Eva, the six-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Alldredge fell from a fence at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Myers, last Saturday, and sustained the fracture of one arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lewthwaite celebrated their wooden wedding anniversary Wednesday night. Only immediate relatives and friends were present, and the occasion was a delightful one. Among the presents received was a writing desk and a chair.

The Georgia Minstrel band will take part in the parade Friday. They give their services free to help welcome the boys home, so let's turn out and show them that we fully appreciate their endeavor to make it a royal welcome all around.

The Jolly Fellows baseball club will play the Multnomahs in Portland Saturday afternoon. It promises to be the hottest game of the season, as the Multnomahs were beaten by the Chemawas, and the Jolly Fellows walked over the latter at Gladstone park.

The attractive shade trees growing in the court house yard and on several residence lots, known as the catalpha, was first introduced in Oregon City by the late Robert Caulfield. Its bunches of white blossoms and dark, green foliage give it a desirable appearance for a shade tree.

The following divorce suits were filed in the circuit court during the past week: Mary E. George vs. W. P. George, Portland, desertion; John H. Rauch vs. Mary M. Rauch, Clackamas county, cruelty; Milton S. Williams vs. Anna F. Williams, Clackamas county, desertion.

Wash W. Smith and Frank Landers, of Clackamas, are no doubt the first persons to bring a rowboat safely down the Clackamas for a long distance. In fact many people have asserted that it could not be done. They left the upper hatchery on Thursday and reached Clackamas station Sunday. However, they had to carry the boat over some of the rapids.

Rev. A. J. Smith, the absconding minister, was arraigned before Recorder Curry Friday, and was fined $75 or 30 days in the county jail. He accepted the latter alternative, as a result of the charge of larceny by baillee. He had no attorney, but pleaded guilty. It is said by some who formerly knew him that he deserted his family in Canada, taking the money and jewelry.

The father-in-law of Mrs. C. A. Schmitling, who is employed in the Wilhelm Tell House, was drowned at Fishers' landing Monday, by accidentally falling into the Columbia river. Levi Erb, of Molalla, while moving his thrasher engine across Pudding river Saturday on the Elliott Prairie-Hubbard road, broke through the new bridge, causing serious damage to the engine. Pudding river is on the line between Clackamas and Marion counties, and the bridge was recently rebuilt by the two counties. Planks were laid for the engine to pass over as required by law, and it is likely Erb will ask damages from both counties. However, the bridge gave away on the Clackamas county side while the engine was standing, and the men were laying down plank for the wheels to pass over.

FIRST LIEUTENANT J. U. CAMPBELL

franchise to build a motor line to Canemah, granted to G. C. Fields by the county commissioners. The attorneys set up that the franchise was illegal inasmuch as it delegated authority to an individual that could only lawfully be granted to a corporation; that it was a monopoly of the only gateway to Oregon City from the south, and that there was no assurance that the holders of the franchise intended to build a road to Canemah, Marquam or any other point. Fields' council, O. D. Latourette, maintained that corporation papers had already been drawn with a capitalization of $500,000 to build a road to Marquam, and that the franchise did not prevent any other line from being constructed along the same route. The board denied the petition and asserted the legality of the franchise.

The greater part of the issue is devoted to the returning volunteers. They don't come home every day in the year.

A THOUSAND TONGUES

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Spingler, of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest, and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praise throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price, 50c and $1. COMMENTARIES.

Matters Concerning Local Everyday Affairs Noticed by the Courier-Herald Reporter.

Governor Geer by special proclamation has proclaimed Thursday, August 10th, a public holiday, in honor of the volunteers. However, from force of conditions, our holiday this year comes today. The proclamation was timely.

Why in the name of the United States don't the authorities look after the scorching bicycle riders on the bluff. Some woman or child will be killed yet by racing bicyclists on the sidewalks, but the people on the hill have no rights worth respecting. They were deprived of the Seventh street stairway light one night after the council adjourned.

While motor lines tapping isolated precincts, will be of inestimable benefit to Clackamas county, the frigid, hard fact stands out in bold relief, that Oregon City must become a marketing town, if she expects to secure and hold the country trade. The towns up the Willamette valley have learned this—even the little town of Canby has learned the value of the truth of this fact.
