregon Not Yet Settled.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The president and war department officials are considering the matter of disposing of the Oregon regiment after it reaches San Francisco. The president desires to do what the people want and at the same time give the soldiers every advantage of being mustered out at San Francisco.

It is now suggested that the regiment muster out can take place at San Francisco and the regiment be sent to Portland in a body, but with its travel pay allowed it. It has also been suggested that the transports can proceed up the coast to the Columbia river after discharging other troops.

It is believed that the strict regulations can be bent a little so as to allow these soldiers the privilege of other returning volunteers and at the same time be landed in Portland with their arms and equipments, so that they can be received in a body.

Paint Talks

(No. 6)

The paint business has changed very much in the past few years. A short time ago if a dealer had a barrel of Linseed Oil and a few hundred pounds of White Lead and fifty gallons of mixed paint his stock was complete; but now to give our customers the lowest market prices, we must buy our supply of oil and lead in large quantities early in the season. Then the prices are lower and by laying in a supply for the whole season it enables us to sell at Portland prices and still have a small profit.

To supply the demand for the many colors in mixed paints it is necessary to carry several hundred gallons, to say nothing of the small household paints:

- Bath tub, Tinted and Bicycle enamel in cans 20c up
- Varnish and Oil Stains . . . . . 15c "
- Carriage Paint . . . . . 35c "
- Floor Paint . . . . . 50c "
- Wagon and Implement Paint . . . . . 50c "
- Old English Floor Wax . . . . . 60c "
- Roof Paint . . . . . 1 00 per gallon
- Alabastine . . . . . 50 " package
