NO STOVES IN KOREA.

Instead Flues Are Laid Under the Floors, Which Are Thus Heated. Stoves are not used to any extent by the native Koreans. The Korean method of heating is excellently adapted to their resources and conditions. In building their houses they lay down a system of flues where the floor is to be. These flues begin at a fireplace, which is usually placed in an outer shed or connecting closed alleyway. From this fireplace the flues extend in a more or less curved direction, like the ribs of a round fan, to a trench at the rear of the room, which in turn opens into a chimney, which is usually placed some distance from the house. Flat flagstones are then placed carefully over these flues, and the whole is cemented over and finally covered with a thick oil paper, for which the country is noted. This paper keeps smoke from entering the room, and a little straw or brushwood, used in the fireplace for cooking the rice, serves to heat the stone floor and gives an agreeable warmth, which lasts till the time of the next meal. Two heatings daily tend to give the people a nice warm floor, upon which they sit in the daytime and sleep at night. By leaving their shoes at the door the inmates preserve the paper floor, which from constant polishing takes on a rich brown color.-New York Press.

A woman may trade her husband on her good name, and it is nothing to Bohlander, proprietor. his discredit either. Courtship is always brief and does not often preface marriage. The Macris, however, love to repeat oriental love tales and sing love songs. Maori widows not infrequently commit suicide on the graves of their husbands and are honored for doing so, as in China. Divorce is simple; it needs to'remarry. This is all. Girls are often betrothed irrevocably from infancy.

EDUCATIONAL.

Notes Pertaining to School Matters.

There are 19 applicants for county certificates and four for state papers at the first quarterly examination under the new law now being held at the court house. The board of examiners are County Superintendent N. W. Bowland, Professor J. C. Zinser and Mrs. H. B. Rinearson. Prof. O. H. Byland, who was a popular member of the board of examiners, resigned July 21st, on account of other matters needing his attention.

County Superintendent N. W. Bowland has received enough of the new courses of study from State Superintendent Ackerman to supply each district in the county. Only teachers having contracts for schools, will be provided with copies, and when they leave the district, will be expected to turn the

The county superintendent has apportioned the $11,910 88 received from the state school fund among the various school districts. The ratio is $1 51 per La Grande masons preparing to build capita for each child of school age.

Wants More Light. Editor Courier-Herald:

I see in last week's issue of your paper that the Bank of England purchased gold in New York city and paid a premium. I have been told that under the existing gold standard every dollar was as good as every other dollar, good alike all over the world. What I want to know is this: If the dollars are equally good, what is the object of the Bank of England in paying a premium? What sort of dollars did it pay? Was it Cleveland's gold dollars, that were so good for the working man? Was it the 50 cent silver dollars, or was it the populist fiat dollars? Would Socrates and Argus please cease hostility long enough to give us some light on the subject?

(Dedicated to Company I, Second Regi-ment Oregon U. S. Volunteers.)

O'er the land there comes a dawning Like the sunrise on the sea, Like the glory of the morning From the throne of Liberty. Silent is the voice of weeping;

Eyes no more are dimmed with tears But they sparkle with a greeting For the home-bound volunteers.

From the isles the sun is blistering Far across the raging sea. Where the burning winds still whisper ing

"Our trust, O God, is all in Thee!" From the storm of lead hail flying, From amid the ceaseless moan, From among the dead and dying Weicome back our dear boys home.

From the land where Freedom 's waking, Where our flag in splendor waves, With noble blood our boys are making Freemen of the Spanish slaves. Welcome in each glad heart dwelling, Driving out its scourging pain, Welcome on the soft breeze swelling, Welcome home our boys again.

From wild war's awful waging, Mid the musket's heated breath, From the cots where fever raging Yields to grim, cold, silent death, Where love lifts the hope now trailing With its bitterness and fears, From desolation, woe and wailing Welcome home our volunteers.

Your story? All the world's relating Of the boys in brown and blue, And the host for you now waiting Greets the noble, brave and true! Fame your deeds with glory twining On history's deathless page, Your memory our love entwining Undimmed by the passing age.

Hark! The glorious notes are soaring! 'Twas the silvery bugle's call, Answered by the cannon's roaring. Lift your voices, one and all! Swell the wild and joyous greeting, Rend the air with deafening cheers; Let it be a happy meeting To our gallant volunteers.

Ah, your loved for you are praying-Mother, sister, sweetheart, love. Oh why so long? O why delaying?" Prayers were waft to Him above. Time is long, though swiftly fleeting. Bring our dear boys ever near!" O how we long to give a greeting To our brave young volunteers.

Gentle hands the laurels weaving For the Oregon boys to lay, Fame your deeds with victory wreathing Now on fields so far away. O God of heaven, behold us kneeling At Thy feet in joyons tears. Our hearts with fervent feeling

It can also tell the story of health. A woman who suffers from weakness and disease in a womanwoman who suffers from weakness and disease in a womanly way site in sorrow and dejection while her healthy sisters enjoy themselves. She may be naturally beautiful, naturally attractive, naturally interesting and animated and witty, but the demon of ill-health is gnawing at the very vitals of her womanly nature, and she soon becomes a withered wall flower in comparison with her brighter and more healthy sisters. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine for women who suffer in this way. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and mother-hood. It tones and builds up the shattered nerves. It restores the glow of health to the pallid cheek. It gives springiness and trip to the carriage. It makes the eyes sparkle with returning vivacity. It imparts animation to the mien and gestures. The fan that long lay listless and idle in the lap of an invalid again speaks the eloquent language of a healthy, happy woman. Thousands of women have testified to the marvelous merits of this wonderful medicine.

"Let several years I suffered with prolapsus cine.

"For several years I suffered with prolapsus of the uterus," writes Miss A. Lee Schuster, of Box 12. Roduey, Jefferson Co., Miss. "Our family physician treated me for kidney trouble, and everything else but the right thing. I grew worse and worse. My body was emaciated, hands and feet clammy and cold, stomach weak, with great palpitation of the heart. I would suffer with nausea all might. I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and I began to improve right away. I have taken three bottles and now I am very nearly well and am very happy and thankful to you."

Keep your head up and your bowels open. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will put steel in your backbone, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constination.
