Matters of an Educational Nature.

The board of directors of the Oregon City school district held a meeting last Friday night. A lot of bills were audited, and plans discussed for putting in a new heating apparatus in the Eastham building. Monday night an adjourned meeting was held and the following teachers elected for the ensuing year: City superintendent, L. W. McAdam; principal of the Barclay school, T. J. Gary; grade teachers, Gertrude Finley, Addie Clark, Laura Beatie, Marjorie Canfield, Hattie Cochrane, Harriet Bray; principal Eastham school, Mrs. L. W. McAdam; grade teachers, Mrs. D. H. Glass, Gertrude Neizer, Erna Lawrence, Sade Chase, Mollie Hankins. The rule was adopted at the beginning of the election that no teacher should be elected without receiving the unanimous vote of the board. Several candidates for positions received two votes, but according to the rules this did not elect. The city superintendent will assign all teachers elected, to their respective grades in both schools.

Prof. C. W. Durette, formerly principal of the West Oregon City school, has been elected superintendent of the Mount Tabor schools.

Miss Florence Patty has completed her school at Mulino, and returned to her home at Gladstone.

E. E. White, a prominent educator and school author of Ohio, will give a lecture before the Chautauqua assembly.

Mrs. Alice Clara Wheeler, the noted elocutionist of Oakland, Calif., has been secured for the Chautauqua assembly.

During Superintendent McAdam's six years' connection with the Oregon City schools, two years have been added to the school course, one to the grammar grades and one to the high school, and now the school ranks as one of the best in the state and its grading is taken by the Portland schools when pupils from this city enter there, and vice versa. Instead of the fourth and fifth readers, supplementary reading has been taken up, and it gives satisfaction. There are about 900 pupils enrolled in the Oregon City schools proper. The following pupils graduated from eighth grade to high school at the term just closed:

- Barnice Adams
- Clarence Bruner
- Elsie Blake
- Aimee Bollaek
- Clara Caufield
- Robert Caufield
- Trafton Dye
- Adolph Gantenbein
- Clinton Bock
- Myrtle Boen
- Aida Broughton
- Roy Clark
- Edna Caufield
- Maude Cooke
- Chester Elliot
- Reva Gray

W. S. Moore.

William S. Moore, an Oregon pioneer of 849, died Saturday at his home, 472 Yamhill st., Portland, of senile gangrene and heart trouble, from which he had suffered for a number of years. He was the father of State Treasurer Moore, and brother-in-law of D. P. Thompson, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Thompson being sisters. Mrs. Moore is also a sister of Mrs. Sarah M. McCown, here. Mr. Moore was in his 71 year. The interment took place at Mountain View cemetery, Tuesday.

William S. Moore was born near the town of Belleville, Ill., April 24, 1829, and spent the first 18 years of his life on his father's farm. In 1849 he crossed the plains to Oregon, being in the party that included Ahio Watt and the Catlins, and spent the first winter at Rickreall. The following spring he came to Oregon City and, after the passage of the donation land act, took a claim under it in Marion county, near Mount Angel, and resided there for a number of years. In 1864, he married Margaret C. Meldrum. Seven years later they returned to Oregon City, Mr. Moore being called to take charge of the construction of the flouring mills that are still in operation here, he being a millwright by trade; afterward, he went to Salem and built the big mill at that place. In 1870 Mr. Moore was chosen treasurer of Marion county, serving one term. In 1877 the family moved to Klamath county, Mr. Moore having gone there four years previously and engaged in the sawmill business with his sons. In 1878 he was appointed postmaster at Linkville (now Klamath Falls), but resigned after serving two years.

Born.

In Oregon City, Sunday, June 11th, to William Wright and wife, a girl.

In Oregon City, Saturday, June 10th, to G. J. Howell and wife, a girl.

At Bolton, Sunday, June 11th, to Charles Boerner and wife, a boy.

At Aurora, Sunday, June 11th, to J. M. Will and wife, a son.

The Congregational church will celebrate Children's day next Sunday. At 11 a. m., the children's church services will be held. The illustrated sermon will be of special interest to young folks. At 8 p. m., the Sunday school will render a pleasing program of songs and recitations, entitled "Our Mission." This is to make a children's day supreme. Not alone the children of our school, but all others who are not engaged otherwise during the morning hour, are cordially invited to be with us.

Hon. A. J. Apperson received his commission from Washington as receiver of the Sitka land office on Tuesday. He will leave McMinnville this week, and has engaged berth on a steamer to leave Tacoma for the north on June 14th. His freight was loaded on the cars Wednesday.—McMinnville Reporter. Mr. Apperson, who was a former resident here, had applied for the appointment as receiver of the Oregon City land office upon the expiration of Mr. Galloway's term of office, but secured the Alaska billet.

Postmaster George F. Horton received notification Tuesday that his salary had been increased from $1700 to $1800 on account of a proportionate increase in the business of the office, this being the rate of compensation when the receipts are $8,000 annually and over. According to this basis his salary should have been increased last year, but his compensation was based on the report of the preceding year. The receipts of the Oregon City postoffice are about $500 more than they were two years ago.

A special meeting of the city council was held last Friday afternoon, for reconsideration of the ordinance appropriating $1,000 for opening the proposed roadway from lower Main street up the bluff to Center. Councilman Schuebel was absent. The ordinance passed. The county board of commissioners will no doubt extend the recently surveyed hill road towards New Era, connecting with this roadway, which can be built on a six per cent grade. This would be a great convenience to people living in the south end of the county, and would bring trade here.

Smith-Hulbert

Miss Blanche Smith, who has been the artistic retoucher in Cheney's photograph gallery for the past year was married Wednesday evening to John S. Hulbert at the residence of E. F. Jagger, 310 College street, Portland. Rev. Ray Palmer was the officiating clergyman, who performed the ceremony in the presence of about 30 invited guests. Miss Smith started from the drawing room and met Mr. Hulbert in the second parlor; then marched to the first parlor, Miss Edith Cheney playing Lohengrin's wedding march. The ceremony took place under a bell of white margarites, the prevailing decorations being festoons of sweet brier and maiden hair ferns. The bride was dressed in dotted Swiss with bowknots of insertion, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. After the ceremony refreshments were served, and Miss Cheney played several selections on the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert will reside in Portland.

At the Theater.

Oregon City is having a dramatic and musical treat this week in the performances of the Shaw company. Mr. Shaw himself is not only an excellent and accomplished actor, but he has surrounded himself with a company of clever and versatile artists, and his productions are complete in every detail and run with the smoothness of clock work.

Their opening play, "From Sire to Son," a strong story of mining camp life during the early days of California, was presented to a large and appreciative audience, who departed well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Tuesday evening, "Farmer Stebbins," a rural comedy, was presented, giving an opportunity to display a versatility seldom seen, which was seized and made the most of.

Wednesday evening "Love and Law," a melodrama of New York life, was presented and met with equal success.

Last night the Cuban war play, "The Last Stroke," drew the largest audience of the week thus far and the stirring scenes held the interest throughout the evening.

Tonight "Pink Dominoes," a rattling farce-comedy, will be presented.

Tomorrow afternoon a vaudeville performance will be given, closing with that lively Wall-street story, "The Westerner," Saturday night.

The company's orchestra fills in the time between the acts pleasantly and its band concerts are an event of each day.

Baptist Excursion.

The young people of the Baptist church have secured the finest boat on the Columbia river for their Fourth of July excursion. The R. K. Thompson will carry 800 persons comfortably, but the sale of tickets will be limited to 500. With only 500 persons on this fine boat, a pleasant time for all is assured.
