

CLACKAMAS COUNTY NEWS

Molalla.

Threshing for this season is about finished in this community. Grain was not damaged as much as was expected, though but few crops have gone into market as No. 1. Oats were damaged more than wheat.

There is considerable moving going on in and around Molalla. Frank Adams is moving into his new house in town. D. Engle is going to occupy the dwelling on Mr. Adams' place vacated by Frank Adams. Pink Herman and family are moving into Mrs. Sander's place, Mr. Herman having rented the Sanders' farm.

O. D. Eby and wife have moved to Marquam. Mr. Eby is going to teach the Marquam school this fall and winter.

The Molalla school commenced this morning with Mr. Rutherford as principal and Miss Patty as assistant. There were about 60 pupils in attendance.

John Jackson, from Grant county, is here with a lot of horses. He has succeeded in selling several head since he arrived. He reports an involution loss of 60 head of horses last winter caused by starvation, occasioned by severe cold weather. Pastures, where stock could live that had heretofore been used by horsemen in cases of emergency, was last season all rented by cattlemen, causing a fearful loss among horses. Mr. Jackson and his men are expecting to start to Lake county via the Lebanon route to round up a bunch of 200 head of horses and driving them to the railroad to ship east. The horses belong to a Mr. Slavin, of Portland.

There was quite an exhibition here last Saturday afternoon, occasioned by (not the man with a hoe), but a man with a plow, a J. I. Case sulky plow, with a man to pull the plow. Some of those that witnessed the performance did not like the plow.

J. V. Harless and Mr. Adams have come to their mines, and also to get a supply of berries. There has been a large amount of huckleberries brought down from the mountains by people in his vicinity. Everyone that went came home with plenty of them.

John Bagby and Charlie Pelkey succeeded in adding four deer to their supply of berries. There has not been much game killed by people from this section as only a few of them took guns with them.

It is reported that the Adventists that held a series of meetings here in a tent, have rented the upper part of the old Moody store and are going to hold services there.

Dr. Dedman, of Canby, was called here today to visit Mrs. Wm. Shaver, who has been sick for some time, but was suddenly taken worse today. Mr.

Shaver is in the mountains looking after the cattle. He received word that some of them had strayed over to the headwaters of the Clackamas.

D. C. Boyles, who has spent the summer at Waiteburg, Wash., has returned, and is working for L. Robbins, the Molalla merchant.

George Kaylor is expected here on a visit from Eastern Oregon. He left here several years ago.
